Pony and Three Dogs Destroyed

A large, well-filled barn at the Idle Wild Stock Farm, near Richmond, was destroyed by fire Thursday evening of last week. Walton Fire Chief Worthington estimated the loss at $17,000 to $18,000.

A pony and three dogs were lost in the blaze which Walton and Florence firemen battled for two hours. Most of their efforts were directed at confining the blaze to the barn.

Another building nearby was endangered by the flames. However, the fire-fighters poured water on it and prevented it from igniting. It was full of machinery and small tools.

Eight race horses at the farm were not harmed by the fire. All were in the pasture at the time. Ordinarily they would not have been in the barn which was used for storage.

Loss included 2,000 bales of hay and several hundred bushels of oats which were stored earlier in the day.

Firemen said the blaze caused a traffic tie-up on the Dixie Highway for about 30 minutes. Parbently stopped their autos to watch the burning barn, plainly visible from the highway.

The owners, Ed Metz and John Messingschlager, told firemen that they believed the fire was started by a tramp who had crawled into the barn to spend the night.

Service Charge By Local Banks Is Explained

A bank is no different from a store, garage, oil station or other lines of business, when profitable operations are considered, except that a bank operates under strict banking laws and, under the rules and regulations of Federal and State Examiners—a bank must operate profitably or go out of business. It must set aside a reasonable portion of net earnings every six months as a reserve against losses, contingencies.

A bank has no way of having sufficient income to meet expenses except by lending a certain percentage of depositors' minimum balances. If the club is doing some fine work already and plan much more. Membership cards may be obtained at the Bob & Joe Restaurant, in Walton.

Some reasonable service charges become necessary. Prior to the coming of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in 1933, country banks received 2% interest on their daily balances from their city correspondent banks, which amounted to several thousand dollars annually as income to a country bank. If this interest income was permitted by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation today very probably it would not be necessary to have any service charges. Expenses of banks, over which they have no control, have more than doubled over the past few Henry Lipscomb, local Southern States dealer, along with Mrs. Joe Domaschko, Mrs. Leo Flynn, Mrs. Pascal Bush, Mrs. Frank Penick, Sr., Mrs. Ira Stephenson, and Mrs. Russell Rector attended the Southern States training meeting at Cynthiana, Ky., last Wednesday.

At the September meeting of the Walton Eastern Star Chapter, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Fields were surprised when Rev. R. F. DeMoisey had them conducted to the East, where he presented them commissions as Kentucky Colonels, on the staff of Gov. A. B. Chandler. They were deemed worthy of this honor by their fine spiritual and moral ways in both business and social life. They are Past Matron and Past Patron of the Chapter and the local Stars are proud to have them as members.

It's a confused old world we are living in right now and no one seems to be able to get the truth of what's going on in regard to satellites, segregation. Seems to this writer that they are making a mountain out of a molehill. A simple solution would be to just stop mentioning anything about it, as it seems that all the instigators of this mess wants, is publicity.

lowa State College research revealed that corn harvested when it contains 30 to 32 percent moisture was worth 10 cents more per bushel as feed for fattening cattle than low-moisture corn from the same field. The high-moisture corn saved about 8 percent in feed costs; when stillbustle supplement was fed to steers in the high moisture corn lots, the combined savings amounted to 16 percent.

Minister

Lesson for October 20, 1957

THE man has various titles. He may himself prefer to be called by the simple democratic "Mister." But he is also Pastor John Doe, and the Reverend John Doe, and maybe Doctor Doe, besides. Some call him the preacher. But the title that binds him closest, perhaps, to the Lord Jesus, is the word "Minister." Jesus said: "The Son of man came not to be served, but to serve." The Latin word for "serve" in that verse (Mark 10:45) is the word from which our English word "minister" is derived. It is the most inclusive of all the titles; it means in general one who is of service to others, and in particular one who serves in the name of Christ.

The Minister's Call

Consider three points about ministers, which the people in the pews often overlook. One is the minister's call. What he does is a "calling" rather than a "position." How does a minister come to be pastor of a particular church? That varies from one denomination to another, though not very much. But how does the minister come to be one in the first place? That is always the same, whether he is a Roman Catholic priest or a Protestant minister: he is a minister of Christ because he believes, he was called by the Lord to do so and he just that. Could he be mistaken? Indeed he can. There are men in the ministry who have no business there. The problem of how to be sure about one's call to the ministry is a problem for ministers, not for most of the people who read these lines. What we need to do, when we "call" a minister, is to be sure we get a man who among other strong points has this: he is God's man first of all; ours only because he was God's first.

The Minister's Salary

Some churches do not have salaried ministers. Most of the churches in America, however, do have salaried ministers. One thing that many church members do not realize is that the salary of a minister is positively not the same thing as a weekly wage paid to a farm hand, or a business man's return on an investment in stocks, or a fee paid to a lawyer. If you hire a man, he is your man. If you don't like what he is doing, you can fire him. But the minister is not a hired man. He is God's man, at your service, but not under your thumb. The business man wants to get rich, or richer; his income builds up his fortune. But the minister's salary never grows to a fortune. The lawyer has a stated set of fees, and if he is like some lawyers, he charges what the traffic will bear, i.e. he charges the wealthy more than the poor. In the Protestant church there is no scale of fees; most of what the minister does is free. Progressive ministers are today doing away with the wedding fee, for example, marrying only their own people and doing this as a part of the church's service to the people. Furthermore, and this is most important, the minister's salary, unlike professional fees, is NOT payment for services rendered. If the minister is any account, his services are beyond price. (How much is it worth, in cash, to be comforted in sorrow, strengthened in temptation, illumined in spirit?) The salary is a subsidy enabling him to work without a salary!

The Minister's Ambition

Paul made it clear that he had a right to a salary; though he preferred not to use that right but to earn a living as he went along. But even if he had been "paid," the salary could never have been the main thing with him. "That I may WIN some people"—not to build a kind of private empire, not to win people for himself, but for Christ. Only God saves men; but he saves men through men. And what price can be named which is a fair "payment" for saving a man's soul?

All dedicated men set the doing of their work above the paycheck in importance. Their real heart's ambition is not for more pay. Their ambition is greater effectiveness—a closer approach to perfection, whether their work is art, teaching, bridge-building or whatever else it may be. So the true minister's secret ambition is not a bigger congregation, more salary, more prestige; it is more souls won.

THE "BLACK SHEEP" OF OUR FAMILY

When Johnny started Sunday School . . . the Devil thought he had his foot in the door.

The teachers must have been at their wit's end—but they never showed it. The Superintendent faced many a crisis—but always he was patient. The Pastor even smiled as he returned the confiscated passbook. "You're not a bad shot, Johnny," he said!

Claire and I soon began to realize that Christians do turn the other cheek . . . In the Junior Department it's standard operating procedure.

TODAY, Johnny is a freshman in college. Every Sunday he attends the church of our faith near the campus. And, recently, he confided to me his ambitions:

He wants to become an engineer. Then he wants to marry his childhood sweetheart, Jane. And as soon as they're settled, he wants to teach a class of "real gone" kids in the Junior Department.

Now Claire and I realize what the Church means in the life of the "black sheep"—of your family or ours!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible.

A FEDERAL LAND BANK LOAN

YOUR LOAD
lighter, TOO!

—ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS—

- Q. For what purpose can I get a loan?
- A. Loans may be made for any agricultural purpose and other requirements of the owner, some of which are:
- To purchase farm real estate;
  - To refinance mortgages and other indebtedness;
  - To pay family living expenses;
  - To make improvements to land and buildings;
  - To provide a home for the owner or members of his family;
  - To purchase livestock and equipment.
- Q. What security is required?
- A. Land bank loans must be secured by first mortgages on farm land. Loans are not made on the current sale value of farms but are based on normal agricultural value as determined by a land bank appraiser.
- Q. What is this normal value?
- A. Normal value is defined as "the amount a typical purchaser, would, under usual conditions, be willing to pay and be justified in paying for the property for customary agricultural uses, including farm home advantages, with the exception of receiving normal net earnings from the farm and from other dependable sources." Generally speaking, normal values are long term values established for the purpose of making long term loans on a basis that will avoid overvaluing in peak periods and undervaluing in depression periods.
- Q. What is the repayment plan?
- A. A land bank loan is made on an amortization plan. The payments include interest on the unpaid balance and such amounts to be applied on the principal as will pay off the debt within the term for which it is written.
- Q. What is the term of the loan?
- A. Loans may be made for terms of 5 to 40 years. The most common terms are 20, 33 and 35 years. The objective is to fix the term of the loan to the debt paying capacity of the borrower and his farm. Renewals are no longer necessary.
- Q. Can you pay extra principal payments?
- A. A borrower may repay part or all this loan ahead of time if he is able and wishes to do so. There is absolutely no penalty for doing this. The land bank will also accept payments to be set aside and applied to future installments at the direction of the borrower.
- Q. What is the rate of interest?
- A. The interest rate on land bank loans is the lowest generally available to farmers from any lender treating all its borrowers alike as to interest rate. Being cooperatively owned by the farmers it serves, and being the largest lender in the farm mortgage field, enables the land bank to "set the pace" in low cost farm loans. Any farmer obtaining a land bank loan at the current low rate knows his rate cannot go higher throughout the life of the loan.
- Q. What is the cost of obtaining a land bank loan?
- A. There is no charge for either an application or appraisal. The applicant is required to furnish satisfactory evidence of title and pay recording fees. The charge for making a title report is a matter between the applicant and the attorney or title company that prepares the title evidence. There is no charge for its examination by the Federal Land Bank.
- Q. How do I get a land bank loan?
- A. By contacting the secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan Association serving the area in which your farm is located and making application. He will have the form appraised and take other steps necessary to complete the loan.

Drying Blankets In Automatic Dryers

Wool or wool-blend blankets may be successfully dried in an automatic dryer if certain precautions are taken according to research findings at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, and reported by Miss Catherine Knorr, UK home management specialist.

Place five or six large dry bath towels in the dryer and preheat, using high-heat setting. Arrange the hot towels throughout the blanket, from which excess water has been squeezed, then place the blanket in the dryer for 5 to 18 minutes at high heat. A high temperature is recommended, as it reduces the time required for tumbling or agitation—a cause of shrinking of blankets. The hot towels absorb the moisture and serve as a buffer.

While the blanket is still damp, remove it, stretch with the aid of another person, and brush to raise the nap. A stiff nylon hair brush, or a pet brush with steel bristles set in rubber, is recommended.

To complete the drying, hang the blanket over a rack or clothes line. Steam-press the satin bindings (with the thermostat correctly set) or press with medium iron and press cloth.

CONSERVATION CLUBS

Kentucky's Junior Conservation Education program, ranked as the number one youth education program in the nation, was getting underway in Boone county this week as Junior Club Supervisor Joe Jacobs began organizing clubs in schools throughout this area.

More than 40,000 Kentucky small-fry were members of the Junior Conservation Clubs last year. Director Ed Adams anticipates a membership increase this year to above 850 individual clubs in the 120 Kentucky counties.

The Junior Club program teaches conservation in the schools, with special emphasis on safety. Trained conservation educators such as Mr. Jacobs conduct the classes and provide in-the-field training throughout the school year.

This is the 14th year for the youth program, rated as the ranking program of its kind in the nation.

Use Equipment Properly For Successful Results

Many housewives say that the automatic washer relieves them of more "hard work" and "drudgery" than does any other piece of household equipment. But it can't perform its work without help, and it must be used properly, says Miss Catherine Knorr, UK Extension specialist in home management.

Forget old laundering habits if they are not in line with those in the instruction book, she advises; then pay particular attention to these points:

Pretreat neck stains and other soiled spots by applying the synthetic detergent or soap directly to the moistened soiled area.

Sort the clothes by fabric, soil and color fastness and don't overload the machine. Although it is rated for an 8-pound load, it will do a better job if it has to operate only a 6- or 7-pound load.

Four Soft Red Winter Wheats Called Not Useful In Kentucky

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has named 31 wheat varieties which are undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities, the Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service said last week.

Of this group, four soft, red winter wheats—the type grown in Kentucky—were listed as undesirable. The varieties are KanQueen, Kowale, Nured and Seabreeze. These will be discounted 20 cents a bushel in price support rates on the 1958 wheat crop, the USDA says.

Extension officials pointed out the four to Kentucky farmers, although, they stated, there are no indications the varieties are being used in Kentucky.

Liberty in Casey county is at the headwaters of the Green River in the eastern section of the Pennyrite and on the southern edge of the Knobs belt. The town was named by veterans of the Revolutionary War who came to this section from Virginia in 1791.

Analysis of cattle blood types is helping safeguard the registration system for purebred dairy cattle, the USDA says.

Water District To Be Discussed At Crittenden Meet

A mass meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 22, at 8:00 p. m. in the Crittenden School gymnasium for the purpose of discussing the new Bullock Pen Water District. Everyone in the district is urged to be present.

The meeting has been called in order that all questions in the minds of interested persons may be answered accurately and fully. Every facet of the proposed new water system will be discussed and the ideas and thoughts of everyone will be welcomed.

The water district covers an area which runs from Dry Ridge to the Kenton county line, and it extends four miles in each direction from U. S. Highway 25, thereby being eight miles wide. The aim of the district and the reason for its formation is to supply water to as many farms and towns in the area as is possible.

Asa M. Rouse, Walton, attorney for the Bullock Pen Water District and its Board of Commissioners, said that necessary authorization and easements for using Bullock Pen Lake in Grant county as a source of water has been received from the Governor and Earl Walton, chairman of the Commissioner of Fish and Wildlife Resources Committee.

Rouse said an easement also had been received to construct the pump house and filtration plant on the lake front. The attorney said that application for a $250,000 loan to finance construction facilities, storage tanks and water lines had been made several months ago to the Farmers Home Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"More than 100 contracts have already been signed by twosome of Crittenden and Sherman and by neighboring farmers for water," Mr. Rouse said.

The Board of Trustees of Crittenden started the project in the summer of 1956. The project became so expanded from the many requests for water in the surrounding area that a district was formed, its commissioners being Harold Hedger, Robert Blanton, and John Farrell. J. S. Kenney and Company, Lexington, are the engineers.

Concrete Plant Being Erected At Devon Site

With the likely prospect of Boone county becoming an industrial center, another huge concrete plant is going up in the county.

The plant, which will be able to produce 600 yards of concrete daily, is being erected by the Newport Concrete Company on a 10-acre plot adjacent to Spanish Villa on U. S. 25, at Devon.

Walter Kunz, president of the corporation, said cost of the plant alone would be $100,000. But to begin business four or five mixers, costing about $15,000 each would be needed with others added as necessary.

Total outlay "could well run up to about $200,000 easy enough," Kunz said.

A new company, Concrete Service, Inc., is also building a concrete plant in this county. It is located at Donaldson and Youell Roads, near the Greater Cincinnati Airport.

Both plants hope to be in operation by the end of the month.

Kunz said he believed the area of Boone county from the Florence city limits south to the present U. S. 25 and the Southern Railroad could become "a second vendale if it has water. All it lacks is water."

"Expansion in there within the next five to 10 years should be tremendous," he said.

Kunz also heads a concrete corporation known as the Bethel Supply Co. in Ohio with plants at Bethel and Tobacco.

He said the Boone county plant hopes to get business from projects in the area other than the Covington-Boone county access highway.

"This equipment is too costly to buy just for a job that's only going to last a year or two. It doesn't make sense. We are locating in Boone county because we feel that growth has just started there."

Committee Approves Hugh Expansion Of State Road Program

Kentucky's Highway Department is launching a huge expansion of the state's federal-aid road improvement program recently approved by the Governor's Advisory Highway Committee.

The program calls for spending about 350 million dollars by June 30, 1960, as funds become available on various phases of work on projects involving a total mileage of 1,284.5.

Highway Commissioner Robert Humphreys said carrying out the vastly enlarged program is dependent upon sale of part of Kentucky's 100 million dollar bond issue voted overwhelmingly by the people in November, 1956.

Finance Commissioner James W. Martin said the state hopes to sell a maximum of 35 million dollars in bonds soon. Bond money is to be used to match federal aid. The U. S. government puts up $9 for each $1 furnished by the state to pay for interstate superhighway work. Cost of federal-aid primary, urban and secondary road construction is divided equally between the federal and state governments.

The committee appointed by Gov. A. B. Chandler to advise the state on its enlarged road program unanimously approved projects listed in the expansion October 9. It also urged completion of projects as speedily as possible—an aim already announced by the State Administration and the Highway Department.

The committee okayed continued work on projects it had endorsed last April, and approved additions to the program to be worked on during the period ending June 30, 1960.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

Sheriff's Race:

Norbert Roll, candidate for sheriff in Campbell county, will be interested in knowing his race this year—getting publicity in vote-less Washington.

The other day the Washington morning paper ran a three-column picture of Bobby Dickerson, a member of the football team sponsored by Candidate Roll. Nothing remarkable about that but Bobby is a girl and a valuable player. At least, she was the Washington sport pages.

A New Official:

Kentucky State Senator Clarence Maloney is a frequent visitor to Washington but he'll be coming to the Capital even more frequently now.

The other day he was elected president of the Tobacco Export Association. Dr. Arthur Lloyd, formerly with the state government, was named the executive secretary.

It's the job of Senator Maloney and Dr. Lloyd to see that the ship—and sell for money—tobacco in foreign parts. It's a big and tough job, what with all the money restrictions around the world.

Time of Preparation:

With Congress closed down, this is a time of preparation in the nation's Capital and Kentuckians have been here to help get some of Uncle Sam's money.

Ohio Valley boosters have been on hand talking about locks and dams on the Ohio and tributaries. There is a fear that, what with budget reductions and the like, river valley improvements will slow down. There are similar weirs regarding highway construction, in Kentucky as well as elsewhere. It behooves the folks back home to watch for the welfare of Kentucky projects.

Tip to Kentucky:

The state of Virginia has opened a travel bureau in Washington, something that Kentucky might do.

From time to time we have inquiries directed to us by Washingtonians who want to visit Kentucky. Usually they can get tourist literature at the office of the various Kentucky congressmen. But it might be well to have some travel agent in the Capital City as an official representative, ready, willing and able to make reservations for prospective visitors.

GLENCOE

Mr. and Mrs. Ott Price moved to Covington last week.

Mrs. Allie Hudson spent several days with her son, Delbert Hudson and family of Carrollton.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gordon spent Sunday with her father, Curt Webster and all the children came with well-filled baskets and enjoyed the day.

The revival is going on at Oakland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neel visited the Bank Link Christian Church Homecoming Sunday and enjoyed the day.

Sympathy is extended Harrell Ellison and family over the passing of his aunt, Stella Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Tucker have been sick, so drop them a card or visit these good people.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Snow, Cecil Stewart and family called on Mr. and Mrs. Pat Noel on Sunday.

Piner Homemakers

TV Canteen

Peggy and Jimmy Filer, teenagers of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Filer of Bowman Road, were the winners of the month's Jitter-Bug Contest held at the Coca-Cola Bottler Company in Norwood last Saturday afternoon. The Filer children are students of Simon Kenton High and have been a great help participating in the local Teen-age Canteen held at the Moon Bro. Post 275, American Legion each Friday evening.

Peggy and Jimmy were given a surprise party Saturday evening at their home by their friends who roared at their victory on television. All who attended this gathering enjoyed themselves very much. It is known that an annual contest on jitter-bug will be given for the winners of each month, in which our local winners will be entered. The date of this contest isn't known at this time. This item just prove that our local talent are, by far, the best there is. Thanks to Peggy and Jimmy Filer for bringing a victory to our community.

Bank Service Charges

years and many extra items of expenses have been added. One medium size bookkeeping machine that once cost $1,000 to $1,500 now costs $3,000 to $4,000 and these machines have to be replaced every few years, besides the annual expense of keeping them under service. Checks, deposit tickets, ledger sheets, adding machines, typewriters, Recordak machines for taking pictures of checks for customers' records, filing cabinets, maintenance of a modern bank building, burglary, hold-up and messenger insurance, fidelity bonds on employees, postage and hundreds of other items go to make up a large expense account of a bank. A bank pays a heavy State, County and School tax, besides paying the Federal Government 30 to 52% of its net earnings. Boone county banks pay the State tax on all deposits.

Banks pay the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation assessment guaranteeing deposits. The Federal wage and hour law sets the minimum salaries of all bank employees.

The differential between the interest paid on savings and the rate charged by a bank on loans is not generally understood. About 15 to 20% of a deposit is usually kept in cash or due from city correspondents as a reserve against withdrawals, on which no income is received. About one half of the 80 to 85% balance may be loaned on reasonably long term loans, provided such loans are available, if not available then the money remains idle. The other one half of the 80 to 85% of a deposit is invested in low rate, short term Government bonds, as a secondary reserve to guard against unforeseen withdrawals. A bank has no way of knowing from day to day how much money depositors may withdraw, therefore the bank must keep a large cash reserve at all times and a secondary reserve in short term low rate Government Bonds which can be sold any day to meet these withdrawals.

A bank can only depend upon the minimum money balance depositor's account. As an example: should a balance drop to $50 during any month, the income to the bank on that particular account for that month; even if it were possible to lend the whole $50 at 6% interest, would only return an income to the bank of 25c for the whole month, which would not begin to pay the expense of carrying the account, even if only one check was issued.

Some people buy Post Office Money Orders instead of using checks. This is rather an expensive way of doing business. The service charges on a small account would be much less than Money Orders, regardless of the balance carried, and with a reasonable balance there would be no expense at all. It is said that some people write checks for Post Office Money Orders and pay the expense of the Money Orders when their own personal check could as well have been mailed to pay a bill and save the expense of a money order.

A bank has quite an expense item in keeping different denominations in coin and currency for the accommodation of its customers. This is done by having this money shipped to the bank from its city correspondent or the Federal Reserve Bank and the country bank pays for the shipping charges.

The owners of a bank—its stockholders—who took the risk of investing in the capital stock of the bank in the beginning, not knowing whether the venture would be successful or not, are entitled to some reasonable return on their investment in the form of dividends. In the majority of cases the dividend paid to stockholders, when applied to the capital structure of a bank, is less than the interest paid on savings.

Most all banks throughout the nation have considerably higher service charges than banks in this particular section. The banks of Boone County have been giving serious thought as to just what should be done to overcome the heavy increase in expenses over the past few years, while continuing to operate under a schedule adopted seventeen years ago. If anything is done the banks of Boone County will be found "leaning over backward" to do the fair and reasonable thing as between the banks and their customers.

J. B. Doan, Executive Vice President of the Florence Deposit Bank, is president; James W. Spencer, Cashier of the Dixie State Bank, is vice president; and John L. Lanner, Cashier of the Helston Bank, is secretary-treasurer of the Boone County Bankers Association, with J. H. Huey, Cashier of the Farmers Bank; Patsy Slayback, Cashier of the Union Deposit Bank; and R. S. Henley, Director of the Citizens Deposit Bank, composing the program committee.

Relishes Add Flavor To Winter Meals

With the garden season coming to a close, it is a thrifty practice among many housewives to combine certain vegetables in a chopped pickle or relish for use in the winter. A favorite relish is piccalilli.

The vegetables should be finely chopped, brined for a few hours with salt, then cooked with sweet spiced vinegar for a short period before being canned, according to Extension foods specialists at the University of Kentucky.

Piccalilli is made in this way: Wash and chop 1 peck of green tomatoes, 8 medium-sized green peppers, 8 medium onions and 1 medium-sized head of cabbage. Mix well with 1 cupful of salt and let stand overnight. Drain thoroughly, pressing out as much liquid as possible.

Mix together 3 cupfuls of brown sugar and 2 quarts of vinegar, pour over the chopped vegetables and add 3 tablespoonfuls of mixed spices and one of white mustard seed, tied loosely in a bag. Cook slowly about 30 minutes. Remove spice bag and pack the relish in hot sterilized jars, being sure liquid covers vegetables. Seal at once.

Pickles of all kinds have a better blended, mellow flavor if they are permitted to stand for several weeks before being used.

A copy of "Making Pickles and Relishes," Circular 464, may be had free in an office of home demonstration agents, or from the Experiment Station, Lexington.

Fabrics for School Wear Rich In Color, Good Design

Both mothers and school-girl daughters will be pleased when they go shopping this fall, for never have fabrics for the younger group been so attractive, practical and easy to care for.

Although many of the materials are on the dark side, they come in lively, rich colorings in all-over prints, stripes and plaids. There are matching plain colors, too, to make pretty blends in mix-and-match combinations, says Miss Dorothy Threlkeld, UK Extension clothing specialist. A blouse and skirt may look like a one-piece dress, or a one-piece may be taken for a blouse and skirt.

Designs in general have a looser fit, and there are indications the midy style will be popular. Sheath styles for dress-up, for the teen-ager with good posture and good proportions, are eased and more relaxed.

While cottons are first choice with many, washable blends are popular also, such as Orlon or nylon with wool for skirts, and wool or Acrilan jersey for blouses and dresses. All have been treated for easy laundering.

With the many new developments made in fabrics, the smart buyer will not overlook the information given on the hang tag or label for the ready-to-wear garment or yard goods. Many hidden qualities have been given to the new fabrics, along with the familiar "vat-dye" which is the best in that field. Some other desirable qualities which might be listed on labels are "machine washable," "wrinkle resistant," "drip-dry," "needs little ironing," or "wash and wear." Save the label for information until the garment has to be washed or dry-cleaned, recommends Miss Threlkeld.

She also advises checking the trimming to be sure it will safely take the same treatment as the garment.

Bolce Paint, Perfection Oil Heaters and Warm Morning Coal Heaters

Earl Jenkins came after two gallons of Jellied Magic, a quart of Bolce outside white, linseed oil and turpentine. He really likes that Bolce paint—see how white his house is! Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hall are painting their apartment house, formerly the Ransler apartment. They are using Bolce outside white and Bolce green roof paint. I called Bolce today for more outside white—he said I had already received and sold the 300 gallons I ordered early in the season. We buy this in one-gallon cans and just get a few gallons at a time so it is always fresh. Buy Bolce paint, you get more for your money.

Today, Brewster and Red started early; they went to Kanton Station to repair an oil heater someone had been fooling with; then down to Mrs. Howard Feldhaus' to repair her stove burner; then to Mrs. Emma Walke's to clean her oil heater; then to Mrs. Kate Code's to set up two heaters and then back to Walton to set up a coal heater for Dallas Markberry on Plum Street. Today, Brewster and Red put up a 135-gallon fuel-oil tank for Mr. and Mrs. Omer Black; then Brewster repaired the door closer at the bank. This afternoon they put up two new light fixtures for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Neumeister, then they went over to Piner School to put in floor plugs.

Here at the store we did a little of everything—sold lots of paint and linoleum, also angle iron, bolts, glass and screen glass. Today, we received another shipment of Perfection oil heaters. We have sold so many. We have the best fuel oil heater on the market. Perfection costs you no more, they use less oil and the burner bowl is guaranteed for ten years. The large size Perfection, complete with blower, for only $197.50, and with a 275-gallon tank, installed, complete for only $247.00, ready to light—you can't beat Perfection!

Lee Trapp came in for a pitman rod for a Ford mower—we did not have it, so Lee went down to Walton Lumber Co. and they cut him a wood one, he brought it back and Chick put the iron on it. Brewster and Red went out and set up Mrs. Omer Black's stove. Then they went out and set up an oil heater for Mr. and Mrs. John Adams; then to Joe Neumeister's and put up new light fixtures. Chick sold the last wood heater with cast iron top for $26.50. The next one will be a lot higher, so I don't know how many to buy.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Abbott and Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Rennecker, down on U. S. 25, South of Florence, were in buying—Mrs. Abbott got two and Mrs. Rennecker got one. Mr. Rennecker bought milk bucket and clothes pins. Russell Sparks bought 5 gallons of aluminum roof paint, brushes, and a large size coal and wood heater. Rouse on High Street bought a 135-gallon fuel oil tank. Marion Belew, Crittenden, was buying on his son in the dentist's office. Bill Stewart and family, between Crittenden and Sherman, got a lot of dishes. Wilbur Beck was hunting some 410 ga. slugs to go deer hunting with the last of the month!

Today we sold furnace pipe and fittings, stove pipe and all types of fittings, copper tubing and fittings, plastic pipe and fittings, soil pipe, asbestos window covering, weatherstrip, caulking, and roof coating.

The shock that we received that day, we still remember well. Friends may think we have forgotten, if at times they see us smile.

social side of Washington is descending from Cloud Nine.

The State Department distributed to Kentucky lawmakers, as well as others, a list of do's and don'ts in the presence of their royal majesties.

You may smoke in their presence, you must have gloves on when shaking hands, you need not curtsy, and the Queen does not like black dresses on women! You are now ready in case Liz and Phil drop in for a cup of coffee.

Mason-Dixon Line:

We Kentuckians often think of the Ohio River as the Mason-Dixon line.

We uncovered some facts and figures on that matter the other day. Actually, the Mason-Dixon line runs westward only to the Ohio River, and not along its borders.

Tradition, however, accepts the river as the continuation of the line, the dividing mark between the North and South. Thought you might be interested in this gem for the day.

Curses:
You may look into the sky and shake your fist and curse at the Russian satellite. It's the opinion of Kentucky lawmakers who help write the tax bills that Sputnik will prevent a tax decrease next year. People—including congress—are emotional about it.

We are inclined to agree with the conclusion—unless we get a superior moon into the sky by the time our law givers take up tax matters.

Governors' Salary:

Question comes to us on the salary of various state governors. Ours is paid $15,000, plus a few benefits. But the legislative research people here in Washington came up with a $50,000 top salary paid the governor of New York, and $30,000 paid the chief of New Jersey. Others in the upper bracket include—at $25,000 a year, the governors of California, Maryland, Missouri, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas.

Beacon Class to Meet

The Beacon Sunday School class of the Walton Methodist Church will meet Friday evening, October 25, at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kline, on Route 25, North of Walton.

Here's a good reason Kentucky certified seeds are valuable to the farmer: Certified wheat seed, it has been found, averages less than two common weed seeds per pound of seed wheat; common wheat may run as high as 125 weed seeds per pound, the USDA says. The data was compiled from drill box samples taken at random from more than 1,000 locations.

Housewives Can Cut Costs Despite the Food-Price Jumps

Despite rising food prices, there is much that housewives can do to hold down total costs, says Miss Elizabeth Helton, UK Extension food specialist.

But occasional saving will not do, she warns. It will require daily careful planning, thoughtful buying and good preparation.

1. Think of the cost per serving when you buy, as the lowest price per pound is not always the best buy. Cheap bacon, for example, is sometimes cut 10 to 12 slices to the pound, and the best bacon, 20 to 22 slices.

2. Note any waste in the article purchased, such as bone or gristle in meat, or inedible parts of vegetables or fruits, particularly the latter if reduced in price.

3. Be sure that "specials" are good buys and will fit into your meal plans.

4. Take advantage of seasonal low prices, such as old hens and other poultry at this time, and dried peas and beans. Make your meals inviting by serving "repeats" in different ways.

5. Use the less expensive forms of foods. In some areas, it is desirable to use powdered or evaporated milk in cooking, particularly when calories must be considered. The use of whole milk by all family members should be encouraged.

6. Buy inexpensive beef cuts and grind it at home for hamburgers or meat loaf. The flavor and food value will be the same.

7. Make your own rolls, thereby winning the family to the watch-the-cost program.

8. Prepare mixes at home in quantity—pie crust, gingerbread, cake or biscuits. Cover tightly and store in a cool place.

9. When buying packaged foods, remember the smaller the package the higher the cost of the contents.

Independence Homemakers

A budget for the coming year was proposed and accepted by the members.

We had several callers over the week-end asking about ads, outside of the callisited section. So we referred them to the editor in regard to display ads as we don't know enough about that to give them the proper advice. We only hope they call our newsy paper, as they are sure to get their money's worth.

A FEDERAL LAND BANK LOAN

YOUR LOAD

lighter, 700!

—ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS—

Q. For what purpose can I get a loan?

A. Loans may be made for any agricultural purpose and other requirements of the owner, some of which are:
To purchase farm real estate;
To refinance mortgages and other indebtedness;
To pay family living expenses;
To make improvements to land and buildings;
To provide a home for the owner or members of his family;
To purchase livestock and equipment.

Q. What security is required?

A. Land bank loans must be secured by first mortgages on farm land. Loans are not made on the current sale value of farms but are based on normal agricultural value as determined by a land bank appraiser.

Q. What is this normal value?

A. Normal value is defined as "the amount a typical purchaser, would, under usual conditions, be willing to pay and be justified in paying for the property for customary agricultural uses, including farm home advantages, with the exception of receiving normal net earnings from the farm and from other dependable sources." Generally speaking, normal values are long term values established for the purpose of making long term loans on a basis that will avoid overvaluing in peak periods and underlending in depression periods.

Q. What is the repayment plan?

A. A land bank loan is made on an amortization plan. The payments include interest on the unpaid balance and such amounts to be applied on the principal as will pay off the debt within the term for which it is written.

Q. What is the term of the loan?

A. Loans may be made for terms of 5 to 40 years. The most common terms are 20, 33 and 35 years. The objective is to fix the term of the loan to the debt paying capacity of the borrower and his farm. Renewals are no longer necessary.

Q. Can you pay extra principal payments?

A. A borrower may repay part or all his loan ahead of time if he is able and wishes to do so. There is absolutely no penalty for doing this. The land bank will also accept payments to be set aside and applied to future installments at the direction of the borrower.

Q. What is the rate of interest?

A. The interest rate on land bank loans is the lowest generally available to farmers from any lender treating all its borrowers alike as to interest rate. Being cooperatively owned by the farmers it serves, and being the largest lender in the farm mortgage field, enables the land bank to "set the pace" in low cost farm loans. Any farmer obtaining a land bank loan at the current low rate knows his rate cannot go higher throughout the life of the loan.

Q. What is the cost of obtaining a land bank loan?

A. There is no charge for either an application or appraisal. The applicant is required to furnish satisfactory evidence of title and pay recording fees. The charge for making a title report is a matter between the applicant and the attorney or title company that prepares the title evidence. There is no charge for its examination by the Federal Land Bank.

Q. How do I get a land bank loan?

A. By contacting the secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan Association serving the area in which your farm is located and making application. He will have the farm appraised and take other steps necessary to complete the loan.

Polio Vaccine To "Expire" Nov. 1, Says Commissioner

Kentucky's final supply of Federally-purchased polio vaccine will expire November 1, Russell Teague, M.D., Commissioner, Kentucky State Department of Health has announced. He stated that county health departments have been notified to try to dispense their supplies to physicians and eligible patients before the expiration date.

"Expiration" means that the potency of the vaccine is guaranteed by the manufacturer only to a certain date, the Commissioner explained.

The Kentucky State Medical Association is urging county medical societies to advise physicians to make the best possible utilization of Federal vaccine before November 1.

County records received by the State Department of Health show that an estimated 64.3 percent of Kentuckians under 20 have received at least one injection of vaccine. Approximately 75 percent of those eligible have received at least one shot in Boone county. Three injections are needed to complete the series for maximum protection. The Federal vaccine on hand may be used for first, second or third shots. According to findings of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis one or two injections do afford some protection; therefore, persons are asked to begin a series even though the three shots cannot be completed before November 1.

The Federal program which made vaccine available free of charge to the most susceptible groups—persons under 20 and pregnant women, was discontinued June 30.

Silo Unloaders and Bunk Feeders Aid In "Automating" One More Farming Job

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Many farmers still are climbing silos, but an increasing number are handling silage the push-button way. There is, however, a realistic problem to be faced by those considering the installation of a mechanical silo as nearly automatic as possible. This can be done in several ways. If the silo is built next to the barn, a "vestibule" can be constructed to provide access between the silo chute and the barn. In some cases, silos are located directly against the barn wall, thus permitting arrangements to be made for silage to be unloader. It's simply this: "How many head of cattle must I have to make a device of this kind pay?"

The answer to the question is not easily determined, although a survey made by the Agricultural Engineering Department of Ohio State University sheds some light on the subject. It shows that the average Ohio farm with a mechanical silo unloader is 250 acres. In the group of farmers reporting were those with farms of from 70 to 650 acres, and whose herds ranged from 20 to 300 head. The average farmer fed the equivalent of 70 head of dairy or beef cattle.

For maximum efficiency, a silo unloader should be fitted into the farm's feeding operations, making them

"chuted" into feed carts in the barn rather than in an area connected to it.

A few silos are constructed with a circular feed bunk around the base. The bunk may revolve under the chute opening, or a conveyor may be installed in the bunk to spread the silage around the feed "track."

Another idea, which is gaining in popularity and use, is the type of installation pictured with this on-the-farm report. Generally it is used to transport silage from the silo to the feed lot. The unloader in this silo is operated by a 5-horsepower motor. The conveyor in the trough is driven by a 2-horsepower motor.

Electronic Cookery Demonstration For Members of Club

The Florence Woman's Club held its October meeting at the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Company. Members and guests enjoyed a demonstration on electronic cookery by Miss Virginia Crawford, and a talk on lighting by Miss Nadine Cox. The hostess was Mrs. C. F. Blankenbaker, and co-hostesses were Mesdames Frances Berkshire, Harold Conner, and Fanny Scott. The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Roy Lutes.

Members present were Mesdames C. F. Blankenbaker, F. D. Caton, W. H. Campbell, Jake Cleek, Harold Conner, Reuben Conner, Harry F. Daugherty, J. F. Daugherty, W. R. Davis, Sam Denham, W. E. Dills, William Fitzgerald, W. F. Foote, Juanita Hightower, Harry Hoefker, A. A. Liggett, Roy Lutes, Herbert Riel, Fanny Scott, William Scroggin, Ralph Stith, G. R. Tanner, and Joy Utz. Guests were Mesdames A. C. Blaesey, A. Blaesey, Lee Hess, and Robert Wilson.

The percentage of deaths from burns last year was highest among children 5 years old or younger, and men and women 65 years old and older.

Rosedale, formerly Johnson's Inn, is shown on Filson's first map of Kentucky, published in 1784, as being on the main road between Lexington and Limestone (now Maysville). Tradition relates as many as 50 covered wagons stood in the yards here at one time.

Irvin Cobb Hotel, Paducah, opened in 1929 with Irvin S. Cobb as its first registered guest. The facade is a combination of stone, brick, half-timbers, stucco, turrets and broken parapets, characteristic of medieval English castles.

Matthew H. Jouett (1787-1827) was called the best painter west of the Appalachians. Though but 15 years of his brief life were devoted to painting, he left hundreds of portraits, many of them of noted Kentuckians.

At Fort Harrod, now part of the Pioneer Memorial Park at Harrodsburg, Ann McGarity operated the first spinning wheel in the West. John Lytle, preacher of the gospel, Squire Boone, brother of Daniel, walked about with a Bible in his hand, and George Rogers Clark prepared to march into the Old Northwest.

Farmer's 1957 About Same as Last Year..

The average net farm income for Kentucky farmers is expected to be about the same for '57 as for 1956, says the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station's economics department.

State farmer's average net income in 1956 was $1,734 per farm, says Economist Buel Lanpher in his bi-weekly outlook letter. This is only 3 percent below the all-time high of $1,789 in 1951.

The 1956 figure, Lanpher said, was 12 percent above the 1955 figure. He attributed this jump to increased livestock production on excellent crop yields, among other factors. Government payments also were higher in 1956 by $10 million, he said.

For 1957, he estimates, there are a number of favorable income factors. Livestock prices are higher, the number of livestock on farms has increased, and prices of cattle and hogs probably will be above 1956 levels throughout most of 1957. Government payments, through the Soil Bank, also will have considerable effect. In addition, the number of farms probably has continued to decline during 1957, he says.

Unfavorable factors include, however, such things as higher production expenses and lower crop production in 1957. Value of 1957 grain crops, for instance, probably will be down sharply as production and prices have dropped in the period. Burley tobacco production in 1957 is down about 6 percent also, according to Oct. 1 estimates, which will cut total value of this valuable crop—unless prices rise enough to offset the lower production. If this happens, net farm income could be slightly higher than for 1956.

Nationally, the net farm income was $2,337, 35 percent higher than Kentucky's. However, Lanpher noted

"there has not been the drop in Kentucky's net farm income that has occurred in U. S. net farm income in the last few years. The 1956 U. S. net farm income was 20 percent below the $2,911 average of 1951."

Recent jumps in production expenses nationally have had less effect in Kentucky, too, than nationally. Production expenses in Kentucky have been about equal to "about one-half of gross farm income throughout the 1949-1956 period; however, on all U. S. farms, the proportion of gross income taken by production expenses has been rising and was equal to almost two-thirds of gross income in 1957," he noted.

Production expenses are relatively less important than nationally, he thinks, because the state has smaller farms; a high-labor crop in tobacco; less mechanization than national averages; and probably less high-priced hired labor on Kentucky farms. Lanpher predicts, "very little additional rise" in production costs through the first half of 1958. Prices for many basic raw materials for industry have declined considerably; and further wage increases during the next 9 months "likely will be limited to the extent that productivity increases," Lanpher said.

The general level of business has remained practically stationary all year and there are indications it may weaken in the next few months. One able equipment has dropped sharply. Prices paid by U. S. farmers have risen 6 percent since December 1955, while prices-received figures have risen 10 percent in the same period. The parity ratio has risen three points since December 1955 (from 80 to 83), but U. S. net farm income "probably has risen more than that," Lanpher said. "Volume of production per farm has been increasing because of new technology and expansion in size of farms as farm folk moved out of agriculture."

A California scientist has developed and field-tested (on 20,000 birds) a new type vaccine against Newcastle disease. The vaccine reportedly holds off the disease 13 weeks for the first injection, 53 weeks on the second. It can be given chicks of any age, does not spread the disease to unvaccinated or partially susceptible perennates, does not produce symptoms of Newcastle itself, and does not cause floareups of other latent diseases the chickens may be carrying.

Christian Freedom

Lesson for October 27, 1957

LIFE would be simpler if it were all in clear black-and-white. There is no mistaking one for the other. Daylight and dark can't be confused. But twilight is confusing and confusing. There are some actions, some ways of living, which are evidently and undeniably good; there are others which are just as plainly bad. Quoting again from Billy Sunday: "If a man starts arguing with you that stealing isn't a sin, don't argue with him — search him!" But there are many problems in living which can't be solved by simple rule. There are many actions about which sincere Christians may differ, some saying Do, others saying Don't.

Twilight Zone

In the twilight zone are many actions, or proposed actions, which are really unprecedented. The Bible says nothing about them, even the state's legal code may not mention them. One day a woman threw a whiskey bottle at the door of England's prime minister. She was arrested and fined. But she said to the judge: "I'll be back with another bottle. The government is throwing hydrogen bombs, and throwing bottles is nothing near so wicked as that. This is my protest against the wickedness of the H-Bomb." Well, it is certainly against the law to throw bottles. It's not against the law to experiment with H-bombs. But many people would feel the woman was right, no carload of glass bottles can do a small part of the harm that one H-bomb can do. But it's in the twilight zone. More simple, personal matters are also in the twilight zone. Is it right or wrong for a Christian to attend the theater? to read a book of fiction? to use tobacco? to drink wine, beer, whiskey, gin? Christians are not unanimous in their verdicts.

Abusing Freedom

We can get a good deal of light on at least part of the twilight zone, by reading Paul, and the Gospels. Paul gives us a guiding line which can appeal only to Christians; but for Christians it is a strong directive. At Corinth, for example, there was a peculiar sort of twilight-zone problem, the question of meat that had been offered to idols. In every Greek butcher shop there were cuts of beef, veal, lamb and so forth, just as in our super-markets, only of course much less sanitary. When the 20th-century housekeeper goes shopping for a steak, she does not inquire how the cow died. Presumably it was killed by some one paid for doing such things. But there is nothing religious about a slaughter-house. In Corinth, in the First Century, on the contrary, the cow from whose dead body the steak was taken, very likely had died in a religious ceremony, killed in sacrifice on altars dark with blood and black with fire and smoke. After the ceremony in the temple, most of the dead animal would be taken and sold in the market-place . . . and so find its way to the tables of the ladies of Corinth.

The problem was: Could a Christian eat steaks and chops from animals slaughtered in heathen religious rites? It was a twilight-zone question. Many Corinthians were saying, "Certainly I can eat without sin. Idolatry is bad, but if a cow breathed her last in an idol's temple, that doesn't infect the roast beef with sin!"

Using Freedom

Wait a minute, Paul says in effect, when they ask him about this. You are free, to be sure. This particular twilight-zone thing is not a sin. Eating such meat is not an approval of idolatry at all. But suppose some weaker brother knows what you are doing, and concludes that you are approving idol-worship? Then what? Then the question is not any longer, Is this particular act right or wrong? The question for you is, What will be the effect on my brother if I do this thing I am free to do? This brother may be weak, he may even be stupid; but Christ died for him. Are you going to drive back into sin this man for whom Christ died? So it is with many twilight-zone acts today. You may be strong and free; doing them will not hurt you at all. But what about other people? I am never so free, if I am a Christian, that I have a right to abuse my freedom by leading some one else into what for him is sin.

IN HARMONY

The house lights dimmed, the director raised his baton, and the music of Brahms flooded the auditorium. Suddenly I was lifted into a world of sheer beauty and harmony. When the last notes of the symphony died away spontaneous applause greeted the director and the musicians.

What a thrill it would be to play in a great orchestra, I thought. Each instrument must be perfectly in tune, but until they play together there can never be the harmony or the volume of a symphony.

That's the way it is with life. We may strive to find joy and beauty alone. But only when we tune our lives with our Creator do we discover the abundant life.

Then united with fellow Christians in the Church, with Jesus Christ the Leader, we discover beauty and harmony, not only in this life but for all eternity.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Like a charm...
LIGHT
interior settings!

And what a pleasant, inexpensive way to give a "new look" to your home. Make it a real project, by introducing improved lighting in every room in the house—or take it step by step. But even the simplest replacement, a new lamp or fixture, will prove to you what delightful decorating changes can be effected with modern home lighting! Adequate lighting, all over the house, is a sound investment in safety and good cheer... use it generously, since it costs so very little!

Look of the future on newest highways calls for concrete.

The highway ride of 1975 is here!

New-type, sound-conditioned concrete for your new Interstate System of super-roads

There's not a "thump" to be heard when you drive this continuous-laid concrete. Almost like riding above the pavement, instead of on it. You'll say this new-type concrete gives you the smoothest, most quiet ride ever.

It's laid without interrupting joints. Then only the tiniest cushion spaces are sawed into the surface. You never feel or hear them. Freezing, thawing and de-icers can't hurt new-type concrete. What's more, it's laid flat... stays flat... serves 50 years and more.

Sound reasons why new-type concrete is the preferred pavement for the new Interstate System.

Built to cost
Kentucky taxpayers less
Only concrete can be engineered to match expected traffic loads, serve 50 years and more. Its first cost is moderate. New-type concrete roads save taxpayers' dollars on maintenance... which will be up to 60% less than for asphalt.

MY CUSTOMERS

We have so many new customers moving into our community every month and we try in every way to help them get started and acquainted in our little city. Mr. and Mrs. Brown, who bought the Clayton Percival farm, are a fine couple; they were in the store Saturday, and joined the Baptist Church, Sunday. People like these are the kind we like to receive because they are an asset. Mr. and Mrs. Clark, down on High School Court, are also new-comers and really fine people. Another active couple that moved into our midst not too long ago is Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kacaba; they are always busy and a real couple.

We have so many new customers we do not know, but I try to learn them as soon as I can. A lady came in the store today that I had not seen for 34 years, but I knew her after a few minutes; it is funny, we grow older but our facial expressions do not change much; we get fat and grey, a few wrinkles, but there is a look you had when a child that never leaves.

Mr. Galloway, who is building Dr. Franklin Daugherty a very nice new home on the right before you get to Nicholson, was in after a few items.

John Clifton Mayhugh is also building a new home at Nicholson, by his father's house. We have so many customers from Kenton county. Bill Soden is remodeling and adding more to his home. We are in one of the most prosperous parts of our country. Northern Kentucky is a hot spot with the Markland Dam, the large road building program, and the many industries we have moving into Northern Kentucky. These all make more customers for Conrad Hardware, and if we don't have it, which is a rare thing, we send them to the other business places in town.

We have a very fine country town in which you can buy most everything you need. The stores get better and have more merchandise every year. We try to be ready for all these new customers, as well as the old ones. Walton has a lot of different business places of all types, for small towns. The town builds slowly but the rural community builds up fast; every road you travel on has new houses and more lots being sold, which means more customers next year.

Everyone did a little of everything today. They sold lots of hardware; they cleaned and straightened several tables; set up several stoves, filled up several bins. Brewster took Fred Batt 47 steel fence posts. We received another shipment of Perfection large size fuel oil heaters. Every day we have a new customer coming to Conrad Hardware for items they can't find in any other place in the area. We love to tell them in and ask for a hardware item, we love to tell them we have it. So when you need hardware, come to Conrad, we have lots of it and plenty of clerks—we try not to keep you waiting.

Mrs. L. A. Bots came in today and we had a stove trade. James Bots came after some blue day light bulbs to strip tobacco. We have lots of blue bulbs and also the 4 fluorescent lights, complete with cord, chains and tubes, ready to hang, for only 14.50. Mrs. Harry Moser, down on Ky. 17, beyond Pleasure Isle, called for some of that good Boice paint; she had used it before and liked it very much. I was going down that way so I took her 4 gallons.

I went down to the farm after the rain and everything was so green; Bob was stripping tobacco; the cattle and sheep looked happy as the grass was again green. Crows were eating up the cornfield, so I came back after gun shells; they sure are hard to kill. We cleaned up and stocked-up today. A. E. Kirkpatrick, over at Burlington, called for me to send him the Perfection fuel oil heater he looked at a few days ago, so Brewster took it over and installed it.

Brewster went over to Piner School to repair the water fountain, then out to Ed Hetzel's to check over his oil heater. I sold Wilbur Strouse a new Maytag washer for his wife I sold Mrs. McManama, over at Verona, a new coal heater. Mrs. Pearl Lamm was with her and bought some stove pipe. Mrs. Lee Crouch got a small fuel oil heater. W. A. Salmons bought more Boice paint and some linoleum. We sold everything today, including tools, weatherstrips, caulking guns and caulking, furnace pipe, stove boards, glass, water pipe of all types, Dayton water system, and a coal range for Lloyd Clements' father, in Rendleton county.

Ben Menke is having his home wired; he bought some new fixtures. These round fluorescent fixtures really give a fine light. Now is the time to get your tobacco stripped, so buy a 4 fluorescent light for your shipping room. We have the fixtures, complete with tubes, cord and hanging chains for 14.50. I have three rebuilt Maytag washers for only 75.00 each—extra good units. Call me if you have the new Maytag for 139.95 and 189.95.

We were busy cleaning up after the big day Saturday. We sold five collars, coal hods, shovels, pokers, Warm Morning stove repairs—we have a good stock of grates and linings. We have grate baskets from 20" to 30". We have Wagner electric water heaters, 30 and 52-gallon, also Dayton and Duro water systems for 89.50. I have a 30" fully automatic Perfection electric range for 259.00, a bargain this week for 200.00. It's a beauty.

Elections for Community ASC Committeemen will be held in every designated ASC community or district in this county and all other counties in the state in November 8, with voting from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. local time, according to Mr. A. L. Stephens, chairman of the Boone County ASC Committee.

Those who will be eligible to vote in these community elections will be any person who is of legal voting age and who has an interest in a farm as owner, tenant, sharecropper, and any person not of legal voting age who is in full charge of the supervision and conduct of the farming operation of an entire farm, if such a person participates in any of the many phases of the ASC Agricultural Program.

Mr. Stephens stated persons who are in doubt as to whether or not they will be eligible to vote in the coming community election should contact their community election board or the county ASC office, prior to the date of election, if at all possible.

Mr. Stephens stated that each voter will cost one ballot for five persons, the persons of the most votes will be declared chairman of the community committee and delegate to the county ASC election, which will be held Nov. 29. The person receiving the second highest number of votes will be elected vice-chairman and alternate delegate to the County Convention. A regular member and two alternate members of the County Committee will also be chosen in this manner.

The duties of the Community Committee will be to consult with the ASC County Committee on various questions regarding policies and procedures needed to carry out the most effective ASC program in the county. They will also help inform farmers of the provisions of the various agricultural programs and at the request of the county committee report facts in connection with individual appeals and complaints of farmers in their particular community. Mr. Stephens stated that women are eligible to hold office as community or county committeemen.

3 For Police Judge, 10 For Council; on 8 Tickets

Hogan Opposed by Gruelle For Sheriff

The Walton City election is one of the "hottest" that has been seen for many years, with three men running for Police Judge, one for Mayor and nine men on the ballot for Council, plus one man seeking election to Council as a "write-in" candidate. There will be six Councilmen elected, a Mayor, and a Police Judge.

The ballot for the Walton election is the largest ever, with eight different tickets, side by side. In the first section, under the "W" emblem, Progressive ticket, will be Dave Workman for Police Judge; second section emblem "M," Community ticket, with James S. Webster for Police Judge; third section, emblem "R," Peoples ticket, Leon B. Hall for Mayor; fourth section, emblem "B," Citizens ticket, R. E. Brugh for Police Judge; fifth section, emblem "Hatchet," Fixem ticket, Bryan Rector, Raymond Brewster, J. B. McCubbin, Chester Armstrong, D. K. Johnson, and Don Stephens for Council; section six, emblem "I," Independent ticket, Joseph Lunderback for Council; seventh section, emblem "R," New Progressive ticket, Edgar A. Beckner, Jr., for Council; eighth section, City Improvement ticket, Robert W. Stephenson for Council. Randall Martin is seeking re-election to Council as a "write-in" candidate.

This all means that there are ten men in the race for Council with only six to be elected, and voters may pick any combination out of that list that they may choose. If a voter wishes to vote for an entire ticket they may stamp in the big circle at the top, but if they desire to "split" the tickets, then they must stamp behind the men's names with which they wish elected.

A "write-in" candidate may be voted for by writing his name under the office you desire, and then stamping in the square after his name, detail in this matter for fear of many spoiled ballots. The best thing would be to get a sample ballot, and if there is any question, ask the election officers before voting.

In his early years he was a skilled amateur baseball player in Northern Kentucky. He was a member of the Petersburg Christian Church.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Susan Helms Ruth, a son, Tynus C. Ruth, of Petersburg, and a sister, Mrs. Maude Hoffman, Cincinnati.

Services will be held this (Thursday) afternoon at 2:00 p. m., at the Petersburg Christian Church. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Fall Brooding of Chicks May Be Profitable Here

Fall brooding of chicks—to ensure a supply of good eggs the year round—may be in order now for Kentucky broiler and laying-flock operators. So says J. E. Humphrey, Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service poultry specialist.

"In these days it is becoming more important to raise chicks other than during the spring months," he says. "This is especially true for commercial poultrymen, to get a supply of good eggs the year round."

"Information available still supports the feeling that chicks brooded during the first three months of the year do better than those brooded in other months," he noted. "However, the advantages gained by having good eggs at all times more than counteract advantages of spring brooding only. Total profits would be greater especially for persons with a continuous demand for good market eggs throughout the year."

"The outlook now for fall-brooding is favorable because it appears that egg prices should be higher in 1958 than they were during the same time this year," Humphrey says. "About 19 percent less chicks of egg-producing type were hatched in 1957 so far than in 1956."

Kentucky Parks To Offer Varied Winter Vacations

A winter vacation in Kentucky is an adventure the entire family can afford.

33 1/3 percent from regular costs. Three State parks, Cumberland Falls, Kentucky Lake, and Kentucky Dam Village, remain open throughout the year. Under a new policy of the Division of Parks, European Plan rates at these resorts drop. This special rate extends from Nov. 1 to April 1.

During the same period, under the American Plan (rooms and meals) the charge is $40 a person by the week and $7.50 a person by the day.

A unique attraction for winter vacationers at Kentucky Dam Village is the controlled hunting season, initiated last year. The hunting range abounds in wild quail, partridge, pheasant and chukar and this type of hunting allows the sportsman a full bag of birds.

For $18 a day the hunter may take four ducks and have the services of a guide and a trained hunting dog. Other rates allow the hunter a minimum of four chukar, partridge or pheasant.

Kentucky Dam Village is unique in that it has a private, all-weather landing strip. Persons flying in can be met and furnished free transportation to the park's hunting and fishing areas.

Kentucky State park menus offer such dishes as baked Kentucky ham, fried Kentucky Lake catfish with hushuppies, Southern fried chicken and many other tasty entrees at reasonable prices.

Kentucky Lake has 2,300 miles of shoreline. Fishing, boating, picnicking, two boat docks, auditorium-lounge, food market, airport, 18-hole golf course, driving range, restaurant, tent and trailer park, cottages and lodge, are found at the park.

Kentucky Lake State Park offers Kenlake Hotel, cottages, boating fishing, hiking, boat dock.

A FEDERAL LAND BANK LOAN

can make...

YOUR LOAD lighter, TOO!

—ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS—

- Q. For what purpose can I get a loan?
- A. Loans may be made for any agricultural purpose and other requirements of the owner, some of which are:
- To purchase farm real estate;
  - To refinance mortgages and other indebtedness;
  - To pay family living expenses;
  - To make improvements to land and buildings;
  - To provide a home for the owner or members of his family;
  - To purchase livestock and equipment.
- Q. What security is required?
- A. Land bank loans must be secured by first mortgages on farm land. Loans are not made on the current sale value of farms but are based on normal agricultural value as determined by a land bank appraiser.
- Q. What is this normal value?
- A. Normal value is defined as "the amount a typical purchaser, would, under usual conditions, be willing to pay and be justified in paying for the property for customary agricultural uses, including farm home advantages, with the exception of receiving normal net earnings from the farm and from other dependable sources." Generally speaking, normal values are long term values established for the purpose of making long term loans on a basis that will avoid overvaluing in peak periods and undervaluing in depression periods.
- Q. What is the repayment plan?
- A. A land bank loan is made on an amortization plan. The payments include interest on the unpaid balance and such amounts to be applied on the principal as will pay off the debt within the term for which it is written.
- Q. What is the term of the loan?
- A. Loans may be made for terms of 5 to 40 years. The most common terms are 20, 33 and 35 years. The objective is to fix the term of the loan to the debt paying capacity of the borrower and his farm. Renewals are no longer necessary.
- Q. Can you pay extra principal payments?
- A. A borrower may repay part or all his loan ahead of time if he is able and wishes to do so. There is absolutely no penalty for doing this. The land bank will also accept payments to be set aside and applied to future installments at the direction of the borrower.
- Q. What is the rate of interest?
- A. The interest rate on land bank loans is the lowest generally available to farmers from any lender treating all its borrowers alike as to interest rate. Being cooperatively owned by the farmers it serves, and being the largest lender in the farm mortgage field, enables the land bank to "set the pace" in low cost farm loans. Any farmer obtaining a land bank loan at the current low rate knows his rate cannot go higher throughout the life of the loan.
- Q. What is the cost of obtaining a land bank loan?
- A. There is no charge for either an application or appraisal. The applicant is required to furnish satisfactory evidence of title and pay recording fees. The charge for making a title report is a matter between the applicant and the attorney or title company that prepares the title evidence. There is no charge for its examination by the Federal Land Bank.
- Q. How do I get a land bank loan?
- A. By contacting the secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan Association serving the area in which your farm is located and making application. He will have the farm appraised and take other steps necessary to complete the loan.

WHITES TOWER

We are sorry to report the Blitz family are nearly all down with the old flu bug, but seem to be getting along all right, and we hope that it's only a very light case.

Bud Ryle and wife of Werk Road made their first trip to the Tower Sunday in quite a while and visited Buds parents here.

Some of the biggest beets, carrots and parsnips we have ever seen are on sale in the Tower now. One more week and they will all be gone.

We got a little insight into just how important our local paper is when we were talking to one of the regular advertisers of the Walton Advertiser.

In the course of the conversation he informed me that he gets more and better results from a display ad in our paper than any other medium, in fact he said no other paper reaches the people he wants to reach, and I honestly believe that patrons of our newsy paper read all the ads as well as other news, and thereby run into some real bargains.

Some real cold weather now would just about eradicate this so called flu epidemic and this Monday morning it looks like it is here.

Mr. Collins of McCollum Drive has been waiting on the sick for several days, and do we miss him? He is always on the job to help a neighbor out in any way he can. We hope they will soon be on the mend.

All the absenteeism in the schools is not caused by the flu. In the Tower we have several who play hooky on this now old alibi. Truant officers could have a field day if they would visit the Tower unexpectedly.

Bro. Radar, pastor of Decoursey Baptist Church is quite sick at his home near the church. Bro. Radar and wife are fine folks and we hope he has a quick recovery.

This is getting the time of year when you enjoy your home the most, and I just wonder if we appreciate all the rights and privileges we have in this glorious old U.S.A. Sit by your fire and watch everything that's going on in the world and not costing a cent except a few calls to your television set by the repairman. All the best music and if you don't like one just turn the knob and here comes a "Who Dun It" which seems to be the most popular programs now. We are sure living in a veritable paradise but just don't seem to realize it.

PRE-WINTER PASTURE MANAGING IS URGED

Good pasture management before severe winter weather sets in will help farmers preserve their land, says Tim Taylor, Kentucky experiment Station agronomist.

Don't graze too closely, he advises, but leave two to three inches of growth for winter weather; scatter manure piles when grazing is over, and fertilize and lime pastures now, particularly on steep slopes and wet areas.

Controlled grazing before freezing weather leaves good cover to prevent erosion; the plants also need leaf surface to make food reserve for the winter.

Liming and fertilizing is recommended now because lime and phosphorus need time to work their way down into the root-feeding zone. Little to none of these nutrients are lost to winter rains. Some of the potash is lost to leaching rains, but this loss is lessened by good vegetative cover. In the fall, soil is dry enough to carry heavy machinery.

There are very few families in the community who don't have at least one member ill with the flu or other respiratory disease. The worst seems to have passed however as attendance of the schools is increasing. For some reason children are much more susceptible than adults.

Retirement of Two Good Officials

On a day when most of the well-wishing and the plaudits will be going to the incoming officials of city and county government, it is well to remember two officials who are leaving the service of Campbell and Kenton counties.

We refer to George J. Kaufmann, county clerk in Campbell, who walked out of the office he has held since 1938 to devote his full time to the practice of law. In Kenton county, Sam Furste, veteran clerk of 24 years, has decided also to retire from that post, passing the honor of the office along to his chief deputy for many years, William (Buster) Bauereis. There is a parallel also between the office in the two counties in this latter respect, for in Campbell, Edward Sheehan, chief deputy for Mr. Kaufmann, was elected without opposition to the office his chief has just relinquished.

We do not know two better men than these two retiring clerks to whom to express our best wishes today. And we do not know of any better men to whom to extend congratulations on their duties than Mr. Bauereis and Mr. Sheehan.

Mr. Furste said the office of sheriff in Kenton county is primarily a "clerk's position" and that he is eminently qualified for the post. Mason Dixon can agree to that.

BUILDING TRADES SUPPORT FURSTE FOR SHERIFF

SAM FURSTE is credited with a long friendship with labor. He is a former Kenton County clerk. Many union men have been his close associates for over 50 years.

FURSTE lost his left arm in an accident at the Henderson Lithograph Company, September 24, 1906, when he was 14 years old. He could have avoided the accident if he had taken a promotion to a job breaking a pressmen's strike. His loyalty to his fellow workers at that time cost him his arm.

The primary elections are slated for May 28.

Asian Flu Safeguards

Reporting that Asian influenza has reached epidemic stage in Kentucky, Dr. Russell E. Teague, State health commissioner, is advising persons caring for flu patients to observe certain procedure:

Isolate patient from rest of family to protect them and to prevent the patient from coming in contact with complicating germs.

Keep patient's personal articles—toothbrush, wash cloth, towels, and dishes—separate from those of other family members.

Provide patient with disposable tissues and a paper bag in which to discard them. Burn used tissues. Person caring for patient should wash hands after each service to the flu victim.

Keep record of patient's temperature morning and night.

Refresh patient with sponge baths. Heat in the form of a heating pad or hot water bottle comforts muscular aches and pains.

Keep room aired but free of drafts and maintain a temperature of 68 to 74 degrees.

During acute stage of little appetite, serve fruit juices, cereals cooked with milk, toast, creamed soup, custards and other simple nourishing foods. Limit patient to fluids as tolerated if stomach upset occurs. Have enough food of this type on hand to last a week in case all the adult members of the family get sick simultaneously.

Give convalescing patient time to regain strength. The flu is debilitating and leaves one liable to possible complications if exposed to other infections or fatigue.

A safeguard in any illness is to call the physician. In order to prevent the Asian flu ask him about an injection of influenza vaccine.

Homemakers to Get Tips On Salad Making In November

The key to success with salads is the knack of trying new combinations and new tricks with seasoning. Foods leaders of the Boone County Homemakers Association will be teaching club members these things at their November club meetings.

The leader training lesson was taught by the Home Agent, Gertrude Robinette, October 22. Some things stressed by the agent at this meeting were:

1. Salads are good appetizers as well as providing vitamins and minerals.
2. They give a temperature contrast for hot meals.
3. The coloring of salads makes the meal more attractive.
4. A light salad is better with a heavy meal.
5. Too much garnish on a salad can be less attractive than not enough.
6. For most occasions, the simple and easy to eat salad is preferred.
7. If there are sufficient vegetables on the menu, a fruit salad is a best choice.
8. If the dessert is to be fruit, the salad needs to be vegetables.
9. The color and nutrient contents of the menu will determine the color and nutrient contents of the salad.

The four types of salads discussed and made were appetizer, accompaniment, main dish, main dish and dessert. One main dish salad made by leaders was a vegetable salad with slices of cheese, eggs and meat added. The other main dish salad was shrimp salad. An appetizer salad was made up of finger vegetables served on a mold of ice (to keep the salad crisp).

The finger foods used were raw cauliflower (which some leaders had not tasted, but found delicious), celery, carrot curls, radish roses and cucumbers. The dessert salad consisted of apples, pears, and cheese. The quarters of unpeeled apples and pears were attractively arranged on a plate with the slices of cheese.

 COMING
 NOV. 7

AROUND THE WORLD

The 58 Ford has been proved around the world. This is the most dramatic and most grueling test ever given a new car before its public announcement.

The whole world was used as a test track for the 58 Ford. The car drove through England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Iran, Afghanistan, Pakistan, India, Malaya, Thailand, Cambodia, Vietnam, and finally back to the place it started—Detroit, Michigan, U.S.A.

The Ford powered over the great mountain ranges of three continents: from the Alps to the Himalayas and the Rockies. It crossed the great rivers of history: the Thames, the Seine, the Tiber, the Arno, the Tigris, the Euphrates, the Indus, the Ganges.

This car stood at Buckingham Palace, rolled up the Champs Elysees to the Arc de Triomphe, and paused at the Eiffel Tower. It was greeted by the great Paris couturiers at the famous fashion salons where its "sculptured in steel" styling was applauded by the most style-conscious audience in the world.

The 58 Ford rode smoothly down the rugged, beautiful seacoast of Tito's country, to a festival in Dubrovnik, and into Greece to Athens, where this newest classic met such ancient classics as the Parthenon and the Temple of Poseidon.

Into Turkey: and the 58 Ford passed the great white lacework palaces of the Sultans along the Bosphorus and the Golden Horn. Then the Ford went where few but nomads travel, up into the hot days and chill nights of the ancient mountains of Afghanistan. And thence along the route Alexander the Great followed with his chariots to cross the historic Indus river.

On and on the Ford moved, down into the heat of mysterious India, through New Delhi to the Taj Mahal, and to the great pink palace of the Maharajah of Jaipur.

This great new car met the challenge of the monsoons—rains that for centuries have stopped all road movement throughout Indo-China, but didn't stop the 58 Ford. It drove on to Penang in Malaya, and then north to Bangkok.

Further on came Saigon, the Paris of the Orient, at the farthest tip of South-east Asia. Finally, it powered across the great Rockies and plains of North America and back, at long last, to Detroit, Michigan.

The 58 Ford . . . has been proved and approved around the world. A natural question arises. Why did Ford go to such great lengths with its 1958 model? Why spend so much money and time and go through all the problems of negotiations, customs, border transit, diplomacy in so many countries?

The answer: In the competitive automobile market of today, only the best in all-around value can survive. And this round-the-world test is the most decisive possible demonstration of the best.

The 1958 Ford is value: hard-dollar value. It is also style, power, performance, and a dozen great new features. But above all, it is value.

This is the car you've been waiting for. See it November 7—there's nothing newer in the world than the 58 Ford!

BIBLE SPEAKS

International Union
Bible School Lessons
BY DR. KENNETH L. FOREMAN

In Worship

Lesson for November 3, 1957

WHY do people go to church? There are very poor reasons, such as showing up a new hat, keeping up a respectable front. There are reasons which are only middling-good, such as enjoying the music, or going to please your wife. There are also very good reasons; the best of these is simply to worship God. There are different ways Christian churches use in worshipping God, and it is rarely that one particular service makes use of one way alone. Hymns are one way, and prayer. Dr. Foreman is another, and offering is another. But the way of worship which most churches feel to be most assured is the observance known by the names of Eucharist, Lord's Supper, Holy Communion.

Long Years, Wide Road

What is the right spirit of worship? In particular, how can we make the most of Communion? Saint Paul offers us some plain and valuable hints in the letter he wrote to the church at Corinth. That church needed some plain-spoken help, for two reasons. For one thing, the Christian religion was hardly thirty years old. There was no long tradition, no prayer-book, no New Testament to go by. For another thing, many of the Corinthians Christians had been outright pagans till recently, and pagans had some very odd notions about how to worship their gods, such as getting drunk in their temples. So Paul had to make some things clear. One is that the worshippers at the Lord's Table are not alone; there is a tradition behind them, there are hosts of other churches also at worship in this way. We worship best when we are mindful of the whole church of Christ. We are travelers on a road stretching through two thousand years now, not thirty years only—a road wide enough to take in worshippers from every country in the world. Remembering this, we shall be solemnly grateful that we too can share in this age-old Remembrance of Christ.

"In Remembrance of Me"

For this Lord's Supper is a rite of remembrance. How shall we best approach it? To come carelessly, thoughtlessly, is to cut ourselves off from its meaning and its blessing. We should come to it remembering the One in whose Name it is celebrated. But how shall we remember him? There is something more here than simple memory. We do not well remember a good mother's birthday by getting drunk, or by polishing off a shady deal, or by being hateful to members of our family. We best remember Washington not by making speeches about him but by being patriots ourselves. So we can best remember Christ not by being suddenly reminded of him by seeing that this is Communion Sunday, not by merely recalling that once such a Man lived and died. We come and worship in his name rightly when we come remembering, and praying for, his spirit in our lives. Those who get most out of Communion are usually those who have been keeping closest to their Lord.

Remembering Others

Protestant churches take seriously another thought in Paul's lines about the Lord's Supper. That is, that this is not something we can best do alone. There is room for private worship of God, and a necessity for it. But there is also room and necessity for the public worship of God, and the Holy Communion is public, social, communal, corporate, rather than private and individualistic. That is the way theologians would put it. For the plain worshipper, the point is this: In coming to this sacred high-point of worship, we shall get the most out of it if we give thought to others, not less than to ourselves. We need to remember the Church in whose company this feast is kept. We need to remember the Body—not only the broken body of Christ, but the Church which Paul (in the very next chapter) calls the body of Christ. We need also to remember those who are in need. Most congregations use the Communion-time for special offerings for the poor or otherwise needy. So again, the right way to approach this hour of worship is to come already in the spirit of unselfishness. It is a poor sort of Christian who has to wait for the Communion service to remind him to love his neighbor as himself.

WHAT'S WRONG HERE?

A charming picture of a lovely little girl reaching for a Bible. What could possibly be wrong with that?

Here's what!

1. The Bible is on the bottom shelf, hard to get at, which means the family doesn't use it frequently.

2. The Bible she's reaching for is written in grown-up language, too hard for her to understand all by herself.

3. The little girl is alone—and she needs help!

Why should the Bible be on the bottom shelf, and why should this little girl have to seek its truth by herself?

The Church stands ready to help your child—and you! It will help you to understand the Bible and its timeless message of God's undiscouragable love for you, your children and all mankind.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) Which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsberry

Highway Decoration:

Lots have been reported on those new federal highways, the big jobs running interstate.

About the only thing we can add is this: The highway markers are going to be things of beauty. They will be shaped like a shield. The numbers will be in white and so will the outlines. The upper part will be in red and the lower part in blue. Snazzy looking, we'd say.

Numbers assigned to Kentucky include Interstate 71 for the Louisville-Covington road, Interstate 74 for the road from south of Ashland through Lexington, Frankfort and St. Louis, and Interstate 75 from Covington to Lexington.

More About Highways:

The Federal Bureau of Roads recently revealed that a circle highway will be constructed around the Northern Kentucky and Southern Ohio area so through traffic won't have to roll over city streets. So, the discussion rages over where the highways shall cross the Ohio River.

We have heard one suggestion: That one span across the Ohio be constructed as a part of the New Richmond Dam on the East and, again across the Ohio, from Lawrenceburg into Boone county, on the West.

The Boone county bridge has long been in the discussion stage.

Who Keeps Shop:

Someone wants to know who keeps shop while lawmakers take recess or travel around the world. Well, the Congress has a good system and some high-power aids hold down the fort.

On the senate side, Senator Morton has as his administrative assistant, Lee R. Uunn, while Senator Cooper has enlisted the services of Andrew W. Duncan.

If you need help and the big man is out to lunch, call on the administrative assistants. They act in the name of the senator.

Congressional Children:

Someone writes—apparently a parent who is unhappy with the schools in her community—to ask if any of the Kentucky lawmakers have children.

The answer is yes! There are five sons and seven daughters in the Kentucky delegation. The youngest is the son of Congressman Carl Perkins who has just passed his third birthday.

Our lady correspondent, as far as we could gather from her letter, wants a new school and is unhappy over Uncle Sam's failure to help.

Calhoun, in McLean county on the north banks of Green River, was known as Fort Vienna in 1788 when founded by Coloman Rhoades. A granite marker commemorates the site of the fort and indicates the hillside where the early settlers dug caves for refuge during Indian attacks.

On U. S. 60, near Smithland, is the hilltop grave of Lucy Jefferson Lewis, only sister of Thomas Jefferson.

HALLOWEEN

The night when all the ghosts and goblins are out, looking around. We have masks and horns for you to wear and make noise with the night when all disguise and you wonder who is who. After Halloween, we have November and Thanksgiving, which is not far off. Several farmers are cutting corn, some are husking corn, some are stripping tobacco. We are doing all three at the farm, also building fence and a cattle shed.

We are your Warm Morning heater dealers. Howard Brewer, one of the largest land owners in Grant county, was in today buying a few pieces of hardware. John Adams is a regular customer every Tuesday, then he goes to the Sales Barn. Raymond Baker, Sr. stopped and bought a size 14 aluminum scoop shovel. Jim Woods' wife bought one of those long cast iron wood heaters—they are going to put it in a fireplace. It is raining now and looks like fall weather, heading into winter, and the weatherman just said it would be colder. I know lots of you don't have your heating problems solved yet, but we can help you if you will call or come to Conrad Hardware.

Brewster went down to August Trapp's, in East Bend, and serviced their oil heater; then over to Verona to put new constant level valve on a used heater we sold Mr. and Mrs. James Sutton—the one that was on the used oil heater we sold them was defective, so we put on a new one; then over to the R. T. Heizer farm to put new linings in a Warm Morning coal heater. Chick, Ross and I put up two orders of hardware, set up some stoves. Woody Butler came over after two fluorescent lights for stripping tobacco. We sell lots of these every year.

I called in to Kruse Hardware Co. for several items such as aluminum scoop shovel and some hunting coats. Who do you think took my order? It was Donald Ransom, who lived here for years; also at Kruse's is George Sharpe and Richard Sleet in the shipping department. Today, Brewster and Red went out to Mrs. Dawson Chambers' and put down three rooms of linoleum—this was some job as we are not linoleum layers. Mrs. Gertrude Daniels, who is moving up in Emma Jane Miller's apartment, came in and selected a 12x12 Armstrong linoleum rug. When we take it up, Emma Jane wants Brewster to measure her kitchen and lay new linoleum in it.

We have sold so many stoves this year already, oil, coal and wood. I ordered several more cheap wood and coal heaters. Today, I received two four-cap cook stoves, a 16" oven size, $39.50, and an 18" oven size, $59.50; also a cast iron top and bottom wood heater. I just received some of those Ashley wood heaters with the special down draft. I have a white enameled coal range for $124.50, a black coal range with white doors for $89.50. A special this week—a Perfection electric 30" range (was $239.50) for only $179.50, this week.

We have a few new Perfection fuel oil heaters left at last year's price. Brewster put up one of the large size Elmer Breiden in his home where Franklin Breiden lives—he said he never saw a stove burn any better—of course they have an extra good chimney and that makes a lot of difference. He put a medium size Perfection in for Donald Vought and it really worked too. When you buy Perfection you buy the best in oil heaters. I have never, in the 6 years I have sold Perfection, had a customer say, that stove you sold me is no good! Ask anyone who has a Perfection.

United Appeal Goes Over the Top With Total of $5,480,066

The United Appeal went over-the-top by nearly $95,000 when $5,474,953 was reported at the Victory Dinner, October 30. The five-county Cincinnati area goal was $5,480,066 to support 116 Community Chest agencies and 16 services of the Red Cross. Northern Kentucky reported $284,605 for 95.1%.

All but three of the 16 divisions of the United Appeal reported more than 100 percent of quota. The United Appeal covers Boone, Campbell, Clermont, Hamilton, and Kenton counties.

At the Victory Dinner, held at the Netherlands Hilton Hotel, Davis told more than 1,000 campaigners that, "This United Appeal victory is a ringing tribute to our great five-county area—truly a community with a large heart and a sensitive conscience. This impressive victory is another mighty convincing proof that the united way is the happy way and also the best way to raise money for community services."

"My own heart overflows," Davis stated. "This report climaxes the most rewarding personal experience of my life. I want to express my everlasting thanks to each member of our determined volunteer team of 30,000 campaigners, to every individual and company who made a pledge and to all others who had a part in the total effort. In all respects it has been a total team and total community triumph."

Governor Has New Plan to Blacktop County Roads

Governor A. B. Chandler has announced plans to blacktop about 4,600 miles of state-maintained county roads. Cost of blacktopping these roads, now mainly gravel or rock surfaced, was estimated by the governor at $37,000,000.

The new plan calls for completion of the blacktopping, if possible, before the governor leaves office in December, 1957.

Chandler said the plan is a continuation of the rural highway program he launched in 1936 during his first term as governor. The governor's new plan would be approved by the legislature. Commissioner J. B. Wells to handle the new program and push it toward completion.

The governor said no estimate had been made of funds that might be available for the program from the federal government but added "we will take any we can get."

Wells said most of the money would come from rural secondary road funds, collected at the rate of two cents a gallon on motor fuel sold in Kentucky, and from departmental funds expected to be freed by sale of state bonds to help Kentucky match federal road aid.

Chandler commented on the blacktopping plan that "this is one of the blessings we promised the people they could expect from passage of the road bonds." Kentuckians in November, 1956, approved issuance of $100,000,000 worth of road bonds by a margin of about 6-1.

BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Gifts of God

Lesson for November 10, 1957

THE tiny patch of Paul's letter printed in most Sunday school quarterlies this week is not nearly enough to give the full idea of what he meant to teach on our subject. For this, the three whole chapters should be read. The reader will please notice that the famous chapter 12 is tied in both to the chapter before and the one following. However, there's enough in the first baker's dozen of verses in chapter 12 to give any one food for thought.

Dr. Foreman

Every Christian Has a Gift

The problem in the Corinthian church, to which these three chapters turn our attention, was the matter of "spiritual gifts." Some of the church members had some rather spectacular gifts like working miracles or speaking with tongues; others were good at administrative jobs, and so on. Everybody with a special gift was inclined to look on his own as a mark of God's favor, something that set him "a cut above" other Christians. All these people combined to despise the poor ordinary run-of-mine Christian, who in Corinth (as in your own home church) had no special gift at all. Coming out to church once a week, and staying awake, was about all that could be expected of him.

Paul points out, in effect, that every Christian has some gift of the Holy Spirit. Well, what about these church-goers who don't seem to have anything special about them? Paul would be asked, "No one can say Jesus is Lord" except by the Holy Spirit," Paul says. Now that is the mark of all true Christians, that they accept and confess Jesus as their Lord. Every child, every new member, from the humblest unskilled worker right up to the President of the United States, on entering full church membership is required to acknowledge Jesus as Lord. Now, says Saint Paul, whenever that is said sincerely, there is evidence of the work of the Holy Spirit. You may call this the Grace of Believing, or the Grace of Confession; whatever you call it, it is a gift of the Holy Spirit.

For the Common Good

There are two wrong notions, among others, about gifts of the Holy Spirit, against which Paul sets the simple truth. One of these notions is that gifts of the Holy Spirit are bound to be something sensational, miraculous, spectacular. On the contrary, the truth is that the Spirit's presence is shown by such simple things as confessing Christ as Lord, or teaching, or simply having faith. The other notion is that if I have a spiritual gift, something supernatural, direct from on high, that is a sign of special favor to ME; that the gift is mainly to benefit myself. On the contrary, Paul points out, "to each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good." (That is the R.S.V. translation of verse 7.) Any gift of the Spirit is like money put into our hands to be used for some good cause, if we keep it, hoard it or use it selfishly, we are bad trustees.

One Spirit, Many Gifts

Why doesn't the coming of the Holy Spirit into people's lives affect them all alike? Why all the variety of gifts that Paul mentions? Well, the reason is not hard to see; all these gifts are needed, in the church and outside. But one thing Paul emphasizes is that there is only one Spirit, and that all spiritual gifts, even the "humblest," are divine gifts. No one has any right to look down on any other Christian, certainly not if the other Christian is using "for the common good" the gift God gave him. A man complained to D. L. Moody, a not too well educated but very successful 19th century evangelist, that his grammar was bad. "Brother," said Moody, "you've got plenty of grammar. What are you doing for the Lord with it?"

No one should read the 12th chapter of I Corinthians without reading straight on into the 13th, which brings all this to a point. No matter what a person's gifts may be,—they can be miraculous as moving mountains,—one and all, if there is no love in the heart the most gifted Christian is a Zero, no Christian at all. It is love that gives life to all else.

TIED!

Maybe no one has ever actually bound your wrists with a rope. But haven't you, at times, felt as if you were literally hand tied? You struggle and strain with your problems and anxieties, and you are completely unable to get free.

Such moments come to everyone, and they are not easy to face. It's simple to be serene when things are going well. But when your hands are tied—when you feel helpless, even hopeless—then you begin to realize life cannot be lived alone.

It's then that you know how important Faith is—how it is something you absolutely must have. With Faith to sustain you, you inevitably begin to see your way out. Without it, you flounder.

Turn to the Church—not just because you are troubled, but because it can give you spiritual freedom.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in our search for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsberry

$50,000 A Year:

Colonel James B. Davis of Kentucky is holding down a job worth $50,000 a year in salary.

That's the view of an insurance company expert. But Davis, native of Covington and a lawyer in the Air Force, isn't getting anything like that price.

Colonel Davis is chairman of the Claims Division under the judge advocate general.

His Job:

It's his job to see that any damage done by the Air Force is settled—on air crash, automobile accident, or just routine damage done by Air Force personnel in any part of the wide, wide world.

Say a plane crashes on Okinawa. Local Air Force officers try to pay for the injury. But it's up to Kentuckian Davis to give the final okay—or instruct his junior officers to try again.

Was ROTC Officer:

Colonel Davis, like so many others, got into the service via the ROTC at the University of Kentucky where he graduated in 1932. At first he tried the practice of law in Covington, but war clouds gathered over Europe and Uncle Sam grabbed Lt. Davis.

Duty in several parts of the United States and another stint in Alaska preceded his assignment to the Pentagon. He lives now in Chevy Chase, Md., with his wife, the former Katherine Ross of Earl Thomas, and two children.

Among Friends:

Colonel Davis is not exactly waiting for Kentucky company while on duty in the Capital.

Colonel Alvin Walling, the "city manager" of Washington, and Colonel Jack E. Wert are among his Covington High School and U. K. classmates who now call this area home.

Colonel Wert is in the Air Force and is currently on a long assignment straightening out some military accounting problems.

The United States has 2,770 soil conservation districts, 93 percent of the farms in districts, 18 states and to territories completely covered and about 14,000 volunteer workers serving as elected supervisors, says the Soil Conservation Service.

The USDA estimates that by the year 2000, there will be only 1.6 acres of agricultural land per person in the U. S. It is now 2.2 acres.

Lawns Should Be Fertilized Now Says Co. Agent

Many home owners feel that by November practically all lawn work is over for the year. This is a serious mistake because there are many things that must be done of the grounds are to look good for next year. The lawn should be kept clipped until the crabgrass has been killed by frosts or even a heavy freeze.

Now is the time to fertilize the lawn. A good high grade complete fertilizer such as an 8-8-8 or higher analysis, should be applied at the rate of 15 pounds to each 1,000 sq. feet of surface. Tobacco stalks, if laid in a regular pattern and placed about 6 inches apart are also excellent to supply badly needed food to the lawn.

Now is a good time to care for flowers which the frost has killed. The stems should be cut off about 2 inches above the ground and removed. Insects and diseases may live over winter on these dead tops if they are allowed to remain on the flower beds. The dead tops should not be pulled off because this often injures the roots of these plants.

Most perennials and bulbs will benefit by having some kind of a mulch on the ground to prevent alternate freezing and thawing during the winter. This mulch may be of old hay or straw, or perhaps small branches cut from trees and shrubs with a few leaves scattered over them. This mulch should never be too deep, one or two inches is enough.

Since the purpose of the mulch is to prevent alternate freezing and thawing to the ground, it should not be applied until after the ground has frozen hard. Then while the ground is in this condition, the mulch is applied and it will help to keep the ground frozen, states Glen McCormack, Assistant County Agent, Boone County.

Kentucky Briefs—

Pikeville with its long narrow streets is surrounded by thickly timbered countryside that ranges from the hilly to the mountainous, with neighboring roads that reveal scenes of wild, almost breathtaking beauty.

Prestonsburg, the oldest settlement in the Big Sandy Valley, was first known as Preston Station, named for Col. John Preston, surveyor from Augusta County, Virginia, who camped there in 1791.

The "moonbow" is a natural phenomenon which Cumberland Falls shares with only one other falls in the world. It is visible in the mist over the scenic Kentucky falls when there is a bright moon.

Paintsville, in Johnson county, was named for Paint Creek which early settlers found many large trees striped of their bark and embellished with drawings of birds and animals, painted in red and black on the smooth undergrowth of the trees.

Ghent, in Carroll county, was founded in 1809 by 13 families from the Rappahannock River region of Virginia, and named by Henry Clay for the Belgian city where the peace treaty between the United States and Great Britain was signed. The International Apple Association estimates the total crop at 118,812,000 bushels of apples, 14 percent above a year ago.

Raw cauliflower provides twice as much vitamin C as the same amount of cauliflower when it is cooked.

If honey crystallizes, place the container in a pan of hot water until the crystals disappear.

Hughes Chapel WSCS

The Hughes Chapel W.S.C.S. met October 16 for its regular monthly meeting, at the home of Mrs. Clarence Struve.

According to custom a noon-day pot-luck meal preceded the afternoon program. The program subject was, "Our Home Mission Centers and Race," and was led by Mrs. Ross Kite. A main purpose was to stimulate appreciation and enthusiasm for what some of our home mission centers are accomplishing in helping to Christianize race relationships. The program was an introduction to the interdenomination home missions study on the theme, "Christ, the Church, the Race."

Scripture from Ephesians 4:4-6 was read by spiritual life leader, Mrs. Clarence Struve. Mrs. Pearl Bedinger and Mrs. Lula Hudson led in prayer. Emphasis was on some of the home mission centers of the Woman's Division of Christian Service, which are serving persons of many different cultural backgrounds and races, and groups almost all Negro or Indian. These projects include schools, homes, hospitals, settlement houses in towns and cities, and rural community centers in many states of the Union and in the territories.

Business session included secretary report of last meeting, which was held at home of Mrs. Joe Wood.

Treasurer's report was given and collection taken.

The November meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Elsha Allen, at Beaver.

Regular session was followed with observance of Week of Prayer, with Mrs. Kidwell in charge. Mrs. John Rice was a guest.

Cook; two sisters, Mrs. Maude Gamble of Springfield, Ohio, and Mrs. Frances Long of Cincinnati; four brothers, Henry R., Harold D., Edward and L. H. ## Record School Construction Program in Kentucky

Officials in Frankfort believe that the present school building upsurge in Kentucky will continue for at least two more years.

School construction during the 1956-57 period reached an all-time record high of $31,687,395, Department of Education records show. The year before the total was $14,491,597. The rise came the first year the Foundation Program was fully financed by an additional 20 million dollars appropriation by the 1956

General Assembly.

Before this, State support to the schools was determined on the number of school-age children in a district. Now, the Commonwealth gives a local district $400 for each classroom unit for building purposes, in addition to all other benefits.

During the 1956-57 term, 746 new classrooms were built and 219 were built or leased on a temporary basis. Construction of 750 more classrooms is expected this year.

State officials believe the 30 million dollar a year level will continue for at least two more years.

WHITES TOWER

Bob Mothis of Camp Hungry shipped part of his herd of fine beef cattle last week and that kind brings the top price on any market. His partner, Tommy Brumblach, stored in the profits and is all set for Xmas.

Chas. Dorsey had a number of visitors Sunday at the farm to see his prize corn and hogs for which Bide-A-Wee is famous.

Mrs. Schulz of McMillan Drive, was a visitor of the wife of this writer Saturday evening.

Business in the Xmas card and novelty goods is booming since our little ad in our paper. Don't miss out, stop and see, we will show you if you are from Missouri!

The leaves on the trees are beautiful at this time of year but when they are falling in your yard they don't look so good to the man who has to get rid of them. But everything has its uses and I guess they are good to mulch your flower beds and roses, as everything has its uses as the Old Master has provided.

We invite all our old customers and friends to stop at Bide-A-Wee farm in the next two weeks. You will be glad you did.

Zero Temperature Retains Food Quality

Frozen foods that are to be kept at top quality should be stored at zero degree temperature, according to research done at the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Miss Elizabeth Helton, UK foods specialist, notes that some foods, including most meats, poultry and vegetables, are frozen solid at about 26 degrees, but they keep best at a much lower temperature. In general, they lose as much quality in a few hours at 25 to 30 degrees as they would lose in months at zero degrees. Once the food has lost quality, there is no way of regaining it.

Miss Helton explained that researchers first analyze a newly frozen product for such quality factors as vitamin content, flavor, color and texture. Then they compare different methods of processing and storage to find which ones help the food to maintain its quality.

Drive it on America's new Interstate System highways

New-type, sound-conditioned concrete will still be fun to drive in '75

Not a "thump" to be heard on this continuous-laid concrete. It's almost like riding above the pavement, instead of on it. Sound-conditioned concrete has no joints... only tiny, sawed cushion spaces. You skin over them and don't know it! "Air-entrainment" prevents surface roughening, keeps concrete smooth. Laid flat, new-type concrete stays flat and will last 60 years and more.

The Interstate System is planned for the traffic of 1975... when concrete laid today will still be "new" and fun to drive.

Built-in safety

for Kentucky highways

The grainy texture of new-type concrete retains skids even when wet. No unevenness, no "fighting the wheel." It reflects light, too. You see up to 4 times better at night on light-colored concrete than on a dark surface.

Farm Facts

by Wm. C. Johnstone
AGRICULTURAL REPRESENTATIVE
KENTUCKY BANKERS' ASSOCIATION

GRAIN SORGHUM—Last summer we grew our first crop of grain sorghum on our farm in Todd county and, from many standpoints, it was very successful. We found the crop easy and cheap to grow. Seed costs are low—less than a dollar an acre—and the yield in our case was better than corn. It averaged over 100 bushels to the acre. Grain sorghum withstands a lot of dry weather and the feed value is about equal to corn. It is undoubtedly a good crop to have for drought insurance.

On the other hand it has characteristics which will prevent it from becoming an important crop on many Kentucky farms and prospective growers should recognize its disadvantages as well as its advantages. One of its greatest handicaps seem to be the difficulty in harvesting and storing during wet seasons, such as we some times have in Kentucky. Unlike corn that can be harvested and stored under a wide variety of conditions, sorghum, with few exceptions, has to be harvested with power equipment and stored in tight bins with forced ventilation or heat. It is, to say the least, difficult to harvest and store in wet weather. Furthermore, the plants are susceptible to aphids and the corn ear worms often do much damage to the gain, sometimes cutting the yield in half.

All in all, grain sorghum seems suitable as a supplement for corn on large farms where combines and metal storage bins are available. And even then it should be used as a supplement for only a part of the corn crop and not as a substitute for all of it.

GREENER PASTURES—I remember a few years ago how brown and barren the fields over most of Kentucky looked from early October, when lespedeza matured, until late spring when redtop, cheat and other plants started their growth. It was only in the bluegrass country that people really knew the full meaning of "winter pastures." Now, one is impressed as he travels over the state how green Kentucky fields are during the fall, winter and early spring.

Kentucky 31 fescue has brought about a marvellous change in the looks of things, but best of all, it reduces erosion, improves the tilth of the soil and furnishes an enormous amount of grazing throughout most of the year. Farmers who have learned to grow it in combination with clovers and lespedeza find it one of the most dependable pasture crops in the state. Fescue has a wide adaptability as to soil type and the seed are relatively cheap which add to its many other advantages.

Broccoli is a good source of vitamins A and C. It contains iron, calcium and phosphorus, too.

One bushel of fall apples yields from 3½ to 4 gallons of cider.

Honor Club Has 243 Members Now

Last year the Honor Club was organized. We had a total of approximately 120 members. This year we have approximately 123 new members. Our total of members is 243.

We have tried to promote honor throughout our school as well as the neighboring schools. Our goal is to educate the heart as well as the mind. A good education is very necessary, but it would be of little help to you unless you possess honor.

Perhaps you may define honor as we do, "A fine sense of what is just and right with readiness to apply it to one's own conduct in relation to others. It should be lived every day—everywhere. May we ever strive together to reach our goal."

The Honor Club had a Chapel program, October 9, Richard Bailey, President of the Honor Club presided. Alice Works led the audience in singing. Mr. Reed gave a short talk about the good work the Honor Club is evidently doing.

We are buying an ad for the annual of 1958. Each member is to help pay for the ad.

Anyone wishing to join the Honor Club should contact our advisor, Mrs. Saunders.

Attend Student Council Convention

The officers and members of the Student Council had a wonderful experience last Monday when they attended the Kentucky State Student Council Convention at Henry Clay High School in Lexington.

The delegates who went were Joyce Moffett, Dottie Cain, Marty Williams, Ronnie Coleman and Ronnie Guttridge. Under the guidance of Mrs. Hinsdale.

The officers and members had a good time and brought back a lot of good ideas for the Simon Kenton Student Council.

The five delegates that went to the convention led a panel discussion on "How To Improve Student and Faculty Relationships."

The next convention will be held at Butler High School. We urge all Juniors to plan to go.

The officers of the Simon Kenton Student Council are Joyce Moffett, president; Ronnie Guttridge, vice-president; Dottie Cain, secretary; Marty Williams, treasurer and John Ashcraft, reporter.

Senior Y-Teens Membership Up

The Simon Kenton Y-Teens have had several interesting meetings this year. Some of the meetings were reports on Highlakes, Girls' State, and Fall Conference. Our newly-elected officers for this year are:

President, Jean Elliott
Vice President, Becky Wilcoxson
Secretary, Joyce Moffett
Co. Secretary, Jackie Sipple
Treasurer, Alice Faye Works
Reporter, Nikki Parsons
Worship Chairman, Sandy Setters
Song Leader, Jackie Cain

This year we have the largest membership ever, with 30. The girls have attended the Fall Conference and the U. K. football game. We are planning to take programs to several different homes, to have a banquet, and to have a tea on December 3. With our large membership, we feel this will be the best year for the Y-Teens.

The Y-Teens of the Northern Area held their annual Fall Conference this year at Carrollton High School, Saturday, October 2. In the morning session, Dr. Ralph Couey, guest speaker, gave an interesting talk. We then divided into three discussion groups. Mrs. O. B. Rice led a group on "Growth of a Person," Mrs. Jack Buster led a group on "Growth in Friendship," and Mrs. M. J. Hampton led a group on "Growth in God." There was a box lunch in the school cafeteria with 180 girls present at the meeting.

In the afternoon session four of the seven clubs had stunts. The spring conference is to be held at Butler State Park, and the officers will be: President, Mary Jo Atkins, Boone County; vice president, Donna Wright, Walton-Verona; secretary, Jane Graham, Carrollton; treasurer, Mary Evelyn Pierce, Margan; Song leader, Jackie Cain, Simon Kenton, and publicity chairman, Linda Morris, Butler. We are very proud to have an officer from Simon Kenton this year. Knowing Jackie Cain, we feel she will do an excellent job as song leader.

The Walton-Verona Y-Teens are the most recently organized of the clubs in the Northern Area. We are very happy to welcome them and hope to be of some help.

Teen-Age Book Club
Simon Kenton's four periods of the ninth grade English class have started a Teen-Age Book Club, and have elected officers for each period.

A FEDERAL LAND BANK LOAN

can make...

YOUR LOAD lighter, TOO!

—ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS—

- Q. For what purpose can I get a loan?
A. Loans may be made for any agricultural purpose and other requirements of the owner, some of which are:
To purchase farm real estate;
To refinance mortgages and other indebtedness;
To pay family living expenses;
To make improvements to land and buildings;
To provide a home for the owner or members of his family;
To purchase livestock and equipment.
- Q. What security is required?
A. Land bank loans must be secured by first mortgages on farm land. Loans are not made on the current sale value of farms but are based on normal agricultural value as determined by a land bank appraiser.
- Q. What is this normal value?
A. Normal value is defined as "the amount a typical purchaser, would, under usual conditions, be willing to pay and be justified in paying for the property for customary agricultural uses, including farm home advantages, with the exception of receiving normal net earnings from the farm and from other dependable sources." Generally speaking, normal values are long term values established for the purpose of making long term loans on a basis that will avoid overvaluing in peak periods and undervaluing in depression periods.
- Q. What is the repayment plan?
A. A land bank loan is made on an amortization plan. The payments include interest on the unpaid balance and such amounts to be applied on the principal as will pay off the debt within the term for which it is written.
- Q. What is the term of the loan?
A. Loans may be made for terms of 5 to 40 years. The most common terms are 20, 33 and 35 years. The objective is to fix the term of the loan to the debt paying capacity of the borrower and his farm. Renewals are no longer necessary.
- Q. Can you pay extra principal payments?
A. A borrower may repay part or all his loan ahead of time if he is able and wishes to do so. There is absolutely no penalty for doing this. The land bank will also accept payments to be set aside and applied to future installments at the direction of the borrower.
- Q. What is the rate of interest?
A. The interest rate on land bank loans is the lowest generally available to farmers from any lender treating all its borrowers alike as to interest rate. Being cooperatively owned by the farmers it serves, and being the largest lender in the farm mortgage field, enables the land bank to "set the pace" in low cost farm loans. Any farmer obtaining a land bank loan at the current low rate knows his rate cannot go higher throughout the life of the loan.
- Q. What is the cost of obtaining a land bank loan?
A. There is no charge for either an application or appraisal. The applicant is required to furnish satisfactory evidence of title and pay recording fees. The charge for making a title report is a matter between the applicant and the attorney or title company that prepares the title evidence. There is no charge for its examination by the Federal Land Bank.
- Q. How do I get a land bank loan?
A. By contacting the secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan Association serving the area in which your farm is located and making application. He will have the farm appraised and take other steps necessary to complete the loan.

ANNOUNCING

Perfection's newest... smartest home heater
THE CONSOLAIRE

CUT YOUR OIL BILLS 30% TO 50% WITH Perfection Guaranteed Comfort since 1888

This beautiful new oil heater with smooth, table top can be put in any room.

Made to heat all your rooms comfortably. A new idea in heating, all the heat pours from the front. Midget Pilot means you use less fuel. Burns over 40 hours on a gallon of oil.

Only oil heater with 10-year burner guarantee!

Perfection Oil Heaters

Today, Brewster and Red put down a new 12x12 linoleum rug for Mrs. Gertrude Daniels, then put down new linoleum on the kitchen for Miss Emma Jane Miller. Mrs. Daniels has rented Miss Miller's apartment; then Brewster went out to Boone Lake to repair Tom Watson's two oil heaters; then up to Claude Norman's house on Edwards Avenue to put in new window glass. Ross went down and put up new stove pipe for Sleet West. Today we received more New Perfection fuel oil heaters—Perfection is closing out several warehouses and I bought these heaters at a bargain and will sell them that way. Always remember, Perfection is the best!

We have so many to call us that they are having heater troubles, but very seldom is it a Perfection heater, because Perfection has a flexible clean-out rod all the way to the burner, which keeps the fuel line clean, also Perfection has no metal rings in the burner to burn out, like other oil heaters. It has a different burner with a pilot light and uses less oil. When you buy Perfection you buy the best, just like a Warm Morning coal heater, they are the best, and I have oil models. Dr. Bachmeyer, our veterinarian, bought a lot of Durapone storm window covering to put on his back porch.

We sold lots of weatherstrip and window screen glass. We sell lots of Flexiglass because it is cheap, but the screen glass lasts much longer. Brewster went out to George Hamilton's and repaired his toilet—the fill pipe leaked.

Verona Community Club To Sponsor A Youth Canteen

Verona is only a small community of about 300 people, not a city, but "just a wide place in the road." However, Verona, has a bank, a garage, several stores, a post office, general store, two churches, Verona Lake Ranch, and a Community Club. The club feels proud of its city and people and is going to have its own Christmas Nativity Scene with the big cities. A huge tree will be decorated Christmas week at the club grounds in Verona and the crib scene will be highlighted every evening with choir singing Christmas carols. Everyone is invited to visit and see what a little town can do when the citizens work together to present the "Birth of Christ."

Another new project that the Community Club decided to sponsor at its November 11th meeting is a "Youth Canteen" in Verona on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon of each week. The Club realizes the importance for such a place where folks can gather and where particularly the youngsters can get together for clean, wholesome and entertaining activities. These youngsters will be the future citizens and parents of a greater city to come, and such a canteen now, with proper guidance, will help them become better citizens and parents tomorrow. The canteen will have many activities through the winter, all under adult supervision, such as games, dancing, plays, field trips to places of interest, and encouragement in the interests and talents of the children. The support of all citizens of Verona is asked to carry forth the aims of the Club to make Verona a better community and to help to grow.—Pub. ch.

These Plans Only Tentative, However

Walton is tentatively proposed as the "key point" in the new six-lane expressway, it was announced this week by Kentucky Highway engineers and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. From here, the proposed interstate highways to Louisville and Lexington would begin. Both are planned as four-lane divided highways.

Florence, heretofore planned as the terminus of the Kenton County Expressway, is approximately 13 miles from Covington, while Walton is about 23 miles out.

Tentative plans—and Kentucky engineers emphasize they are tentative even to the point that they might be changed drastically later—would send the Lexington route along the general route of U. S. 25 but would leave this at Georgetown and circle to the east of Lexington, where it would cross U. S. 60, also on the interstate system.

The Louisville route would run direct from Walton to Louisville on a straight line, and part of the present U. S. 42. It would pass near Glencoe, Sanders, Campbellsburg and LaGrange.

A triangle would be formed by Interstate, S. 60, which would run from Louisville to Lexington, south of Frankfort.

Tobacco Still Dominates State Farm Cash Income

Tobacco still dominates Kentucky farm crops cash-income-wise, providing 41.3 percent of the total crop income in 1956, the Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service pointed out this week. This all-crop income was $302,149,000.

Using figures furnished by the USDA's agricultural marketing service, the Service pointed out the following for Kentucky's grand total of $555,249,000 cash in 1956.

Tobacco, 41.3 percent, $228,546,000; corn, 5.1 percent, $28,449,000; wheat, 1.5 percent, $8,458,000; soybeans, 1 percent, $5,820,000, and hay, fescue seed, bluegrass seed, lespedeza seed, potatoes, popcorn, orchard grass seed, tomatoes, sirup, fruits and nuts, forest and greenhouse-nursery products, the remainder, $30,876,000.

Livestock and livestock products percentage-wise topped tobacco as an income-producer. The total in this category was $253,100,000. Of this, cattle and calves were worth $81,087,000, or 14.7 percent of the total. Dairy products were worth $78,732,000, or 14.2 percent of the total; hogs were worth $45,763,000, or 8.2 percent of the total. Eggs, sheep and lambs, broilers, chickens, wool, turkeys and other livestock made up the remaining $47,518,000.

Kentucky ranked 21st in cash receipts from farm marketings in 1956 as compared to 20th in 1955. In livestock, she was 19th highest of the 48 states, and 17th in crops. Income from government payments to Kentucky farmers as 16.6 million dollars, 12th highest among the states.

Center of Faith

Lesson for November 17, 1957

WHERE is the center of Christian faith? What is it that if we don't believe, we can hardly believe anything else? Every one would agree that the center of Christian faith is Christ. The religion called by his name is not by any means first of all philosophy, a collection of ideas, a system of thought, a set of rituals. It is first of all a Person, and then it is the lives of other persons who have been touched by this Person. But what is central about Jesus? His virgin birth? His teaching? His cross? His character? No where in the New Testament is his birth mentioned except in two Gospels, so we have no reason to say that the early Church considered his birth, or the manner of it, highly important. His teaching is referred to in most epistles, but only in a rather sketchy way. We have to go back to the Gospels to find what Jesus taught. Much stress was laid on the cross by the early Church, but even this takes second place.

Central for the Church

In the Greek New Testament, in the part outside the Gospels, —that is, the part that contains the early Christian preaching and teaching—there are 11 specific references to Christ's cross and nine to the crucifixion—a total of twenty. On the other hand there are eight references to the resurrection of Christ, and the expression "God raised him from the dead" or equivalent phrases, will be found 32 times—a total of forty. From the data we have in our New Testaments, therefore, we can say that the resurrection loomed twice as large, in the mind of the early Church, as did the crucifixion. Paul in his Corinthian letter uses the words meaning "of first importance" about Christ's crucifixion and resurrection; but he dwells on the resurrection at much greater length, as any reader can see for himself.

Central for Faith

Consider what the situation would be if Christ had not risen from the dead. In the first place, we should not have had the Church. It is on record that the disciple forsook the crucified Jesus, but the risen Christ drew their strongest and undying loyalty. It was the resurrection that changed a band of timid men, even cowards, into the beginnings of a mighty army to overspread the earth.

Someone asked a French statesman what it would take to start a new religion. Very simple, said the old man. Just get yourself crucified and then rise from the dead!

If Christ had not risen, what would be remembered of him? Some of his teachings very likely; but there would be no essential difference between him and other teachers of the past. If Christ had not risen, we might have admired his thoughts and the way he expressed them. The risen Christ challenges more than admiration,—devotion. More than once in the New Testament the resurrection appears also as the one single event more than any other, which carried the first Christians' minds to heights of faith.

His Life and Ours

Men did not arrive at belief in Christ's deity by pondering the crucifixion, rather by meditating on the resurrection. It is the resurrection that gives the crucifixion its meaning.

Besides all this, it is clear in the New Testament that the resurrection of Christ is our best way of understanding what our own destiny will be. There is a great deal we do not understand about this. Not all the New Testament together answers all our questions. But Paul sees the Easter story as so important that if it had not happened our whole faith is vain. Furthermore, the best reason for believing that death will not make an end of Christ's people is that death did not make an end of him. If he went on living, changed yet the same, so we may believe that after this present life is over and our work here done, we too, in ways of which only God knows the secret, will go on living, changed,—bearing "the image of the man of heaven"—yet still our very selves with the weakness and the darkness gone, imperishable and victorious, sharing his conquest of death.

HOW SMALL, YET HOW BIG

How small a man seems—walking down a lonely road on a rainy day, with gaunt trees towering over him.

How small man is, and how frail in body. The trees in the picture and even the chimneys on the old house will probably long outlive the man.

Yet how big man is—in the things that are not of the body, but are of the mind and soul. God has not made man mammoth. But He has made him potentially great—if he will but accept the blessings given him, and use the tools of Christian teachings.

Man finds in the Church, the encouragement and the instruction to enable him to make from his God-given divine spark something great and enduring—and of benefit to all human-kind.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a warehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Federal Funds Are Cut Back In Some Divisions, Huffman

Due to recent congressional cut-backs in the use of Federal funds for certain governmental programs the Animal Disease Eradication Division was curtailed from its original appropriation, according to Mahlon B. Huffman, Assistant Veterinarian in charge, State Animal Disease Eradication Division, Frankfort.

The Federal-State brucellosis program had by September 1, 1957, reached a very satisfactory degree of acceleration. Many people in Kentucky were asking for the free test and were disposing of their reactors with the benefit of indemnity. Many counties were petitioned to do area work whereby all the cattle in the county were to be tested and when the infection rate became 1% or less in the herds the county would be eligible for certification as a modified bovine brucellosis-free area. Two counties have reached that status in Kentucky to date. They are Rowan and Elliott. Thirteen counties at present are under the area test, and sixteen counties are petitioning for area tests.

Since the Animal Disease Eradication Division's funds have been cut, some changes in the program had to be made to allow for maximum testing and maximum effect from the funds available. The amount of money was reduced to the extent that everyone in the state wanting a free test with the benefit of indemnity could not be given it. It is felt that area testing is the most efficient means of eliminating brucellosis; therefore, Federal funds are being used for this type of program.

The state has as a part of its program the Brucellosis Ring Test which is conducted on milk taken to dairies or producers. The Brucellosis Ring Test is an efficient means of locating suspicious herds to brucellosis. The milk ring test gives us only the herd status. If the herd is suspicious, a herd test must be conducted to determine which animals in the herd are reactors. Since there are many people in the state selling milk for human consumption, it was felt these herds should also be given some priority. Therefore, the testing of Brucellosis Ring Test suspicious herds was incorporated into the program as it stood after October 28, 1957. The state government is paying for the Brucellosis Ring Test. The federal government is paying for all tests conducted under area testing. There is no indemnity paid as a result of reactors found on the Brucellosis Ring Test. Indemnity is paid by the Federal government on reactors found in the counties area testing.

If herd owners are interested in eliminating brucellosis not only from their herd but from their state, it should be their responsibility in getting and maintaining a brucellosis-free herd. This can be done in most instances at the owner's own expense. If a herd owner is outside a county that is area testing or has not had his herd subjected to the Brucellosis Ring Test, he must pay the expense of having his herd tested. This cost is small in comparison to the risk of contracting the disease or to the loss of calves due to abortion.

At the present time the Federal government is paying for tests conducted in the following counties: Adair, Callaway, Casey, Groves, Lewis, Metcalfe, Simpson, Todd, Trigg, Trimble, Warren and Wolfe. At a later time other counties will undoubtedly be declared as they petition, and these counties will be eligible for free testing.

The Brucellosis testing program will be discussed at the annual Artificial Breeding meeting to be held November 19, at the courthouse in Burlington.

Researchers in Iowa found that baby pigs definitely preferred saccharin (a sweet substance without sugar's food value) to sugar itself. In one test baby pigs made their best gains on starter containing a pound of saccharin per ton of ration and no sugar.

Forestry Plan Saves Woodland Owners Money

The Kentucky Division of Forestry is offering woodland owners a co-operative program under which they may make more money from the sale of timber.

Under the plan, described by Director Gene Butcher, the division will aid owners by sending, upon request, a technically trained forester to:

1. Examine condition of woodland.
  2. Recommend improvements.
  3. Prepare a management plan.
  4. Give tree planting advice.
  5. Guide owner toward obtaining financial assistance for forestry work.
- The service is designed to aid owners of less than 500 acres of woodland, Butcher said. The program is based upon the idea that trees are a farm crop, he added.

The director said the only cost is a marking charge of 40 cents a 1,000 board feet for sawtimber and 10 cents a cord for pulpwood when a cutting must be made. After marking is completed, Butcher said, the owner will receive a report giving the number of marked trees and estimated value, a plan for selling the timber and a list of timber buyers.

During cutting and logging operations, Butcher said, a forester, if requested, will make an inspection to be sure the owner is getting the benefit of good forestry practices.

Butcher said that in Leslie county, a farmer was offered $500 for every tree on 38 acres, but after consultation with a forester, only mature trees were marked which sold for $1,000 and left another nice crop. This is only one of many examples of how the service may make money for owners, Butcher said.

Richmond, named for Richmond, Va., and once called a "manufacturing little log village," is an old town with majestic trees bordering the streets and with many dignified old houses. First settled in 1784 by Col. John Miller, Richmond became the seat of Madison county in 1789 and the first court was held in Colonel Miller's barn.

Kentuckian's Income Outgains That Of Nation

The average Kentuckian made greater financial gains between 1950 and 1956 than did the population of the nation as a whole and the 12-state Southeastern region.

The State Department of Economic Development has disclosed that a study of federal government data showed a rise of 38.2 percent in Kentucky's per capita income, from $956 to $1,324, between 1950 and 1956. Only four states in the nation and only one state in the Southeast registered larger increase. The average gains for the nation and the region were 30.1 and 35.6 percent.

Kentucky's per capita income in 1956 represented 68.2 percent of the national average of $1,940, as against 64.3 percent in 1950. The average for the 12 Southeastern states was 70.3 percent last year and 67.7 percent in 1950.

Total personal income in Kentucky last year amounted to $3,995 million, a six-year gain of 40.9 percent, the development agency said. Higher national and regional advances of 43.8 and 45.9 percent were attributed to Kentucky's slower rate of population gain.

State researchers said new and expanded industrial facilities contributed a lion's share to Kentucky's economic growth since 1950. Total manufacturing payrolls jumped from $451 million to $772 million, an increase of 71.2 percent. During the same period, factory wages in the nation and the Southeast increased on average of 57.1 and 57.4 percent.

GET ENGINES READY FOR WINTER WEATHER

Here's how to get your engine-powered equipment ready for cold winter weather, says Kermit Mills, Kentucky Extension Service engineer.

Clean the engine well; clean air cleaner and refill with light oil; service the crankcase, hydraulic system, air cleaner and gear cases with winter lubricants; clean spark plugs, check ignition system and fuel system. Clean cooling system and put in recommended anti-freeze. Use proper seasonal fuel in tank.

Fresh fuel will give better starting in cold weather, if you are using mounted equipment or have the tractor covered for winter work and the fuel tank gets warm. Under these warm conditions, some of the fuel will vaporize and make for harder starting. Refilling the tank each night and running the engine awhile will make it start easier the next morning.

Watch batteries in cold weather. Output for starting drops drastically from 100 percent at 80 degrees F. to 65 percent at 32 degrees F. Freezing weather may damage a low-charged battery beyond repair, too.

Always operate the engine long enough to heat it up and dry it out before you put the vehicle in travel.

West Point in Hardin county, strung along the highway at the confluence of the Salt and Ohio Rivers, is a rambling village founded in 1800. In Young's Inn on Main St., Jenny Lind sang for the crowd gathered in the public room during her tour of 1851.

VALUABLE INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY

KILLED BY STRANGULATION

THIS ADVERTISEMENT was first published in November of last year. Its message in the public interest is equally pertinent today and in response to many requests we are repeating it at this time.

... and a potential taxpayer died, too!

HERE'S SOMETHING for every community to keep in mind when those new multi-billion dollar superhighways are in the planning stage—

Land next to a railroad is often ideally suited for industrial use. Put industries on it and you create new job opportunities and new sources of tax revenue for your community. Everybody benefits!

Under these conditions, this land is a valuable community asset. However, through oversight, this asset can be "killed off" completely and forever by putting a new highway too close to the railroad. For most industry must have easy, economical access to rail service and this is impossible with a highway in between.

The time to protect and preserve this community asset is when the highway is being planned. And it is easy to do. Wherever possible, simply leave an adequate strip of land for industrialization between the existing railroad and the proposed highway. This property immediately becomes doubly attractive to industry—for it then can offer modern rail service on one side and access to a modern highway on the other. You and your community will benefit.

REMINDER GIVEN STATE HUNTERS

Kentucky's waterfowl season opened November 7 and will close January 15. The State Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources had these reminders for hunters.

Shooting ends at sunset each day and the duck limit is four a day with a possession limit of eight after two or more hunting days.

The bag and possession of geese is five of which no more than two can be Canadas or their subspecies. Wood ducks may not be hunted.

All hunters must possess Federal duck stamps which may be obtained from any post office for $2.

Reports received from the major waterfowl hunting areas in the state indicate a large population of ducks and geese has arrived with greater numbers expected as the weather becomes colder.

The Department announced the opening of the Ballard Waterfowl Refuge, November 20.

HIRED FARM WORKERS UNDER NEW SS RULES

Hired farm workers are under different rules this year regarding social security, says Earl Mayhew, Kentucky Extension Service specialist.

Two factors are to be considered in determining if the farmer's hired workers should be reported under Social Security provisions, Mayhew says.

Workers who meet the following factors must be reported: If they receive $150 in cash wages (or more) during the work year; or if a worker is employed 20 days (or more) during the year for cash pay.

"THEY'RE CATCHING ON, BUT THEY CAN'T CATCH UP." That's how lots of people feel about the "new 1958" cars that are trying to match the Dodge Swept-Wing look. These other cars have been lowered some, but still seem high and boxy by comparison. A few are "catching on" to fins, but they're years from "catching up." And the air suspension offered by some cars (at well over $100 extra) can't compare with the sway-free, dip-free ride of Dodge Torsion-Aire (standard equipment on all models). ## No Change!

The House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee has received word that "My Old Kentucky Home" and "Swanee River" will go on the air with no censorship.

The networks gave such assurance following an uproar over a change in the lyrics. "If it is a state song, there will be no change," the broadcast big wigs said.

In reporting plans, one correspondent referred to Stephen Collins Foster as the "southern bard." That's gonna make the folks in Pittsburgh, Foster's home town, mighty mad.

Ho, Hum!

Just like we've been saying, our state has not kept pace with population growth across the nation. The Census Bureau comes up with the latest figures and the average growth in the 48 states is 11 percent. Kentucky has increased about 2 percent, or some 53,000 people. That means we are 9 percent off the pace.

If we don't do something, we're gonna have seven congressmen instead of eight when 1960 rolls around. Somebody is going to be lost in the shuffle.

Farm Prices:

Same old story: Farm purchasing power has dropped two percent. Farm costs remain steady.

That's the song from the Department of Agriculture. Experts insist it's a seasonal decline and that things will be better come January.

The Kentucky farm wife was told that egg prices, however, are highest for the year. But chickens, broilers and turkeys are close to the bottom for 1957.

Back On the Job:

Kentuckians will remember Miss Catherine Hampson, one of the veterans on Capitol Hill. She hails from Lexington and, recently, has been ill. But she's back on the job. Miss Hampson started on the Hill as secretary to Senator Alben Barkley. Then she joined the late Garret Withers and next Earle Clements. She's back on the Clements' staff, aiding the former senator on the Senate Democratic Campaign Committee. And, her Blue Cross friends will be glad to know, she's well and happy.

UK AWARDED GRANT FOR MILK TESTING

The University of Kentucky Dairy Products Laboratory has been granted $5,500 from the American Dairy Association for use in a research project involving the pasteurization of milk under a vacuum.

This type of pasteurization will remove many seasonal flavors from milk, making a more uniform product throughout the year.

Dr. Arthur Rudnick, assistant professor and superintendent of the Dairy Plant, will be in charge of the project. The project will use equipment recently installed in the laboratory as the result of a special $100,000 appropriation by the last legislature.

Catlettsburg along the hills, overlooking the junction of the Big Sandy and Ohio Rivers, is the county seat of Boyd county. The town and nearby Catletts Creek were named for Sweeney Catlett, who came from Virginia in 1808 and established a trading post that, for more than 50 years, served trappers and hunters of the river region.

GET LAYING HOUSES READY FOR WINTER

Get laying houses ready for winter now, says John Tuttle, Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service poultry specialist. Here are things to do:

Keep the houses dry and clean during severe weather; even when the mercury goes far down, houses still need ventilation. To do this, clean and disinfect houses when old hens are sold, scrub ceiling, walls, floor, roosts, nests and waterers with a strong lye solution; spray roosts and nests with used motor oil or any commercial compound for controlling mites and lice. Put no-draft ventilators on windows, and put in additional windows if necessary. Wrap water pipes for protection from freezing; and put a good, deep layer of litter (sawdust, shavings, crushed cobs, etc.) on the floor. Stir it occasionally to keep it dry.

* Add new litter as the old litter gets dirty; the build-up should continue till the litter is 12 inches deep. Stir it once or twice a week to prevent caking. Store extra litter in a clean dry place close by for quick availability.

Layers should go from ranges into the houses when they are in from 10 to 30 percent production. They should be wormed while on range (if needed) and checked for pullorum before being brought in.

Stove Headquarters

Today, we received a shipment of cheap coal and wood heaters. I believe I have the best selection of coal and oil heaters I ever have had; also in wood heaters I have that Ashley wood heater with front door feed, then I have those cast iron Long John wood heaters, also the front door feed sheet iron heaters, and a small top feed wood heater. I have a white enameled cast iron full size coal range, and those 4-coal cast iron cook stoves. A fellow came from other brands but it is quality and the best. I know you carried those." We have most all sizes, from 20" to 30".

When buying an oil heater, don't just buy any oil heater, buy the best, which is Perfection, the only fuel oil heater with a fire bowl guaranteed for ten years. Perfection uses less oil and has a pilot light which, on warm days, you can turn down to pilot and don't have to turn it off. Perfection is no higher than some other brands but it is quality and the best. If it is a heating or cooking stove you want, Conrad has it. This Ashley wood heater with the special automatic draft tube is the best wood heater made. I had calls for them last year but I did not have any.

Today, we received a beautiful white enameled coal range from Athens Stove Works, Athens, Tenn. I have been buying stoves from them for 20 years and they make very good coal ranges. We had no more in and sold her mother wanted a new coal range. We received a shipment of bicycles for Christmas—now is the time to have us put one or two away for you. We have lots of wagons and tricycles, you could have put away for Christmas. We have a large stock of hardware and household supplies.

If you need something in the hardware line, give us a try and save hunting in a lot of other stores for it, because we generally have it. Gelbert Ferguson and I sold her mother wanted a new coal range. We received a shipment of bicycles for Christmas—now is the time to have us put one or two away for you. We have lots of wagons and tricycles, you could have put away for Christmas. We have a large stock of hardware and household supplies.

We are still having our customers calling in that

Plans for March Of Dimes Drive Are Announced

Plans for a $44,900.00 March of Dimes drive next January, primarily to support a massive rehabilitation program for thousands of disabled polio victims, was announced today by Mrs. R. J. Schweinle, chairman, Boone County, on her return from a meeting in Cincinnati, Ohio with top leaders of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Mrs. Schweinle said that the 1958 March of Dimes would be conducted chiefly for the care and rehabilitation of the thousands of post-acute polio patients in the United States who whom "survival is not enough." She said that dramatic new advances in the field of rehabilitation now make it possible for many persons whose horizons once stretched no further than a wheel chair or an iron lung to return a useful daily living.

Modern rehabilitation can benefit one out of three of the 300,000 people alive today who have had polio and are not already provided for, Mrs. Schweinle said.

"We cannot allow these handicapped people to be cast aside, to live out their lives helplessness," she declared. "We must bring them back into the community and into its life."

Mrs. Schweinle said that in addition to the costly patient care program, the March of Dimes will seek continued support of its professional education program which has already given training of many varieties to more than 6,000 doctors, nurses, therapists and other professional workers.

Virus research and professional education programs will be major factors in whatever rehabilitation organization undertakes in the future. But we will embark on a new program only when the polio job no longer claims all our time and funds.

KENDALL SMITH

On October 25th, Miss Carol Linda Kendall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kendall of South Main street, Walton, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles R. Smith of Owensboro, Kentucky, son of Mrs. Roy Smith Jr. of Tampa, Fla.

The impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. R. F. DeMolay of Walton. The occasion was unusual as it was the 30th wedding anniversary of the bride's parents, and Rev. DeMolay had also performed that ceremony.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. James Thornton Vest. Other guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Emma Grim, and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Rouse.

"Religions of The World" Is Topic at Literary Club Meet

Morgan of the Pensacola Conference, continued undefeated by downing Simon Kenton, 54-43, at Independence.

Walton Churches To Have Team In "Y" Church League

This coming Saturday, November 23, will be the opening day for the Tri-City (Florence, Erlanger and Elmer) Y.M.C.A. Church Basketball League.

The Walton Baptist, Methodist, and Christian Churches have combined to form a team which will represent Walton in the Senior Department of the league. This will be Walton's first year in this league.

All games will be played at the Burlington gym on Saturday afternoons. The league will be composed of eight teams, thus necessitating four games each week, with the first contest starting at 1:30 p. m.

The following players will make up the Walton team: Don Reese, Stormy Linton, Layne Cheesman, Buddy Grubbs, Charles Roberts, Roderick Russell, Alvin Lawrence, Charles Simpson, Don Menke, Albert Wood, and Roy Mercer. Gene Roberts will handle the coaching job.

Clear the tracks! Sound the whistle! Open the throttle! It's full speed ahead... come Monday, December 2, for the B&O model trains in the lobby of The Cincinnati Gas & Electric Company, 4th and Main Streets.

For the twelfth consecutive year, the B&O model trains will "lay over" in the C.G.E. lobby during the holiday season to bring Christmas cheer to young and old alike. The lobby will be open from 9 a. m. until 4:45 p. m., Monday through Saturday. The exhibit will close Tuesday, December 31.

This year the C.G.E. train show, which has become a traditional part of Christmas for Greater Cincinnati, will feature the "O" gauge, generally regarded as the finest "O" gauge system to be seen anywhere in the United States. The exhibit, which measures 16x48 feet, is an exact, scaled-down reproduction of the "Magnolia Cut-off" on the Cumberland Division of the B&O. Structures and buildings are faithful reproductions of the actual buildings along that section of the B&O right of way.

The system operates by color position light signals and demonstrates how three tracks are utilized to perform the work of four. The B&O miniature railroad will be operated by a crew of highly skilled technicians from the staff of the B&O Transportation Museum in Baltimore.

Every child who attends the train exhibit in the C.G.E. lobby will receive a papermint stick and a colorful miniature light-bulb Santa Claus. While Dad and the kids are watching the trains, Mom can get some valuable gift suggestions from the many electrical gift items on display as well as advice on home decorating at the Ann Holiday center in the lobby.

The young, and the young-at-heart, will enjoy visiting the C.G.E. lobby to see the B&O miniature trains and the many other holiday features.

Sorry to have missed writing this column for a couple of weeks, but we were sick with the flu and didn't get out to hear any news. However everyone has recovered and things in the neighborhood are back to normal.

Marilyn Sue Jarger had her tonsils removed Nov. 8 and Fran Thompson will have hers removed on Nov. 22.

Mrs. Russell Yates went to Gallipolis, Ohio to visit her husband for a few days, leaving her daughter, Linda to look after the farm animals. Of course the pigs had to pick that time to root down the fence, and Linda had to spend all Saturday afternoon chasing down the pigs and geese and repairing the fence. As of now, if Linda never sees another pig or goose she will be happy.

The Annie Allen Circle of Oak Ridge Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Jesse Bailey on Nov. 14th. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Robert Butte. A Thanksgiving devotional based on the 100th Psalm was led by Mrs. Jack King. Following the business session Mrs. Chester Tallent taught the 1957-58 year Book. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to Mrs. Robert Butte, Mrs. Jack King, Mrs. Chester Tallent, Mrs. Charles Asch, Mrs. Harold Lipscomb, Mrs. Sid Richardson, Mrs. Eugene Gatewood, Mrs. Guy King, Mrs. Edward Rust, Mrs. Reese Kennedy. Special guests present, were Mrs. Russell Yates and Mrs. Payne.

The fall festival at Taylor Mill School on Nov. 16th was a great success. Congratulations to Mrs. E. R. Eger and her fine committee who were responsible for it's success.

We were sorry to hear of the fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mardis of Reidlin Road. Everything they had was ruined, either by fire, smoke or water. They are now staying with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wintling on Taylor Mill Pike.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Taylor Mill Volunteer Fire Dept. were well represented at the meeting of the combined Auxiliaries of the Volunteer Fire Depts. of Northern Ky. held at Erlanger last week. The tables were all decorated in the Thanksgiving motif. Mrs. Eugene Tomlin thought so highly of the turkey decorations she bought the one at her place. Those attending from Taylor Mill were Mrs. Floyd Colston, Mrs. Eugene Tomlin, Mrs. Harry Vultrop, Mrs. Howard Mullins, Mrs. Elmer Leo, Mrs. Richard Kron, Mrs. Harold Nitschke, Mrs. Ray McAllister, Mrs. Alvie Cummings, Mrs. Howard Cook, Mrs. Harry Lampe, Mrs. Mary Flannagan, Mrs. William Bosse, Mrs. Ruth Reed.

Mrs. Eugene Tomlin plans to fly to Washington, D. C. over Thanksgiving, to visit her son, Robert.

Carolyn Glass was in the hospital recently but is improved and able to be out again.

Mrs. Frank Ruehneier is a patient at St. Luke's Hospital.

Mrs. Charles Banks is ill at her home. Sylvia Banks was in the hospital for 3 days recently for minor surgery.

Glad to see Mrs. Edith Richardson out of the cast and able to be out again. She will have to wear a back brace as a result of the car accident she was in several weeks ago.

We hear there was a car with several teen agers in it, went over an embankment on Taylor Mill Hill Sunday night.

CARD OF THANKS—

I wish to express my sincere thanks for the prayers, visits, cards and beautiful flowers during my stay in the hospital and at home.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE is the way we Dodge dealers feel about competitors' efforts to match the Sweep-Wing 58. They lowered the roof some, but left the sides high. Their windshields got smaller while ours got bigger. So much for styling. Then, for another important comparison, take ride. Here's Dodge with Torsion-Aire suspension that just about everybody admits is the greatest advance in sway-free, dip-free, silent going that any car offers. So what do these other cars do? They borrow an air suspension system that's been used in buses for two years! (Costing well over $100.00 extra.) And most of 'em still don't have push-button driving—much less Dodge TorqueFlite—the proven automatic transmission. If you're a little disappointed in the '58 version of your car, come on in and see our Sweep-Wing 58. The others are catching on—but they can't catch up.

State Agency Offers National Job Openings

A nationwide list of more than 6,900 professional and managerial job opportunities is available at the Economic Security Department's office in Louisville, Commissioner V. E. Barnes announces.

Barnes said the agency's Employment Service Division is participating with other states in a nationwide expanded and specialized placement service which provides for an exchange of professional and managerial openings.

The Louisville office, 449 South 2nd Street, is designated one of 78 special centers to speed up the matching of men and jobs. Barnes said each center, he added, will have on file a nationwide list of openings in professional-managerial fields.

Largest number of openings on the national list, Barnes said, is 1,110 for mechanical engineers. The list indicates 993 demands for electrical engineers, 730 for nurses, and 542 for draftsmen. Other openings mentioned by Barnes include those for chemists, chemical engineers, civil engineers, natural and social scientists, laboratory technicians, social and welfare workers, and retail managers.

Salaries range from $3,600 to $15,000 a year with transportation and housing guaranteed in some cases, Barnes said. He advised qualified persons to apply at the Louisville office or the nearest local employment office. Agency headquarters at Frankfort, the Louisville office and local offices will cooperate in matching men and jobs. Barnes said. Employers who wish to utilize this nationwide network may do so by filing with the nearest employment service division office, Barnes said. Expansion of the service in professional-managerial occupations was organized by cooperation between the states' economic security agencies and the Federal Bureau of Employment Security, Barnes said.

The following teen-agers will hold office this year: Roy Joe Lucas, Florence, President; Phyllis Kurlley, Union, vice president; Susan McCoy, secretary; Nancy Priggs, Union, treasurer and Brenda Cason, Florence, recreation leader.

The Teen-Agers have had as one of their community projects, a Paper Drive in order to raise money to support their Christmas Project. The 4-H Club will be presenting toys and baskets of fruits to needy children at the Christmas time.

County Judge Is Speaker at DAR Meeting Held Here

The regent of the Boone County Chapter, D.A.R., Mrs. J. B. Wolfe, called to order the November meeting at the home of Mrs. Wallace K. Grubbs of Walton.

The society was unanimous in its resolution to aid the Big Bone Lick project being launched in the county November 11.

The speaker of the evening was the popular judge of the Boone County Court, C. L. Cropper, Burlington.

"The record books in the court house," explained Judge Cropper, "tell how early in the year 1799 Boone county was formed from part of Campbell county and a five man ward of officers were appointed by Governor Garrard. Their titles were justices of the peace."

To tie in early times with the present day problems of air travel and guided missiles, Judge Cropper concluded his speech in summing up the all importance of a strong civilian defense program.

Mrs. Grubbs had as co-hostesses for the evening Mrs. Charles Goodridge, Margaret Goodridge and Elizabeth Grubbs. Other members present were: Mesdames Davis Gaines, Ashlin Logan, Roy Nestor, Robert Woodward, Rufus Tanner, William Long, John Lockwood, and Florence Brothers. Mrs. Marian G. Bedinger was a guest to the occasion.

STATE IMPROVES SCALE ACCURACY

Agriculture Commissioner Ben Butler says Kentucky has made great progress in the past two years in improving the accuracy of meters, scales, feed and fertilizer measurements and labeling of package foods.

Condemnation of scales in Kentucky are "way down from what they used to be," Butler reports.

"Now," he warns, it is time to watch "the man behind the scales. It takes different techniques to catch the man."

Only 4 to 12 percent of various types of scales were condemned last year, Butler said. Weights started on 300,000 packages checked last year were far more accurate than in the previous years, he added, saying:

"We have fairly well eliminated bad scales."

He maintains there are other fields to interest weights-and-measures officials, such as measurements of liquid petroleum gas.

Butler made the report to a recent meeting of the Southern Weights and Measures Association at Louisville. George Johnson, Kentucky's director of weights and measures, is president of the 18-state association.

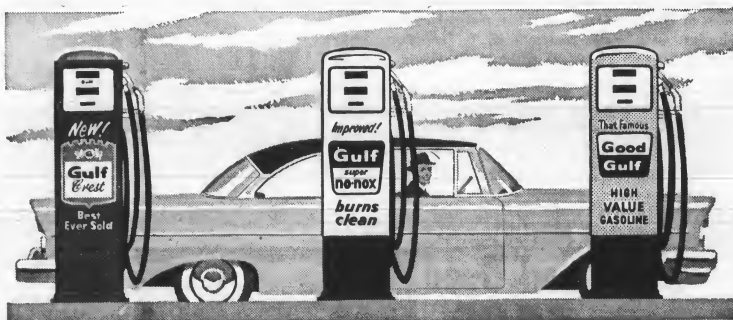

Throughout the Revolutionary War Harrodsburg was the seat of Kentucky County, which was organized in December, 1776. The town had a population of 198 persons.

The State Penitentiary at Eddyville often called the "Castle on the Cumberland," received its first prisoners in 1885.

New-type, sound-conditioned concrete for your newest highways

Developed to meet the highway standards of 1975. Everything a good driver wants—new-type concrete has. There's never a "thump." It's sound-conditioned. Laid continuously, this pavement has no joints... only tiny, almost invisible cushion spaces, sawed into the concrete. You skim over them and don't know it! This new-type concrete is laid flat—stays flat. It has a life expectancy of 50 years and more.

Over 90% of America's most heavily travelled roads have been built of concrete. It's the preferred pavement for new primary roads.

The true cost of Kentucky's new highways. It all depends on how long they last. New-type concrete has a life expectancy of 50 years and more. First cost is moderate. Maintenance costs are lower than for any other type of pavement. That's why tax dollars go farther with concrete.

Miss Sandra Smith, daughter of Mrs. Jim Humlik, is in St. Elizabeth Hospital due to an injury she received while skating at the Walton Roller Rink last Friday night.

Recipe of the Week

With Girl Scout cookies made generally available by the energetic members of that organization, why not use a half box of either vanilla or peanut-flavored cookies to make the crust for the Thanksgiving pie? The suggestion comes from UK Extension food specialists.

To make the crust, use slightly less butter than is generally used in a graham cracker crust, as the cookies are richer. Use just enough melted butter to bind the crumbs together.

Cranberry Chiffon Pie
2 cups cranberries
½ c water
3 egg yolks
1 c sugar
1 T gelatin
2 T cold water
1 T lemon juice
3 egg whites
½ c cookie crumbs
2 T sugar
2 T (or more) butter
½ c cream whipped

Cook cranberries in water in a covered pan until all the skins pop open. Put through a sieve, add to eggs yolks beaten with half the sugar. Cook over hot water until thickened. Add gelatin, softened in 2 tablespoons of cold water, and lemon juice. Cool. Fold in egg whites whipped stiff with remaining sugar. Fill crumb pie shell.

COOKIE CRUMB CRUST: Crush cookies with rolling pin to make 1½ cups of fine crumbs. Add 2 tablespoons of sugar; blend well and add 2 tablespoons (or more) of melted butter, using just enough to bind the dry ingredients. Pat mixture firmly into pie pan. Place pie pan in refrigerator for several hours, then fill with pie filling and again chill thoroughly. Serve with whipped cream.

STOVES

Last week I wrote about stoves and on Saturday we sold one New Perfection oil heater, one Warm Morning coal heater, and one United States coal heater, also a gas basket, and two Perfection portable oil heaters. We have all types of stoves and I believe our stoves are priced to sell. If you want a stove, get our prices before buying. Besides stoves, we have lots of other bargains such as a two-horse wooden sled for $45.00, a two-horse all steel sled for $75.00, and a one-horse steel sled for $55.00—these are good sleds and they're scarce—get one now.

David Houston came up and bought his wife a new square aluminum tub Maytag washer. Nothing but the best for that lady. You can't beat a wringer type square aluminum tub Maytag washer for washing fast and clean. Maytag washers last longer and I have three rebuilt old model Maytags in extra good condition for only $75 each. Raymond Baker, Jr., came after a tank sprayer to spray his tobacco—it was too dry to strip, so he sprayed it with hot water. Junior Cook and Betty Sue were in getting a few items. Junior said they were ready for that tobacco at Carrollton—Chas. Steers, Ernest Dance and Boyd Elliott said I would get more at Erlanger, so now where must I go?

I'll just leave it up to Bob Hodges, he raised it, and he can sell it where he wants. They are all good friends and customers of mine, but unless it weighs more than it looks or feels, no one will miss much if they don't get it. But ours is as good as any other I have seen. I have a few items to sell at reduced price, before inventory, such as a Duro water system for $89.50, a 12-gallon electric water heater for only $49.50, a 30-gallon electric water heater for $79.50, a 52-gallon electric water heater for $99.50, a 30" fully automatic Perfection electric range, $189.00.

If you are looking for a coal cook stove, I have them. I have the best two-horse sled made of steel ever saw, also a good used wood sled with new tires and wheels. These are scarce and very hard to get someone to make them. Get one of these sleds now. We received two shipments of bargains and items that are hard to get. I have a personal file and box with the index in it for only $2.29; I have a small metal box for keeping your papers and valuables in it for only $2.35. I have in the past had lots of calls from people who want to buy a good sled. Also in this shipment were some nice rubber door mats and sponge rubber iron board pads.

I also have some 100' 14-2 wire extension cords for only $7.50. A 50' 14-2 wire extension cord for $3.95 and a 25' 14-2 wire extension cord for $1.95. These are heavy cords and very useful on the farm or around the house. I also have some very cheap trouble lights, 25' $1.95, 50' $3.50, and a 40' light weight round black rubber extension cord for $1.95, also beaded chain at 7c a foot. I also received a cord of finger nail clippers, a cord of Gem scrubbers, lots of plastic chair tips in all colors, sewer tapes, both flat and round in all lengths. I have another item, it is a brass hose adapter for connecting all water pipe to a hose together.

John Gault was in looking for some spark plug wire for one of his antique cars. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Flynn called for Brewster to bring down a Perfection fuel oil heater for Mrs. Emma Flynn, who is at their home now. These Perfection heaters are the best oil heaters made. That is saying a lot but I haven't been challenged yet. Mr. and Mrs. Willard Benson bought a Warm Morning coal heater and a United States coal heater, also a 12x12 rug and some linoleum which Brewster delivered today. Mrs. Ruth Colston Worthington, over at Goshen, wants Brewster to put down some linoleum for her.

Chick was selling her linoleum and I was talking when I should have been listening. Then Ruth really got me told as she has so many times in the past 20 years—she and Oatney are good friends and customers of mine. I sold a very nice 27" grate basket today. Chick sold Mr. and Mrs. William Arrasmith, down on Gunpowder Creek, a new square aluminum tub Maytag washer. I sold Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bickers some linoleum, some linoleum, linoleum paste, and white paint. Mrs. Cecil Ganton and Chick had a stove trade—some trades they are.

Howard Stephens called for us to bring him a new grate for a Warm Morning coal heater—he gave Chick the number over the phone, so Brewster took it over, but he had given him the wrong number, so Brewster had to come back and get another grate. Then Brewster went over to Mrs. Robert Hoffman's and put a new oven element receptacle and set of contact blades on her new Perfection electric range. I have a new Perfection 30" electric range, fully automatic, at $229.00, a bargain at $179.00 cash—this month only.

Attends State Meet Of Welfare Ass'n Held In Lexington

Mrs. Roy C. Nestor, Florence, Executive Secretary of the Boone County Red Cross, has returned from Lexington, where she attended the State Conference of the Kentucky Welfare Association of which she is a member.

She specialized in two institutes, one being "Spare the Rod" on child welfare. The chairman of this session was Dr. Arleigh L. Lincoln, dean of Kent School of Social Work at the University of Louisville. This institute dealt with the subject of the normal, the unusual and the abnormal or emotionally disturbed child and working with these children from the viewpoint of the social worker and the parent.

The second institute was on "Services to the Recipients of Financial Aid," stating the purpose of public assistance is to develop resources for self-care and to strengthen family life and how these purposes can be integrated into local communities. Miss Ione Colyer, Supervisor, Division of Public Assistance, Department of Economic Security, Frankfort, was chairman.

The theme of the entire conference was people helping people and Mrs. Nestor said she was impressed by the great number of people interested in providing assistance of all kinds to those having problems, whether financial, emotional, physical or due to age or environment. No matter what the trouble, there is someone who wants to help.

Cherry Tree Planting Scheduled In November

If you have wished for a pie or sour cherry tree in your backyard or orchard, there is still time to plant it this fall, says Prof. A. J. Olney, head of the Department of Horticulture at the University of Kentucky. It is so easy to grow that no one should hesitate to set one out.

Unlike sweet cherry and many other fruit trees, the pie cherry is self-pollinating, and only one tree is needed. The Montmorency variety is the most popular. It bears early, and the fruit is larger than that of most other varieties.

The tree will grow in any good, well-drained garden soil, November or March being the best months for planting. The tree should be given the same good care as any other for three to four years, or until the root system is well established. Very little pruning will be required, except to keep the tree shapely.

Cut-shin and Hell-fert-sartain are both constituents of Middle Fork of the Kentucky River near Dry Ridge. Bernstadt was formerly a Swiss colony founded by an organization headed by Paul Schenk, son of a president of Sweden. The colony of its height included 600 persons.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingberry

Flip A Coin:

Republican stalwarts are pointing to congressional victories in two special elections as proof that the GOP is doing okay. Democrats are pointing to the same elections as evidence that Republican margins are being cut down.

You can flip a coin and make your own decision. However, we asked one Kentuckian to give his estimate of the next session of Congress. He replied:

"It will be the roughest, toughest, nastiest session of Congress in a long, long time!"

Gets the Job:

After months and months of rumors, Dr. Frank Welch, dean of the College of Agriculture at Lexington, has been named to the Tennessee Valley Authority.

He gets a pretty sure bet that he'll be gone longer than that.

In the new job, he'll serve out a three-year vacancy. And then he'll be under consideration for a full nine-year term.

Dr. Welch comes up for confirmation when lawmakers return to Washington. We bet he gets a fast okay.

Back at Work:

Several correspondents reported the other day that Mayville's Justice Stanley Reed returned to work when he accepted presidential appointment to the new Civil Rights Commission.

Truth of the matter, even though Justice Reed retired from the Supreme Court, he never quit working. He maintained an office in the Supreme Court Building, he went to work every day and—last summer—he was given a special assignment to the U. S. Court of Claims.

All of which is proof that retirement doesn't mean loafing—not for Kentuckian Reed.

Headaches and Concrete:

The sale of those Kentucky highway bonds marked a milestone on program in the Blue Grass. But—progress brings problems and Kentuckians can prepare for other troubles.

For example, right outside of Washington, a new super highway—a by-pass—was opened recently and speeding became a problem. Some merchants lost customers where the old highways were deserted. And some home-owners suffered when roaring trucks and cars created a new bedlam.

We need roads. We'll get them. But we'll get headaches along with concrete.

About three-fifths of the cranberry crop comes from Cape Cod, Mass. New Jersey and Wisconsin are also important in the production of this crop.

the 58 FORD

2. New Interceptor V-8 introduces Precision Fuel Induction. Up to 300 hp! Smoother power! More power... from less gas! The secret is Precision Fuel Induction, a remarkable new fuel feeding system. Fuel is routed to machined combustion chambers more directly so each cylinder does the same work, the most work!

4. New Ford-Air Suspension—a true air ride. The shock of a bump is lost in four automatically controlled cushions of air... before it reaches you! Ford-Air Suspension is always at work leveling the car, too. The road clearance always stays the same, no matter what the load or how it's loaded! Truly, this is the way you've always dreamed of driving—floating on air! An extra cost option, Ford-Air Suspension can be yours in most models for "98 of low prices!"

1. Ford brings you tomorrow's look... and for many tomorrows to come! Such new styling highlights as that Power-Flow hood and Stream roof, those new Safety-Twin headlights and taillights, that new Honeycombed grille... accent the newest looking car in the world. See it and you'll say: "Boy more! What for?"

3. You'll get up to 15% more gas savings with new Cruise-O-Matic. Drive teamed with the new Interceptor V-8, New D1 position, used for all normal driving, lets you more smoothly, automatically—with just a touch of your toe—from brisk, solid-feeling take-offs right up to super-highway cruising speeds. There's nothing new!

To say that the 58 Ford is "new" is an understatement. For there's nothing newer in the world! To prove it, the 58 Ford was taken on a historic road test around the world. Up and over the Swiss Alps... over the rugged coast line of Yugoslavia... through the dust of Iran's Great Salt Desert... across three continents, the 58 Ford was proved and approved like no other car before it! Why not see your Ford Dealer soon and let him show you the great new Ford for 58?

OTCO WOODY VINDICATOR

HIGH PRODUCING DUNLOGGIN BULL ADDED

A Dunloggin bred Holstein bull that is siring tremendous production has recently been added to the KABA Stud. He is Octo Woody Vindicator and he will be known as "Woody." He was purchased from Rounton and Kissel, Blissfield, Michigan.

"Woody" has 12 daughters with 16 records that average 18,392 pounds of milk and 648 pounds of fat on a 305 day, 2X, Mature Equivalent basis. This is an increase of 3,121 pounds of milk and 103 pounds of butter fat over the dams of these daughters. The daughters of Woody were developed and milked under good farm conditions with no big time special attention.

They are medium to large in size, have good quality, useful udders and show lots of dairy character. "Woody" was sired by Dunloggin Woodmaster, a double grandson of Dunloggin Woodmaster. The dam of "Woody" is one of the best daughters of Montvic Lochinvar with six records on 2X that average 21,927 pounds of milk and 709 pounds of butterfat.

Woody has the same breeding as KABA site, Dunloggin Lochinvar, who bred over 35,000 cows in Kentucky and now has been removed from the stud because of old age. "Woody" should have a tremendous impact on the milk production of Holstein cattle in Kentucky.

Democratic Women's Club Plans For Christmas Party

The Boone County Democratic Women's Club will have its annual Christmas dinner at Southern Trails, Florence, on Thursday evening, the 5th of December, at 6:30 p. m.

Gifts will be exchanged and plans completed to distribute baskets of food at Christmastime to less fortunate families in the county.

Friends are welcome. Call Ruth Ann Tupman, ATlantic 3-4459, for reservations.

Staiffordsburg

We wish to thank all of our friends who came to have supper with us November 23. Thanks to you, it was quite successful. We try to serve you a good meal and we really appreciate your friendship.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney were guests Sunday of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Parish. When they learned it was a birthday they used the old saying, "If I'd known you were coming, I'd have baked a cake." But apple pie is as good as cake any day.

Since some of the members were not feeling well, the W.S.C.S. was a small affair at the November meeting. We dispensed with the regular program to give the time to Mrs. Bert Nunery, who started to teach the book of Mark. She had spent much time in preparation and gave us a most interesting discussion. We hope all members will be at the December meeting which will be at the parsonage on December 12. At this time Mrs. Nunery will present the next lesson on Mark, after the short business session we will have our Christmas party, so come prepared for a delightful evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney visited relatives at Grants Lake, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Paul Damon did not feel like coming out to church Sunday. Hope she is better soon.

GOSHEN MISSION MEETS

The Goshen Christian Mission held its regular meeting November 13 in the church basement at Piner, with Mrs. Goldie Glenn acting as president. The session opened with the reading of the minutes of the last meeting.

The offering was sent to a new mission, and a gift box was sent to Sherry Burkart, who is with the armed forces in Germany, and one of the church boys. Discussion was held about the turkey supper to be held November 27 at 6:30 p. m. Ladies on the committee are Ruby Worthington, Esther Glenn and Edna Callen.

At the next meeting a home-made gift not to exceed 50c in worth is to be the Christmas exchange gift from each other.

A delightful covered dish luncheon was served at noon with Mrs. Margaret McMillan as hostess.

In the afternoon a lovely program was had by all on "Benevolence," under the direction of Mrs. Goldie Glenn, who was made president at this meeting. Dismissal prayer by Mrs. Edna Callen.

The next meeting will be held on the second Wednesday of the month, with Ruth Worthington as hostess.

A delightful day was spent by those attending. Mrs. Goldie Glenn, Mrs. Esther Glenn and son, Donald, Mrs. Rachel Daniels, Mrs. Margaret McMillan and son, Eddie, Mrs. Ruby Worthington and son, David, Mrs. Edna Callen, Mrs. Ruth Worthington and niece, Sandy.

Mrs. Erma Stockman is staying with a friend in Fort Wright, who fell and broke her hip.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Eckler, Verona, Road, had as dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Eckler and children of Covington, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Eckler of Erlanger, and Mrs. Alpha Locke of Verona.

Buy Fertilizer Now, Save Time, Money

Save time and money by buying fertilizers now, says George Carder, Kentucky Extension Service soil fertility specialist.

In some cases, he says, fertilizers can be bought at reduced prices prior to January 1. But in all cases, he adds, farmers get a cured material that spreads easily; he gets the materials his soil tests show are needed, and he will not have been rushed into purchases at the last minute.

Stack fertilizers bought this winter in a dry building. Put the sacks on boards, or a floor that keeps the material off the ground. Keep ricks not over three to four feet high; turn the sacks over once or twice each winter, to prevent caking.

BIBLE SPEAKS

International Union
Bible School Lessons
BY DR. KENNETH A. FOREMAN

Background Scriptures: Philippians 1
Devotional Reading: Philippians 1:3-11

Full Courage

Lesson for December 1, 1957

SOME of the best of the Bible was written in jail. In fact, the Bible was mostly written not only about, but by and for, people in trouble. When Saint Paul wrote his famous little letter to the church at Philippi, he had been in a Roman prison for some time. If his trial went against him, he had nothing to expect but a death sentence. He was well along in years, too; just at the time of life when a man welcomes comforts, Paul had to get along without them. Paul needed the prayers of his friends, the help of the Holy Spirit. But he was also confident that with this help, he would honor Christ "with full courage," whether in living or in dying.

Dr. Foreman
his friends, the help of the Holy Spirit. But he was also confident that with this help, he would honor Christ "with full courage," whether in living or in dying.

Never Easy

It is almost never easy to stand up and be counted as a Christian. Easy enough when nothing is involved; but when being a Christian gets one into trouble or even laughter at that, it's different. The people these days who need our prayers and deserve our honor are the Christians in countries behind the iron curtain. We sometimes may think they are not as good Christians as they ought to be, but they are better than some of us would be in their circumstances. Take a high school boy in East Germany, for example. If he goes to church on Sunday, he will have to cut a youth meeting, set by the government at church time, on purpose. His absence will go on record; and when he applies for a job, or wants to go to college, he will find doors closed against him, because he was loyal to the church and not the government. You might think that going to church once a week is not much of a "witness for Christ," but in a situation like that, it is nothing short of heroic.

Everything Against Him

"Joining the church" calls for some stiffness of backbone, even in America. Young people who do it know that on the fence there is a gathering of vultures waiting for them to make a first mistake, commit their first sin as church members,—waiting for the chance to make fun, to say "I told you so." But it takes even more courage to confess Christ in a country where Christians are thought to be unpatriotic, and Christianity a "foreigners' religion." It takes much courage of all in a fanatic world where a person who becomes a Christian runs a risk of being killed for it.

Paul would understand this, for he had everything to discourage him. On the outside of his jail there were some "Christians" preachers who had their knives out for him, character-assassins as they were. And inside the prison, all the company Paul would have were other prisoners and Roman soldiers,—no very sympathetic congregation! Yet Paul went right on being a Christian and speaking a good word for Jesus. It was a situation that had everything to dishearten him. Many another in the same fix would have thought: What a glorious testimony I can give when I get out of here!

God Brings the Best

We know (from Romans) that Paul had wanted very much to visit Rome and preach there. But he hadn't the slightest ambition to go to jail there. He was eager to give a Christian witness; but it hadn't occurred to him that God would provide for him a very small church and a mighty unpromising congregation: a church house no bigger than a jail cell, a congregation mostly criminals and prison guards. And yet,—faced with this, he made the brave best of it, and was actually happy over it. God knows best; he brings the best out of the worst situations, the least likely people.

For one thing, the Gospel had made its way, only a beginning, but still a real start, in circles that would have been very hard to crash from the outside. The Praetorian Guard was made of hard men; but they were beginning to catch on to the Gospel. Timid Christians, one suspects outside the jail as well as in, were lifting their heads, catching the contagion of Paul's courage. And suppose the death-cell is ahead? Paul is not afraid. In death as in life, Paul says, "I shall not be at all ashamed."

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

Don't think this turkey will please the Pilgrim Fathers?

Those cranberries have been strung with careful fingers, the bird itself has been roasted to just the proper degree of succulent brownness, and that bit of wheat, lying on the table, symbolizes the rich bounty of this year's harvest.

If our Puritan maid, Priscilla, looks a bit skeptical, it is only because she is wondering if tom turkey will be big enough to satisfy all the hungry guests.

They will be coming with vigorous appetites, whetted by the walk through snow covered fields from Church, where they have given thanks for their good fortune.

And on all Thanksgivings since that first one, thankful people have knelt in prayer. Thanksgiving is our own American holiday, unlike any other. It is deeply religious in nature. We can only observe it if, like the Pilgrims, we go to church to give our thanks. And never have a people had cause to be so thankful for so much.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Bible study.

Farm "Industry" Chalks Up Another Gain: Barn Cleaning Is Speeded Up

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

The drive for improving the farmer's mechanical production equipment represents one of the most fascinating chapters in today's agricultural picture. As farms grow larger and the work force decreases, the job of handling chores becomes more automatic.

ELECTRICITY DOES THE JOB... that pitchforks used to handle.

Unnoticed by urban residents, a true industrial revolution is taking place up and down the nation's country roads.

One of the latest in a series of progressive steps toward a more industrialized, easier and less time-consuming type of farming is a new barn cleaner. It operates on an entirely new principle—hydraulic power, backed by an electric motor which activates a reciprocating cylinder. No gears or chains are used in the "push-pull" operation as litter is moved down gutters and out of the barn into the spreader.

The drive bar for the cleaning paddles is protected by a channel attached to one of the concrete walls of the gutter. This arrangement prevents buckling of the bar, enables the cleaner to operate over long distances and protects moving parts from corrosive acids and phosphates, as well as from the grinding action of limestone. The cylinder provides internal and continual oiling of all hydraulic parts. The manufacturer's tests show that the device can operate as slowly as desired, and at sub-zero temperatures.

The new cleaner can be installed in any size barn and the same cylinder will operate main as well as cross gutters in unison or independently. Claims for this latest device include the statement that it can clean a 100-cow barn in 12 minutes. And that covers both the sides and bottoms of the gutters.

A plus feature of the cleaner is that its hydraulic power system can be used for such other purposes as operating equipment to elevate hay and distribute ensilage to feeding areas. Hinged and stationary chutes and elevators are available with the unit to meet a variety of conditions. The hinged, counter-balanced equipment enables farmers to raise or lower it easily to load spreaders.

Sheep-Parasite Control Measures Needed Now

Late November or early December is the time to dose sheep with phenothiazine against nodular worms, says R. C. Miller, Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service sheep specialist.

A good parasite-control program is necessary, he says, in finishing late lambs. Nodular worms are most easily controlled in November and December as that is the time of year they can be most easily reached by phenothiazine. Late fall and early winter dosing is a must, Miller says.

Ewes, rams and any carry-over lambs should be dosed. However, in-lamb ewes should NOT be dosed with phenothiazine within 30 days of lambing time.

The whole flock except lambs should get a second dosing in the spring. If tapeworms are present, combine lead arsenate with the phenothiazine.

Phenothiazine in salt should be convenient access always, and no other salt should be available. The mixture should be kept fresh and inviting. Put it in a feeder protected from weather, and stir it with a stick after a rain if the mixture has become caked.

AN APPRECIATION—

I am most grateful to those who have visited me and for the kind expressions of friendships during my illness.

BIBLE SPEAKS

International Union
Sunday School Lessons
BY DR. KENNETH A. FOREMAN

Background Scripture: Philippians 1:
Devotional Reading: Philippians 1:3-11

Full Courage

Lesson for December 1, 1957

SOME of the best of the Bible was written in jail. In fact, the Bible was mostly written not only about, but by and for, people in trouble. When Saint Paul wrote his famous little letter to the church at Philippi, he had been in a Roman prison for some time. If his trial went against him, he had nothing to expect but a death sentence. He was well along in years, too; just at the time of life when a man welcomes comforts, Paul had to get along without them. Paul needed the prayers of Dr. Foreman's friends, the help of the Holy Spirit. But he was also confident that with this help, he would honor Christ "with full courage," whether in living or in dying.

Never Easy

It is almost never easy to stand up and be counted as a Christian. Easy enough when nothing is involved; but when being a Christian gets one into trouble, or even laughed at, that's different. The people these days who need our prayers and deserve our honor are the Christians in countries behind the iron curtain. We sometimes may think they are not as good Christians as they ought to be, but they are better than some of us would be in their circumstances. Take a high school boy in East Germany, for example. If he goes to church on Sunday, he will have to cut a youth meeting, set by the government at church time, on purpose. His absence will go on record; and when he applies for a job, or wants to go to college, he will find doors closed against him, because he was loyal to the church and not the government. You might think that going to church once a week is not much of a "witness for Christ," but in a situation like that, it is nothing short of heroic.

Everything Against Him

"Joining the church" calls for some stiffness of backbone, even in America. Young people who do it know that on the fence there is a gathering of vultures waiting for them to make their first mistake, commit their first sin as church members—waiting for the chance to make fun, to say "I told you so." But it takes even more courage to confess Christ in a country where Christians are thought to be unpatriotic, and Christianity a "foreigners' religion." It takes most courage of all in a fanatic world where a person who becomes a Christian runs a risk of being killed for it.

Paul would understand this, for he had everything to discourage him. On the outside of his jail there were some "Christians" preachers who had their knives out for him, character-assassins as they were. And inside the prison, all the company Paul would have were other prisoners and Roman soldiers—no very sympathetic congregation! Yet Paul went right on being a Christian and speaking a good word for Jesus. It was a situation that had everything to dishearten him. Many another in the same fix would have thought: What a glorious testimony I can give when I get out of here!

God Brings the Best

We know (from Romans) that Paul had wanted very much to visit Rome and preach there. But he hadn't the slightest ambition to go to jail there. He was eager to give a Christian witness; but it hadn't occurred to him that God would provide for him a very small church and a mighty unpromising congregation: a church house no bigger than a jail cell, a congregation mostly criminals and prison guards. And yet, faced with this, he made the brave best of it, and was actually happy over it. God knows best; he brings the best out of the worst situations, the least likely people.

For one thing, the Gospel had made its way, only a beginning, but still a real start, in circles that would have been very hard to crash from the outside. The Praetorian Guard was made of hard men; but they were beginning to catch on to the Gospel. Timid Christians, one suspects outside the jail as well as in, were lifting their heads, catching the contagion of Paul's courage. And suppose the death-cell is ahead? Paul is not afraid. In death as in life, Paul says, "I shall not be at all ashamed."

Farm "Industry" Chalks Up Another Gain: Barn Cleaning Is Speeded Up

Unnoticed by urban residents, a true industrial revolution is taking place up and down the nation's country roads.

Grape Variety Report Given by Horticulturist

The Golden Muscat, a European-American hybrid grape now being tested by the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station's pomology branch topped all other varieties, American or otherwise, in production last year, says C. S. Walton, pomologist.

It was the fifth year the variety had topped all others, he said. The Muscots averaged 50.8 pounds of fruit for about 25 feet of lateral bearing vine and 40 to 50 buds, Walton said. Golden Muscat, like American grapes, is useful as fresh fruit or for jelly.

Other varieties and their yields in the test were: Sheridan, 47.4 lbs.; Buffalo, 39.8; Concord, old stand-by, 38.2; Niagara, 38.2; Dunkirk, 34.6; Campbell's early, 28; Yates, 25.1; Fredonia, a variety earlier than Concord, 7.2; Delaware, a small but high quality grape, 16.5; Portland, 12.5; and Urbano, 8 pounds.

Walton said the average grape variety will produce about 15 lbs. of fruit per 25 feet of lateral bearing vine.

Several other French-American varieties bore well "almost without exception," Walton said. The fruits vary in color from pale green to black, vary variable sizes and some of them mature quite late in the season. They are chiefly wine grapes he noted. "and have not been readily or well accepted here on the market as a fresh fruit."

Pole Type Barn Hives In Wintering Bees

While many bee-keepers herds are wintered with only hills and wooded areas to protect them from winter weather, weaning calves and fattening cattle usually are given some shelter, says George Pendergrass, a Kentucky Extension Service beef specialist.

An inexpensive, three-sided shelter open to the south can provide a dry bed and protection from rain, snow and wind, he notes. Sometimes this shed type cattle barn may have space for hay storage through the middle, with sheds on each side; this is what Kentuckians know as the pole-type barn.

Equip shelters with racks and troughs for hay and grain, prevent crowding, avoid narrow entrances, and exposure to cross winds.

WHITES TOWER

Our old friend Bob Mathis of Camp Hungry is in St. Elizabeth Hospital where he underwent an operation last Monday. Latest reports say he is getting along fine and will be home shortly. In the meanwhile I know he will be glad to receive cards and visits from his many friends.

Mr. McBee of Harris Pike is driving a new car which he recently purchased as his old Jeep was giving him much trouble.

Little Ray Gibson will enter the hospital shortly for a tonsil and adenoid operation.

The writer and wife had as guests Thanksgiving day the following, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dorsey and daughter, Mrs. Maude Brumback and two children, Tom and Judy, Rev. and Mrs. Bob Brumback and two children Jimmie and Connie, Mrs. Mary Ward and daughter Linda, and Buddy Ward of Covington. A twelve pound turkey furnished the "piece de resistance" with all the other trimmings that go with a Thanksgiving dinner. Hope we have many more returns of this happy group.

Seems as if our friends down at Dutton Lakes are going to have a church to be proud of as the work on the Oak Ridge Baptist Church is progressing rapidly and is looks like it is going to be beautiful both exterior and interior. More power to them.

Sunday School Lesson

What Christ Means

Lesson for December 8, 1957

WHAT does America mean to you? Ask that question of a hundred Americans and you will get some lame answers, and maybe some good ones. But you would say that the truest answers are not the lamest ones.

What does Christ mean to you? Ask that question of a hundred Christians, and you will get some lame answers. But let us ask the question of one of the greatest Christians who ever lived, the Apostle Paul. What Christ actually meant to him, he can mean to every Christian. His language may seem strange, but as D. G. Barnhouse says, instead of complaining about the New Testament vocabulary, wouldn't it be worth while to cultivate the experiences for which the New Testament would give us the right words?

Christ Jesus Has Made Me His Own

The first and central point is, in Paul's words (we follow the RSV translation), "Christ Jesus has made me his own." We turn the thing around too much. We speak of "decisions for Christ." Paul had indeed decided for Christ; but that was never for him the main point. Christ had decided for Paul! He belonged to Christ by Christ's choice first; intimately, inseparably. With this go two other points. One (as Paul puts it) is the eager desire that "I may... be found in Him." This meant that when God looked at Paul, Paul hoped God would see him in Christ. Paul is not any longer a "parale, lone man, he is so truly in Christ that when God looks at him, he sees Christ. Along with that thought, and a part of it, is another: "not having a righteousness of my own, but that which is through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God that depends on faith." This is so opposite to what the ordinary person, all religious but ours, and indeed many Christians, understand and aim at, that it seems too strange to believe. But this is what Christ can mean, my righteousness. The true Christian character is not something built up by the Christian's own efforts and offered to God; it is something accepted from God. If it is true that when God looks at the Christian he sees Christ, he sees the Christian (as one of our songs puts it) "clad in His righteousness alone."

"The Power of His Resurrection"

Christianity is a supernatural religion. Any one who takes it for less is like a person owning an airplane who never fills it with gas nor takes it out on the runway; like a person who has a fortune in the bank but never writes a check. How often a Christian says to himself, "I can't!"—and he is quite right, as a rule. Much is demanded of a Christian that is impossible; which doesn't make sense till the Christian discovers that the answer ought to be: "I can't but Christ can." Paul not only here but in other places testifies that the same power that raised Christ from the dead is actually available to the Christian. It does not come all at once; Paul is expressing it as a hope only partly realized; but it makes sense—spiritual, supernatural sense if you must put it that way. A Christian can rise above his ordinary earthbound self, by the same power in which Christ triumphed over death.

"We Await a Savior"

Once more, Christ for Paul means the Savior, one who comes to his rescue. But while Paul can speak of having been saved, he can also talk of salvation in the future. The same Paul who cherished the phrase "This do in remembrance of me..." could also speak of "awaiting" a Savior. There are two great things, part of what is meant by "salvation," which Paul expects Christ yet to do, in the future. They are closely connected. The first is that Christ will come to bring him and others to the "heavenly city"—the commonwealth the Christian has never seen—but when his citizenship papers are already made out. The other thing Paul expects is to be changed: his "lowly body" is to be "like (Christ's) glorious body." Paul does not make this fully clear; he had not yet had the experience. This is the language of hope. But one thing is plain. For Paul, Christ is not only the Savior from sin, but the Savior from death. Paul no longer feared death, as he might have when a boy.

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY
Dept. U, 430 Park Avenue
New York 22, N.Y.

God must speak to men. Despite the barriers of language and dialect which separate nation from nation, tribe from tribe—God must speak to men!

This conviction has long inspired the American Bible Society in its stupendous task... to translate God's word into every tongue... to place the Bible in every hand.

Now in 1,100 tongues God has spoken to men through inspired Scripture. In marble cathedrals and mud huts the same timeless truths are read, heard, taught and discussed in the words men know. And millions of Bibles, Testaments, and portions of Scripture are being placed in eager hands.

This is our triumph... and our continuing challenge... the countless Christians who, individually and through our churches, make possible the work of the American Bible Society. Thank God! Carry on!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest labor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church: They are (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

PLANT SETTLEMENT HIGH IN KENTUCKY

"For the third straight year, 50 percent or more of firms which sent representatives to Kentucky to make plant location surveys have since built plants in the State," says John C. Rogers of the Kentucky Department of Economic Development, in Frankfort. Rogers, writing in the Commonwealth, a State publication, said 10 percent is the national average based on recent surveys.

The Department's Industrial Development Division reports the high percentage is due not only to the effective work of the department, but also to the teamwork of the private firms and public agencies in coordinating their industrial development activities.

Rogers said the department is able to provide detailed information to a prospect on short notice and has an active file of 330 suitable industrial tracts from four to 1,000 acres.

New Zealand in 1955 consumed 466 pounds of milk per capita, says the National Milk Producers Federation; U.S. consumption was 400 lbs.

This is the time when your youngsters are likely to burst in with big news about their "Christmas Tree Project." You needn't hide the family axe. Your evergreens are safe. The "Christmas Tree Project" is a constructive Junior Fire Marshal activity—tagging trees with a colorful decoration that may prevent a tragic holiday fire.

In cooperation with the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, we are happy to sponsor the Junior Fire Marshal Program during the Christmas season and throughout the year.

The Junior Fire Marshals work to make our community a safer place to live. We hope you'll encourage your youngsters to take part.

"IT WAS A NICE TRY, BUT..." seems to sum up public opinion about competitive cars attempting to equal the styling and features of the Swept-Wing 58. They tried to get as low, but had to lower the roof to do it. (Less headroom, same high, boxy, cooped-up look.) Their windshields got smaller, while ours got bigger. Most of them still don't have Total-Contact Brakes to assure smooth, even, safe stops when needed. Nor do they offer push-button TorqueFlite, the proven automatic transmission, and Constant-Contact power steering that works full time—not part time as some other systems do. And Dodge no-sway, no-dip Torion-Aire in standard equipment. (Bus-type air springs offered by some cars cost well over $100.00 extra.) So compare all the 1958 models with Dodge. We think you'll agree: Other cars are catching on, but they can't catch up.

A product called "Green Plasma" recently advertised in a number of newspapers as a color-restorer for lawns, has not been tested by turf specialists of the USDA as claimed by the promoters, the USDA says. The USDA says that adequate water, lime and the right amount of fertilizer for maintaining or improving lawns is recommended.

The vestibule of Bethel Baptist Church, Fairview, stands on the site of the original two-room log cabin where Jefferson Davis was born.

Artificial Breeding In State Should Be At A Higher Figure

Kentucky no longer can offer a low concentration of dairy cows, poor telephone service and bad roads as excuses for not breeding as many cows percentage-wise as other states. That's the statement of Durward Olds of the University of Kentucky Dairy Section, Lexington.

Olds says Kentucky is breeding only about 14 percent of her cattle artificially, but for the nation as a whole the percentage is 24. Bad roads, lack of telephone service and low concentrations of dairy cows were offered as excuses, he says.

But a recent survey shows Kentucky has about 17.2 cows and 1.2 telephones per square mile of area, and only about 27.8 percent of its farms are on unimproved dirt roads.

These values are all slightly better than the national averages and indicate that Kentucky should be breeding about 30 percent of her dairy cattle population artificially.

"We have too many persons who aren't seriously interested in dairying as a business enterprise," Olds says, "even though they are milking a few cows. Until more farmers have great enthusiasm for the dairy business, it is very unlikely that Kentucky will breed 30 percent of its dairy cattle."

If Kentucky hit the expected percentage for artificial breeding, 200,000 cows per year would be bred, rather than just 80,000, Olds concluded.

Future Homemakers . .

On November 21st the Future Homemakers Association had its installation of officers. These are the officers:

Nancy Carlisle, 1st vice president.
Jean Elliott, cor. Secretary.
Peggy Binder, reporter.
Shirley Saylor, Historian.
Helen Heideman, Historian.
Mary Godley, Parliamentarian.
Kathy Hall, Song Leader.
Pat Treadway, Recreational leader.

Joyce Moffett, President

Eight girls gave the eight purposes and as they gave the purpose they lighted a candle.

We had initiation of new members. The treasurer gave each one of them a tag to write their name on so they could wear them all day. At the close of the meeting the song leader and recreation leader led us in some songs.

This Year's Hi-Y Largest In History

The senior Hi-Y this year is the largest Hi-Y ever to be at Simon Kenton. We have had several interesting meetings this year. We have some very capable leaders in the Hi-Y, and they are as follows:

President, Bill Roy, vice president, Melvin Platt; secretary, Jimmy Wainwright; treasurer, Danny Trehues; reporter, Ronald Guttridge.

This year we have had the pleasure of having Mr. Orrin DeVan, of the Boy's Home, and also assistant general secretary of the Covington Y. M. C. A., speak to us.

As our main project this year we are selling basketball programs at the basketball games. We are selling these programs so that we can gather money to help people in the community who don't have the proper clothing or the proper food to eat, to enjoy a happy Christmas as we will.

The purpose of the Hi-Y is, "To create, and maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

Eighth Grade Y-Teens

Some of the 8th Grade Y-Teens went down to the Old Lady's Home. Diane Miller, program chairman, gave them a very nice program. We sang some songs and Diane Miller read a Thanksgiving poem. Linda Fredrick read a little poem. Carol Tallent read a riddle. Tonya Thompson lead in the devotional. Elaine Satchwill sang the Lord's Prayer. Lin McDonald read a poem. They served them little favors such as candy cup cakes and oranges. They seemed to enjoy the program very much.

The officers of the club are: President, Alma Cain; Vice President, Tonya Thompson; Secretary, Elaine Satchwill; Reporter, Jenny Duncan.

Becky Wilcoxson, Secretary

Mrs. M. Stroy, Faculty Leader

10-1 Home Room

The homeroom of 10-1 has been having excellent guidance programs under the leadership of Marty Beck and her committee which consist of Judy O'Brien, Wanda Setters, Delores Payne, Randall Folmer, Doug Davis, and George Binder.

The following are our guidance programs: Discussion "on Pro and Cons of Pop Tests", Sportsmanship, Alcohol, Safety and our Christmas party. We have had the Bible reading over the P. A. system. The ones reading did an excellent job.

D. O. Class Activities

The D. O. class is currently engaged in demonstrating different articles. Some of the outstanding demonstrations are: John Godman on brake fluid; Ruth Ann Cox on a food chapter; Ronnie Burkley on a steam iron; Bob Beigle on a tape recorder; and Carlos Oliver on the new '58 Chevrolet.

7-2 Class News

The 7-2 Class elected officers as follows:

President, Linda Spegal.
Vice President, Judy Stone.
Secretary, Connie Theis.
Treasurer, Terry Barnes.

Student Council, Barry Brann.
Safety Council, Eddie Smallwood.
Red Cross Rep., Judy Stone.

7b Y-Teen Officers

Beta Club Holds First Meeting Of Year, Nov. 22nd

The Simon Kenton Beta Club held its first meeting November 22, after school, in the library, for the induction of new members. To the roll call five members answered, to be followed by ten new members not present, seven inductees.

Our president, Danny Trehues, called the meeting to order. After stating the ideals of the club to the members, achievement, character and leadership, he explained the purpose of the club. This purpose develops achievement, character, scholarship, helpfulness, school spirit, patriotism, leadership, and service.

These characteristics should develop honesty, justice, service, cooperation, responsibility, industriousness, humility, and charity. Membership cards, pins, emblems and certificates were then presented to the new members.

Plans were discussed for our annual project of electing the Basketball Queen and her court. After a small social hour the meeting was adjourned.

Stanley Huff Is Named President Of Junior Class

The junior class has elected their class officers, and they are as follows:

President, Stanley Huff; vice president, Vonda Bell; secretary, Sandy Hurd; treasurer, Carolyn Zepf; and reporter, Charles Reimer.

The junior class would like to extend their thanks to Mrs. Hiteman for her great assistance, and everyone else who helped to make our class play a huge success. We have over $200 in our treasury. This will go towards financing our graduation next year.

We feel that there is a need for entertainment after the basketball game, so we are hoping to sponsor a dance in the near future after one of the home games.

Our Class was very sorry to hear that our treasurer, Carolyn Zepf is in the hospital with appendicitis. We wish for her a speedy recovery and that she will be back with us within a few weeks. Good luck, Carolyn—we all miss you.

Officers Named By Members Of Future Engineers

We are members of the Future Engineers Association of Kentucky and our sponsor is Mr. George Raschloss, Jr., a civil engineer from Erlanger.

We have a collection of literature on engineering. Some of our members will visit the University of Kentucky and the University of Cincinnati. Through those visits they learn something of the operations of a university as well as the possible selection of a college.

We have elected officers for the year as follows:

President, Bill Roy.
Vice President, George Heager.
Secy. Treasurer, Jim Wainwright.
Reporter, Martin Ferris.

A student wishing to join the club must be a college preparatory student with a standing of at least a B— to date. Anyone who desires to become affiliated with the club should see a regular member.

7b Y-Teen Officers

President, Sarah Boone; vice president, Judy Brumback; secretary, Carol Morton; treasurer, Joyce McFarland; song leader, Dixie Ballinger; and reporter, Judy Stone.

We-Y-Teen girls each gave a contribution for the World Fellowship Fund. We are collecting gifts for a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family in this community.

Student Council to Have Poster Contest

Because of the lack of room this year our Student Council has not been able to have very many meetings this year, but we are going to try to meet once a month if possible. Because we are only having these few meetings we are asking all members to be present.

At our last meeting we decided to sponsor a poster contest again this year, because our contest last year was such a success. Last year's contest was won by the same person three times, and I know there are more artists in the school than that.

Everyone read these rules and join, who knows you may win.

Contest Rules

1. Sportsmanship.
2. Safety (a) Fire (b) Home (c) Traffic (d) Recreation
3. The Importance of an Education.
4. Alcohol and Narcotics

Purpose:

1. To promote the Student Council.
2. To help students become better students, at home, school and in community.
3. To give students a chance to show their originality and convey their ideas.
4. To help the student have a growing appreciation of the school.
5. To promote the importance of each of the topics of the four areas listed above.

Requirements:

1. Poster to represent the subject of each contest.
2. The poster is to be submitted to homeroom teacher, council representative and then to student council officers.
3. There is no limit to the number of posters submitted by a home room.
4. An individual can submit no more than one poster during a contest, but may enter all four contests.
5. The best poster will be judged by judges selected by the Student Council.

Criterion for Judging Posters:

1. How well does the poster portray the subject.
2. Balance
3. Lettering
4. Good overall layout
5. Optical lettering
6. Artistic balance
7. Legibility
8. Originality.

The Prize:

1. The best posters will be displayed in the trophy case.

Stick to Balanced Diet Is Advice of Food Specialist

Proof is far from conclusive that persons who eat high-fat diets have high cholesterol levels in their blood, and that such high levels can lead to heart trouble, according to Miss Elizabeth Helton, UK Extension foods specialist.

Diet is only one of at least four factors which are being studied further to find the answers to heart ailments, she said, the others being hormones, an existent disease and heredity. At this time, it is impossible to say which are the most important factors in the development of heart disease, she reported.

It is the total amount of fat, rather than a specific kind that should be limited, Miss Helton said, many people getting as much as one-third to one-half of their total calories from fats, an amount far too great.

However, competent authorities see dangers in eliminating fat from the customary diets of healthy people, as the unguided dieter may upset his nutritional balance and actually invite other health problems. They recommended moderate amounts of fat. Individuals under medical care should of course follow dietary recommendations.

A good rule to follow for a well-balanced diet, said Miss Helton, is to eat daily one or more servings of a wide variety of foods in these classifications:

Leafy, green and yellow vegetables; citrus fruits, tomatoes and raw cabbage; potatoes and other vegetables and fruits; milk, cheese and milk products; meat, poultry and fish (eggs, 3 or more a week); bread or cereals, 3 servings a day; fats, 2 or 3 tablespoons daily. Fats used in seasoning and in cooking may meet this requirement.

Several Steps Are Needed In Winterizing Tractor

Going to put your tractor up for the winter? If you are and want it to start easily next spring, better follow these steps, says Kermit Mills, Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service engineer.

Clean, inspect and service the tractor just as if it were to be used for a big day's work.

First drain the crankcase, clean the oil filter or replace it, and refill the crankcase with new oil. Operate the engine long enough to circulate the oil to all the working parts.

Drive tractor into dry shed, run wheels up on some old boards to protect them from ground dampness. Service the air cleaner and grease the tractor.

Drain radiator, flush it with a cleaner. Flush clean radiator with clean water, drain it dry and leave the 'drain plugs out'. Charge the battery to normal, remove it and store in cool place. Check it once a month for current level.

Close exhaust pipe with piece of rag or some sort of cover; drain fuel from tanks and carburetor, and leave draincocks open. Do not leave gasoline in vehicle, as it is a fire hazard and evaporating fuel leaves a gummy, varnishlike substance that clogs valves, etc.

If this gummy deposit does develop, clean it with a mixture of one part alcohol and one part benzol, or alcohol and acetone in equal parts. Hand-crank this through the system to dissolve deposits.

Fresh pork may be stored in the refrigerator for four or five days if it is wrapped loosely in waxed paper and placed near the freezing unit in the refrigerator.

In 1862, the Kentucky Legislature ruled that any person in the Confederate Army who gave voluntary aid against the United States or Kentucky, "shall be expatriated and no longer a citizen of Kentucky except by permission of the legislative body."

Recipe of the Week

The secret of good cooking of pork lies in using a slow to moderate temperature for a long enough time to be sure the meat is well done to the very center. During long, slow cooking, the flavor is developed and the exterior becomes a rich golden brown.

Large fresh-pork cuts, including loin, shoulder and ham, are roasted at 350 degrees oven temperature; smoked-cuts, ham, shoulder, butt, etc., at 300 degrees; pork chops, steaks, patties and frenched tenderloin are best cooked with a small amount of liquid to assure tenderness, say UK Extension foods specialists.

Pork Chop and Apple Casserole

4 thick pork chops closely trimmed
2 tablespoons butter
1 small onion
2 medium tart apples
2 T sugar

1/2 t nutmeg
2 c soft bread crumbs
1 t salt
1/4 c water

Sear the chops on both sides, remove from pan and add butter to drippings. Chop onion and saute slowly until transparent. Add chopped apples, sugar, nutmeg, bread crumbs and salt. Add water to crumb mixture, then spread in greased shallow casserole; top with pork chops. Cover and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for one hour. Remove the cover the last few minutes to brown.

If desired, add a mound of the dressing to each pork chop, place in skillet add 1/4 cup hot water, cover tightly and place in oven as above.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

On the Job:

President Eisenhower's latest appointment to the Tennessee Valley Authority, Dr. Frank Welch, is on the job. The former University of Kentucky dean took over this week.

During the past several years there has been a lot of debate over the TVA and the public vs. private power aspects. What does the new commissioner think of that angle?

His Views:

Dean Welch says two things which may give some hint. He remembers, as a boy, the scraggly cotton fields and corncries, then now with the lush meadows where fat cattle graze. To the TVA he gives a measure of credit for the change. And then he says:

"We have the TVA as a going concern. I doubt the wisdom of disrupting its program. I think there is a place in American life for both private power and TVA services."

All of which sounds like a middle-of-the-road approach.

Help for Kentuckians:

As one of the TVA bosses, Dean Welch wants to work with land grant colleges and universities, such as U. K., to improve the area. And he thinks the recreational aspects of the region—Kentucky Lake, Lake Cumberland, Fontana and others—are definite assets.

When it comes to power development, he believes the TVA should pay its own way—charge enough to cover the costs, be self-financing. But he goes along on government help for flood control, soil conservation, and the like.

About the Man:

Although more recently from Kentucky, Dr. Welch is a native of Texas and lived in Mississippi. He was named as a Democrat. Oh, yes!

December--1957

This is a busy month and the last of 1957—Christmas is just a few days away, so start having us lay away a few gifts for every member of the family. So many are stripping tobacco, trying to sell before Christmas. It is bringing a good price, anywhere you sell, so get that crop stripped out and sell it; we are loading ours Monday morning and will Wednesday. December is the starting of winter and they say it is going to be a cold winter. So, if you need an extra heater, we have most any kind you want. We have those electric heat tapes to wrap your water pipes in to keep them from freezing, also that wrap-on insulation for so many places.

Everyone can have storm windows because you can buy a 3x6' sheet of clear plastic, complete with strips and nails, for only 39c each. Of course we have all types and widths of window covering. I have some real bargains in used Maytag washers and they are OK. I have some bargains in oil heaters. I have lots of appliances for Christmas presents, also several new patterns in dishes. Just received some new 410-g. gans.

Today, Brewster went up to Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Alpin's at Crittenden, and installed as gas heater for them; then out to Worth Vollandingham's at Sweet Owen, over in Owen county. We had several more customers as they were getting ready to go hunting tomorrow. We have several used shotguns, cheap, also some new shotguns and 22 pistols. We have hunting coats, pants, vests and caps. I believe I have the cheapest chain saw on the market, for only $169.50. Check out our demonstrator up to his farm to try it out a little—it takes a little running to get one of these tuned up and regulated. He said it was a wood eater and had plenty of power.

First thing this morning, Bob Bole, who makes that good Bole paint, stopped and bought a hunting license and four boxes of shells. He has a farm at Sweet Owen, over in Owen county. Then Ray Stammer, down Union way, bought a cool heater and took it home with him. Brewster went out to John Conrad's and put a new constant level valve on an oil heater. I went down to the farm and Bob will get through stripping this week. We should have some lambs in about two weeks.

Chick sold some oil and wood heaters. Brewster repaired several electric irons and percolators. We sold several hunting coats and pants, also some guns and shells. We received several coats, hats, dishes, cook jars, flower pots and stone churns. We have sets of dishes in some very nice patterns in 32-piece for only $7.95. We have lots of useful gifts for Christmas in small appliances: radios, clocks, electric razors, sets of tumblers, cooky jars, pyrex, sets of knives and forks, butcher knives, pinkie shears, scissors, electric hair clippers, electric heaters, all heaters, fire screens, Maytag washers, Perfection electric range, Case pocket knives, pressure cookers, National pressure canners, bathroom scales, kitchen scales, clothes hampers, dish pans, waste cans, and lots of other pieces of plastic.

We have lots of bicycles, wagons, tricycles, and a variety of small toys. We have so many useful gifts for most everyone—old and young, male or female. Wayne Rice came in and wanted to know why I didn't write my ad last week. I thought a change would help, so I put in Warm Morning cool heaters. Some folks from Springfield, Ohio, were in and bought several items. They said this was one of the few hardware stores left—so many others have gone into the appliance business with their hardware, and so many other places have gone into the hardware business.

You know, today you can buy some hardware, dry goods and drugs at the large Super Markets and some of the smaller stores, but when you really need hardware, you come to CONRAD HARDWARE, Walton, Ky. We have the merchandise, the best quality we can buy, and we sell it at a reasonable price. Now if there is something in the hardware line you would like to give Pop and Mom for Christmas, come to CONRAD, we have so many useful items.

Today, Brewster and Ross delivered a Maytag square aluminum tub washer to Mr. and Mrs. Ashel Parker, out on Verona Road—they bought the Daniels farm. Then Brewster went over to John Adams' to pipe in another fuel oil drum. Mrs. F. M. Powers, over on Ky. 17, north of Nicholson, bought a 30-gallon electric water heater. Mrs. Bessie Ford is getting her house painted with Bole paint. See how it shines. Mrs. Edgar Watson, over on Percival Road, said she had very good luck with Bole liquid satin wall paint—it's really quite nice.

Ralph Polt and his daughter came after 110' of one-inch plastic pipe. Maynard Meadows bought a heated water fountain for his loving hens. We have Jamecville fountains in 5- and 8-gallon size with electric heated base. David Houston and Lee Trapp came after heat bulbs and cords to hang over their water pipes to keep them from freezing. Basil Lunsford bought a Sunbeam Climpmaster to clip his cows. Mrs. Myra Readour came up and bought a new Maytag washer and some dishes.

Chick sold 175 feet of 1-inch plastic pipe and fittings. We sell lots of plastic pipe; it is easy to install and will stand lots of cold without bursting. We have a very fine white enameled cast iron cook stove. We have a black 4-egg cook stove with small oven, also grate baskets in 20", 22", 24", 27" and 30-inch sizes. If you need any kind of a heater, we have it in coal, wood and electric. If it is in the hardware line, come to CONRAD! Look who just came in, Morris Rice, from Arizona, 79 years old, and drove 2,000 miles in three days—but don't tell Mary, as he left her at home.

Christopher Ousumpe

The Crittenden Baptist Church has a Mission Emphasis weekend scheduled for December 14 and 15.

On Saturday night, Joseph Idowu and Christopher Ousumpe, Nigerian Nationalists, and currently studying at Georgetown College, will be at the church to lead the Royal Ambassadors and Girl Auxiliaries in a study on Africa. All boys and girls, 9-17 years of age are invited.

Joe and Christ will have charge of the morning worship service on Sunday morning. There will also be a special afternoon service beginning at 2:15, led by them. A missionary film, "All Are Called," will be shown concluding the afternoon service. There will be no evening service at the church.

The church encourages all to attend these fine services, according to the pastor, John Durham.

WILMINGTON W.M.S.

The regular meeting of the Wilmington Baptist Church W.M.S. was held at the church, December 4.

The meeting was called to order and a short business meeting followed. It was decided to send a package of small gifts to Miss Martha Butstahl, an exchange student at Georgetown College, and Sunshine boxes to those who are ill. Cakes are to be sent to the Goodwill Center for their Christmas party, also.

Mrs. Blanche Harker led the program on foreign missions, and Mrs. Thomas Gorton led the Little Moon foreign mission program, both of which were very inspiring. The Little Moon Christmas offering came to $227, but is being held over for a few days for those who still wish to contribute. There were ten members present.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, January 8, at 1:00 p. m., in the church.

Rural Highway Program Unique In United States

Money from Kentucky's 2-cents-a-gallon additional tax on gasoline for rural roads has paid for improvements on 1,316 miles of such roads during the past 18 months, records at Frankfort show. They also show that before 1956, such improvement averaged between 450 and 550 miles a year.

The improvements are being administered under a rural highway program launched by A. B. Chandler in 1936 during his first term as governor. Under the program directed by Commissioner J. B. Wells, the state plans to blacktop about 4,600 miles of county roads at an estimated cost of 37 million dollars.

Of the Commonwealth's 40,000 miles of rural roads, 13,000 are in the Rural Highway County Aid Program and eligible for five million dollars appropriated by the Legislature. The special gasoline tax, earmarked for improvements, supports about 27,000 miles of roads. The others are maintained at county expense.

The rural highway agency was the first of its kind in the nation. Today only one state—North Carolina—has duplicated the system. No other state has a separate agency established and given a budget specifically for rural highway development.

The program emphasizes personal attention to people who want road improvements. Visitors to Wells' office are seen promptly and a record is kept on each, showing name, date, reason for visit and action taken. About 5,000 persons visit this office each year, more, according to Wells, "than any other in state government with the exception of the governor's office."

Every complaint is carefully processed and, if necessary, a field inspection checks and reports on the situation involved. In some instances, Wells himself will take a look at the site under question.

Legion Auxiliary Social

The American Legion Auxiliary is sponsoring a social Saturday, Dec. 14 at 8:00 p. m., in the new Legion Home on High Street. The public is invited. Come, bring a friend!

The regular monthly meeting of the New Haven P. T. A. was held Monday, December 2, at the school.

The president, Mrs. J. Dieter, presided at the meeting at which time it was decided to purchase a Christmas tree of fruit and candy for the school children.

The program chairman, Mrs. E. Gorton, introduced a most interesting program, titled "The Lasting and Enduring Virtue of Life and the Real Meaning of Christmas." The speakers were a former teacher, Mrs. S. Ransom; a parent, Mrs. C. McClure, and a minister, Rev. G. Hoffman, who gave interesting and inspiring talks on the subject.

Refreshments were served and the meeting was adjourned. The next meeting will be held on Monday, January 6, at 8:00 p. m., at the school.

Free Christmas gifts will be given all children who attend whether they buy a dinner or not. This is a money making project by the Club to help with their building fund.

The Verona Community Club had its regular meeting Dec. 9th and a motion was made and carried that the Club construct a community building on its grounds in Verona just as soon as it is possible to do so. Plans are set for a Recreation Center for the children in January. New members have been added at each meeting and everyone is invited to join this fast growing civic minded association.

Tractor Can Be Used As Power for Milkers

You can use your tractor for a power supply for the milking machine if the tractor is of the type where electricity is NOT used to operate the pulsators, says Kermit Mills, Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service engineer, Lexington.

The conversion costs very little, says Mills. Here's how to do it and have insurance against power failure: Use the vacuum in the intake manifold, which any mechanic can quickly point out to you. Remove the plug from this intake manifold (and most tractors have these plugs now). Connect a clean garden hose of regular size to the manifold; put the other end of the hose on the stalkcock of the milking machine.

Be sure to use a long enough hose that the tractor can stay outside the building.

Then start the tractor and proceed with milking. If the tractor "stalls" with difficulty, either start the tractor BEFORE turning on the milker, or pinch the garden hose to prevent air going into the manifold. Mixing too much air with the gasoline is the reason for these slow starts.

MEDICAL SCHOOL LAUNCHED—Ground was broken Dec. 10 for the University of Kentucky's proposed new Colleges of Medicine and Dentistry buildings in Lexington. First units to be constructed (left), ambulatory patient building (left foreground), a power plant, and a small service building. Under tentative plans, first medical and nursing students will enroll in fall of 1959.

SENIOR DAY—SATURDAY

The Seniors of Walton-Verona High School will be in our store ALL DAY Saturday and each sale that they make will help their class funds—so, help the seniors this SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14.

"ALMOST, BUT NOT ENOUGH" is our verdict on how close competitive cars have come to matching the Swept-Wing 58. Take style. Other new cars are "almost" as low in inches, but still seem high and boxy in looks. Some of them are "almost" going to fine, but - not enough to really make a difference. Then take performance. None of the other 1958 cars have anything to match the sway-free, dip-free, vibration-free ride of Torsion-Aire. (It's standard equipment.) Most of them still don't even have push-button driving! So after you've seen the "almost" cars, come in and drive a Swept-Wing 58. You'll see why we say: They're catching on, but they can't catch up.

Live With Joy

Lesson for December 15, 1957

NOBODY wants to be unhappy. The trouble is, people look in the wrong places, or in the wrong ways, for happiness. They look for it under the Christmas tree, or at the race track, or in the taverns, or in books . . . They think happiness is something you can pay for and pick up like a ticket to New York. Well, you can get short-lived happiness, of sorts, in many of these and other ways. But why is it that so many old people not only look sour but are sour? Isn't it because they are disillusioned about happiness? It's something they chased but never caught; or if they caught it they could not long keep it. Happiness is always the big fish that got away.

For Now and for Always

Realizing this, many Christians have worked out another scheme in their minds. They figure that happiness, or joy, is not to be had in this life, only in the next. Indeed some have gone so far as to believe that the unhappier you are in this world, the more happiness will be piled on your plate at the heavenly banquet. And so they will even go to a lot of trouble to make themselves as miserable as possible, like doing without proper food and clothes, wearing hair shirts and heavy chains around their bodies, so earning happiness in the future life.

All this is quite off the Bible's beam. The worldly man is right in thinking happiness is to be found here and now. The hair-shirtier who wakes up at 3 A.M. to beat himself with a whip while he sings a mournful Psalm is right in thinking real happiness ought to be a lasting thing, proof against pain and disaster. But the worldling is wrong in thinking happiness is something as "kicks" and that just anybody can have it, and the hair-shirtier is wrong in thinking you have to wait for death to usher you to the land of joy. The Bible tells of true joy, and it is something for now and for always.

The Quality of Joy

Bible religion, especially when we come to the New Testament, is a religion of joy. The very word "Gospel" means "Good news." One of our Lord's final words was—that his joy may be in you and that your joy may be full! (John 15:11). Paul, in writing to his friends at Philippi, was writing in circumstances which could hardly be called cheerful. He was getting older and felt his age; he was not and perhaps never had been a completely well man; he was a poor, he needed the help his friends sent him; and furthermore he was in jail. Yet it was precisely in those circumstances that he wrote the classic passage about joy, in Philippians 4, beginning "Rejoice in the Lord always."

A thing like joy never exists by itself. It is always in somebody. It is a name for the way some people are. True joy is woven in with life. So it can best be observed and studied not as if you could put it into a test-tube or under a microscope. You can see what joy is by watching the people who have it. When Paul talked about love, and joy, and faith, people paid attention, they did not throw the letters into the wastebasket, because they knew him and they knew he had lived these things before he wrote about them. They knew that in his life there was no fear, they knew that he had "learned the secret" in whatever state he was, to be content.

How to Have It

Paul did not "have" joy as you might have a parakeet which you let out of its cage to play with now and then. He "lived" in joy, it was the atmosphere of his life. But with Paul, as with all Christians who have learned the same secret, joy did not come alone. The Christian's joy is a treasure beyond price.

If it is not the "joy of the Lord," it is not genuine. So it is always found only in those who have the Christian faith, and the Christian love. The selfish life, the loveless life, never can know what joy is. This is one great reason why true happiness—and the only true happiness—is the joy of the Christian—cannot be found by chasing it. For the person who seeks joy for his own benefit is still selfish, and selfishness and joy are eternally strangers.

Dr. Foreman

THE WINDOW

There is a store that is displaying this scene of Christ's birth in all its beautiful simplicity.

People walk by the window and stop and look—and when they go on again the tired lines seem to be erased from their faces. For the moment, they have forgotten the "hustle and bustle" of holiday preparations. Instead, the peace of Christmas drifts over them like the softly falling snow.

Look at those beautifully carved figures and at that tiny babe! Makes you realize, doesn't it, that Christmas after all, is the birth day of our Lord, and should be celebrated first of all where most birthdays are celebrated—at home. In this case, that means the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON
By Gil Kingberry

Golden Days:

The story is just coming out now, how Uncle Sam shipped all that gold down to Fort Knox. It was actually milled and it cost Uncle Sugar some one million bucks for postage.

Actually, they loaded the stuff on mail cars, called in a lot of soldiers and let 'er roll. At Covington the hefty bars and cars were transferred to the L. and N. for the trip to Louisville. Down at Warthville —in Carroll county—the train stopped for water. And, so are told, the guards had some anxious moments until the train took off.

You might say that at that moment Carroll county was the richest county in the nation.

1937 Floods:

All this took place some 20 years ago, back in January of 1937, when the Ohio River was inching higher toward a record crest.

The gushing, muddy waters gave the Gold Train some anxious hours.
There was fear that some bridges across Kentucky streams would wash out. Luckily, the cargo got through but with only one day to spare.

The next day those over-flowing streams blocked off parts of the line.

Ship Aheyt

Ever wonder what all those barges are toting along the Ohio and Kentucky Rivers?

The American Waterways Association gives us some figures. Gas and all top the list with some 129 million tons. Next in line come coal and other mining products with 104 million.

Evidence of the Ohio Valley's increasing importance as a chemical center is the recent up-swing in chemical freight, some six and a half million tons last year—and going up!

College Homes:

With the next Kentucky General Assembly preparing to provide money to build a series of college buildings around the state — at Covington, Henderson, and Harlan — we make a periodic report on conditions at the Northern Center of the University of Virginia.

That institution is right across the river from the Capital. And the search for a permanent site still drags on. Right now students are using an abandoned grammar school building.

It's all a fight between groups over just where to locate the school.
In the meantime, pupils battle all sorts of obstacles.

KENTUCKY FACTS

The tender cuts of beef come from the loin and rib, and make up about one-fourth of the carcass.

Cranberries may be frozen in the original box or wrapper if the packages are tightly sealed.

Pilot Knob in Estill county was a landmark to Indians pacing up and down the great Warriors' Trace many years before the first pioneers arrived in Kentucky. From this summit John Finley and Daniel Boone first glimpsed the Bluegrass uplands in 1769.

Perfect electric range, Maytag washer, Perfect electric or all heaters, a 52-gallon electric water heater, a Dayton or Duro water system, Sunbeam electric skillet, sauce pan, steam iron, toaster, or razor for men or women; silverware, dishes, pyrex, electric clocks, radios, 22 pistols, guns.

Fishing and hunting equipment, tools, drills, saws, sanders, tool boxes, cowboy saddle, lots of clothes hampers, lots of plastic items, iron boards, pads and covers, pinkish shears, scissors, butcher knives, pocket knives, hair cutting set, O'Ceard sponge mop, O'Ceard dust mop, fire screen, grate basket, kitchen stool, waste can, Bissell hand sweeper, G. E. fan, electric ice cream freezer, lots of 9x12 linoleum rugs for any room in the house. Conley Hall, who bought the Merrit Jack house from Henry Black at Beaver Lick, came up and bought a large size Warm Morning coat heater.

Brewster and Red took this heater down, then went to Verona and set it up on all heater for Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lamm, the Citterden and cleaned an oil heater for Chas. Kennedy. While they were gone I sold Floyd Chapman one of those Ashley wood heaters, and Lou Ervin a porcelain covered Warm Morning coal heater. This Ashley wood heater is a real wood burner, saves a lot of wood and puts out even heat. The boys are coming in with smiles on their faces when they come from the tobacco market. Most averages are in the 65-cent class. We are ready for you to buy your Christmas gifts.

I don't know as it is necessary to quote prices on Christmas gifts, but we have wagons from 1.98 to 19.50; we have Roadmaster bicycles from 39.50 to 69.50; basketballs and footballs, 2.95 to 6.95; sleds, 4.95 to 9.95; 22 rifles, 15.95 up; 410 ga. shotguns, 26.95 up; hunting coats, 8.95 up; Pilegger fishing reels, 7.95 to 35.00; pocket knives, 60c to 4.95; electric drills, 12.95 to 49.50; electric sanders, 14.95; electric saber saws, 19.95; Weller electric solder iron, 12.95; flashlight, all sizes and prices; 79c complete up to 4.95; billboards, 98c to 4.95; change purses, 85c; harmonicas, 1.00 to 4.95; shaving mirrors, 1.50; wrist watches and pocket watches, 3.59 up.

Some rainy day, but Brewster and Red set up that new Ashley wood heater for Floyd Chapman and brought in a used cabinet wood heater, an extra good one; then they went over to Lou Ervin's at Staffordburg and set up a Warm Morning coal heater. We have lots of oil, coal and wood heaters, also some used ones in coal and oil. Chick has been putting up the Christmas decorations, and unpacking the Christmas toys. We have most everything you need in the gift and toy line. We just unloaded another shipment of Roadmaster bicycles, the best bicycle for the least money that I can find.

We sold lots of Christmas gifts today, such as Sunbeam electric skillets, Sunbeam coffee makers, Sunbeam electric razor, lots of pyrex dishes, alarm clocks, bicycles, sleds, wagons, tools, tool boxes, metal paper file, boxes for your records. Philip Black bought his mother an 8-quat Mirromatic cooker. I sold several gifts but I can't tell what or who. We have some very nice sets of dishes, 32-piece sets, for 7.95. We have lots of bowls and different pieces, you can buy as many as you like. We have lots of pyrex, also several types of cake plates and cake boxes, some very nice clothes hampers, iron boards and covers.

Russell Vest and Harold were in and bought a Perfect electric heater. I checked over the bicycles and we have all sizes and prices, from 39.50 to 69.50, also tricycles and pedal cars from 3.95 up. Mr. and Mrs. George Sparks came up and bought a 12x12 Armstrong rug; they are moving to the L. H. Thomas farm on Beaver Road. Mrs. Ben Snow and son, Wilbur, bought window shades; he is moving to the Covington. I bought a good used oil heater from him—if you are looking for a used oil heater, this is a good one. We have been selling several heaters lately and we have several used ones to sell.

We also, in the past month, have sold several Maytag washers and we have a good trade-in washers; I had the best ones overhauled, so now we have six good used washers to sell cheap. We have a new washer guarantee. One of these or a new Maytag washer would make a nice Christmas gift. Several have asked about a good coal range, so now I have a white one and a black one with white doors, also two 4-cup cook stoves. Have you seen the new 410 ga. shotguns with the red and black stock? Mr. and Mrs. Schultz, over at Kenston, bought a new coal heater—they had an oil heater but when the weather gets cold, in some houses you need a coal heater instead of an oil heater. Several were buying Christmas gifts and tree decorations; also dishes, pots, pans.

Christmas Services At Local Christian Church, Sunday

On Sunday at the Walton Christian Church, special services will be held. Carols will be sung at the morning service and the message will be "The Meaning of Christmas."

There will be a service of dedication of babies at the morning services in which parents pledge to give their children Christian homes and Christian training.

There will be the special offering for Homes at Danville and Louisville. Sunday evening there will be a service of worship to be followed by a visit of Santa Claus for the children. There will be three short films of a religious nature. Traditional Christmas carols will be sung. The money gifts to the church is to be used for the building next door. A gift to the church to be used for the education of our children and youth is one of the most fitting that we can make at this season of the year.

May the Christmas bells ring gladness and peace into the hearts of our many friends and customers.

KENTUCKY FACTS
Carlisle county in the western section of the state, was the last county formed from the Jackson Purchase. Separation from Ballard county was necessary when spring rains caused creeks to rise and prevented citizens from attending circuit court.

Stanton, Powell county, was first called Beaver Pond for a small lake created by a beaver dam in the swampy lowlands just east of the village. Renamed in 1852, the town honors Richard H. Stanton of Maysville, representative to Congress from 1849 to 1855.

Pound Gap on the Virginia-Kentucky State line is an historic mountain pass that connects the south with the big Sandy Valley. It has been a highroad of adventure and romance. The Kentucky, the Cumberland and the Big Sandy Rivers head it; Indian trails passed through it and pioneers eventually utilized it. Berea, in the foothills of the Southern Kentucky Highlands, is the seat of Berea College, founded in 1853. This is the oldest and largest of the mountain schools in Kentucky.

farm facts

FOR KENTUCKY FOLKS
 by Wm. C. Johnstone
 AGRICULTURAL REPRESENTATIVE
 KENTUCKY BANKERS ASSOCIATION

STATISTICS—This is the time of year when we are flooded with statistics, some to show us how prosperous we are, others to show us how poor we are. We can usually find statistics to prove our point, whichever side we take. During the past few days I have heard statistics that disturb me considerably. For instance, during the five year period 1951-56 when the total personal income of the country was rising 28 percent, farm income was dropping by the same amount, that the 13 percent of the American population classed as farmers are receiving only 7.3% of the gross national income and that one-fourth of the farm families in the United States earn less than $1,000 cash income per year.

PRICE CHANGES—Closer at home I recently had personal experiences that point up the problem more dramatically. In 1947 we sold our corn crop for $2.20 per bushel; this year we sold it for exactly half—$1.10. In the ensuing years everything that it takes to produce corn went up—taxes, labor, interest and machinery. Then, a few days ago I stopped at the corner drug store for lunch and paid, for the first time in my life, 18 cents for a glass of milk. It seemed to me that farmers have shown more efficiency in production methods than distributors and retailers have in marketing the products.

EDUCATION BEST SOLUTION—There seems to be no immediate solution for the farm problem. Only when the demand for food and fiber exceeds the supply will the producer receive an equitable share of the income therefrom, and no one wants to see a period of food scarcity in this country. In the meantime the farm family should endeavor to give their children the very best of training and education in preparation for earning off-farm income. Half of them will have to leave the farm to earn a living, and they should be well equipped to enter very competitive fields, such as science, education and commerce.

Recipe of the Week

Old fashioned vegetables, such as parsnips, onions, turnips or carrots add to the rich flavor of pot roast of beef or a pork roast.

Food specialists of the UK Extension Service suggest baked onions in sour cream as a dish worthy of one of the holidays coming up, or for family fare.

Buy onions that are clean, firm and mature with dry skins; about 1½ pounds will serve four people. Onions will keep for several weeks if stored in a cool, dry, well-ventilated place. A cut onion may be kept in the refrigerator without calling attention to itself if it is wrapped in aluminum foil.

Bermuda Onions in Sour Cream

- 4 large Bermuda onions
- 1 c sour cream
- 2 T lemon juice
- 2 T finely chopped parsley
- ½ t salt
- ¼ t pepper

Peel the onions and cut in ½-inch slices, placing them in a greased, shallow baking dish. Mix together the sour cream, lemon juice, salt and pepper, and pour over the onions. Other the top sprinkle chopped parsley. Cover and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 20 minutes, then remove cover and continue baking until onions are tender, about 15 minutes longer. Serves 5-6.

Menu: Broiled calves liver, bermuda onions baked in sour cream, green lima beans, celery and carrot sticks, biscuits, butter and hot gingerbread.

MUST FERTILIZE

Farmers of today must fertilize all crops, including permanent pasture land, for higher yields, says Joe Claxton, Boone County Agent. In fertilizing, for more profit, regardless of the crop that may be involved, the correct amount of fertilizer is important. If the correct amount and kind of fertilizer is not used, the yield will be low and the profit will be less. Of course, one of the great factors in yield after proper fertilization is a favorable moisture supply. The best way to fertilize properly is by having the soil tested.

Soil testing has proven very successful in Boone county in the past years that the program has been carried on. Mr. Claxton said that results in the soil testing in Boone county for all crops other than tobacco in 1957, were: 53% that needed two tons of limestone or more per acre; 43% was very low in potash, while 36% was very high in phosphorus. The tobacco land that was tested showed a high percentage in phosphate and potash, while only 9% needed one ton of lime per acre for good tobacco production. Limestone should be applied to a tobacco field in the fall before the crop is put on the land. For more profit, have soil tested and apply the correct amount and ratio of fertilizer. Bring your soil samples to the County Agent's office in Burlington.

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

By G. H. Kingsbury

Baron Rupp: Adolph Rupp, the Kentucky baron of basketball, was the leading figure in several Washington newspaper stories when the U. K. Wildcats came to the Capital to play Maryland.

He was described as the "winningest" coach in the game. The Big Blue record as national champions four times in nine years was described. The Olympic games of 1948 were recalled. Kentuckians were pretty proud.

P. S. Maryland waxed the Wildcats, 71 to 62!

Quick Quiz: A Kentucky congressman, known for his quick wit, was asked the other day about his position on a certain issue.

Whereupon, he replied: "I haven't made up my mind yet but when I do I'm gonna be bitter about it."

Sounds like a Barkley story to these ears.

Kentuckian Elected: Robert Riggs, whose stories are read in the Courier-Journal and who is seen on television from time to time, has been elected to an office in the exclusive Gridiron Club.

Bob is a member of the Executive Committee. He's been head of the C-J Washington Bureau for a goodly number of years and is the Washington authority on Kentucky politics. Fellow-newsmen consult him on such questions.

Merry Christmas: This is the last epistle before the holidays. To all Kentuckians we wish a Merry Christmas.

Specifically, we hope each Kentuckian gets a tax reduction, a new highway convenient to work and home, an increase in salary, better schools, and less baloney, malarky, and pulever from those who hold public office. Also, a little truth from time to time.

To Share Our Life

Lesson for December 22, 1957

THE baby Jesus we have been seeing everywhere these days. His picture is on the greeting cards, songs about him are sung (mechanically for the most part) on every street. Fresh candles are lighted in front of his statue in many churches. Luke 2 is memorized in a thousand Sunday schools. Now that is about all some people ever see or think about Jesus. He is the baby we have to hear about once a year.

Dr. Foreman

Christians know better than this. Indeed Christians, from very early times, never saw only a baby in the manger at Bethlehem. Here is no ordinary child, made romantic by the hardships of his birth. He is more than a symbol and example of the sweetness and helplessness of all babies in the world.

"Who for Us Men Became Man"

The Child of Bethlehem is the Event of all time. For this child is the Son of God made man. What men have often longed for, what poets have dreamed, what every man needs, here it is. . . only not as we expected. What we want is a God who is near us, nearer than heaven, nearer than Mount Olympus, yes nearer than the nearest temple. If possible—and who dared it could be!—we want God in human form. But what we might have expected is a very grand human figure, some super-man, born to power and majesty. What God has sent us is quite different: just a baby. A baby who cannot talk nor walk nor live without help, a baby born to displaced persons in the poorest of circumstances, with no very bright future like . . . Yes, this is He. When God became man he came all the way. He came to share our life.

Sharing Struggle

Theologians say that Christ had a human "nature" and a divine "nature." The Bible seldom if ever uses such language. The New Testament just calls Jesus "He." Jesus himself called himself Son of God; he also called himself a man. (John 8:40) The Nicene Creed, one of the most ancient and widely used creeds of the church universal, says that the Son of God "was made" (i.e. became) man. We can make this clearer to our minds if we simply say that Jesus shared our life. He shared it to the full, he identified himself with humankind. He shared the circumstances and the conditions under which all men live. We said just now that a baby born as Jesus would have no rosy future, and this was true of Jesus. His life was one of constant struggle. In his boyhood it must have been a struggle with poverty, as he grew older he had to wrestle with temptation, with misunderstanding and hatred.

Sharing Suffering

Possibly not all human life is a struggle; but there is no man with lifelong exemption from suffering. We know Jesus suffered on the cross; we often forget that he was always a "man of sorrows and acquainted with grief." We do not read that he wept on Calvary, we do know that he wept at the death of a friend. We know the Pharisees hounded him to his death. We forget the times when he was nearly lynched by angry mobs. He knew a kind of suffering which is harder for a sensitive soul than physical pain: suffering of the mind and heart. That his mother misunderstood him, that his brothers did not believe in him, that he "could do no mighty work" at Nazareth, his own home town, because of their stubborn unbelief.

Daring Sin

One thing Jesus did not share with us: sin. And yet even this he shared in two ways. He always sided with the sinner, so much so that his critics called him "friend of sinners;" and in the end he suffered because of sin. Paul in one place writes, "For our sake he (God) made him to be sin who knew no sin" (II Cor. 5:21). This brings us face to face with the awesome mystery of the Atonement; but as a Scottish minister once said, the reason we do not understand the Cross is not because our minds are dull but because our hearts are too poor to understand love. If the baby in the manger had died then and there, it would have been sad. But only if that baby lived, and grew, and suffered, could the child become Man, giving his matured life a ransom for many.

CANDLE IN THE NIGHT

Simplest, humblest gleam of light . . . yet it rolls back the shadows. And striking the new-fallen snow, it casts a dazzling halo upon boughs of pine and holly.

Like a candle in the night Christmas rolls back the shadows of time, and touching the life of man, gives an aura of peace and good will to every day and deed.

It was truly the simplest and humblest event in history, this birth of a child in a stable. But from it shines "the true Light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world." And to live in that Light, to reflect it upon the world around us; this is peace and good will.

Like a candle in the night the Church beckons us to the gleam of its ageless Truth. And as we come to live by the Church's teaching, our faith will roll back the shadows for those around us.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

LAST WEEK

Open Friday, Saturday,
Monday, Tuesday Nights

So far, I have not seen many people with the Christmas spirit, but if you are going to have it, you have not got long to go! We will be open at night on Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday—this will be a chance to come to town after supper if you have been busy during the day. We have presents for every member of the family, and we have them priced to sell. I have priced many items we are over stocked on at a reduced price, so if you want to save on your Christmas at the last minute, come to CONRAD'S, we have lots of useful gifts!

As I have been in bed with the flu or a cold, whatever they call it, I hurt all over and had a bad cold. I have been reading all the ads and everyone has the best merchandise at the lowest price. But remember, you do not get anything for nothing. All the big ads you read, all the bargains they have, but remember, everyone has to make a profit somehow to stay in business. We have some very nice gifts marked down to reduce our stock and to clean out before inventory. This is the last week to get your Christmas, so come to CONRAD HARDWARE, we will be open nights for your convenience!

We have some wonderful buys in electric razors for the ladies and gentlemen—a $5.00 trade-in allowance on any old electric razor on a Sunbeam. We have a few Remington electric razors for the ladies at $14.95, also the best razor any man ever used is a Sunbeam razor at $28.50. Today, we sold lots of very nice gifts, toys, wagons, dolls, and bicycle, Sunbeam fry electric skillet, Mirromatic percolator in 4-cup and 8-cup size. We have lots of gifts for Pop, Mom, Grandpa, Grandma, son, sis, and all the family. Electric dolls, electric saws, Waller electric solder gun, Diston hand saw, plumb nail hammer with fiber glass handle.

We have lots of dishes, pyrex, Pyrex pots and pans, heavy Walkerware aluminum in most all sizes of pots and pans, Griswold skillets and Dutch ovens, plastic ware in waste cans, clothes baskets, wash basins, rubber pools, iron boards, pads and covers, door mats, clothing hangers, Mother of Pearl design toilet seats for only $7.95, and a plain white seat, $4.95. A 52-gallon electric water heater, a Dayton or Duro water heater, a Perfecton automatic 30" warm electric range for only $200, a 10% Christmas discount on a Perfecton fuel oil heater or a Warm Morning coal heater, if bought before Christmas for sale.

Mrs. McNeely from Napoleon, came over and got a Warm Morning coal heater. We sold wagons, tri-cycles and bicycles, also lots of decorations, dishes, several pieces of Pyrex ware sauce pans and kettles. Several have called about buying a Perfecton oil heater. When the cold weather comes, that is when that Perfecton does the job. When all others fail, they call for Perfecton. If you cannot use a Perfecton and need a coal heater, we have all types. You know there are some houses that no oil heater will heat and some coal heaters have a tough job, but you can get more heat out of a coal heater.

This was some snow, cold day—people hunting extra heaters, weatherstrip, electric tape to wrap around water pipes to keep from freezing, also wrap insulation to put over this tape to keep heat in. We also sold several heat bulbs to keep electric pumps from freezing. I just sold a tricycle, doll, tree decorations and lots of other Christmas gifts. Brewster and Red took the Warm Morning coal heater over to Mrs. McNeely at Napoleon, then back to Leonard Caldwell's on U. S. 42, to service an oil heater, then to J. A. Logan's on Richmond Road, to service an oil heater.

I have a special on Sunbeam electric razors that sell for $28.50, your old electric razor is worth $5.00 on a Sunbeam electric razor, which makes it only $23.50, and they last for years. Jack Berkshire was in buying stove board and oil heater to be delivered later. Franklin Breeden, was buying Christmas gifts. Mrs. J. A. Logan brought up a portable oil heater for us to check over. We sold 2 used coal heaters and some wood heaters, Louis Schwab a Perfecton electric heater, Bessie Webster a wood heater, stove pipe and other hardware items. Mrs. Irwin Carter got a 12x15 rug and some Christmas gifts. John Mann, Pendleton county, stopped and bought 70 lbs. horse shoes, harness tassels and nails.

Several have been calling in, having oil heater trouble, but as I have said before, they do not have a Perfecton oil heater. So many have come in and looked over our Perfecton oil heaters and when we priced them they think we are a little high, and some walk out and buy a cheaper heater somewhere else, but it won't be long until they call in and say, is that Mr. Brewster there, the one that works on oil heaters? Our Perfectons make more than a few dollars higher but they have a 10-year guarantee on the burner bowl and I have been selling Perfecton since 1941 and not a replacement yet. Now this is the last issue in 1957, and we want to thank all our fine customers and friends for buying and dealing with us during 1957. Merry Christmas to all!
